BILLION DOLLARS ON ARMY AND NAVY IN NEXT SIX YEARS

President Wilson Will Outline Administration's Defense Program in Address to Manhattan Club in New York.

NAVY WILL BE DOUBLED AND ARMY QUADRUPLED

President Will Give Reasons Which Have Impelled Him to Approve Plans for Great Increase in National Fighting Forces.

Washington, October 18.—A national defense program that probably means an expenditure on the army and navy of upwards of a billion dollars in the next six years will be laid before the people by President Wilson November 4, when he goes to New York to make his first public address since the scope of the policy on which his administration has embarked became known. He will speak before the Manhattan club of New York on national defense and the reasons which have impelled him to approve plans which would almost double the navy and quadruple the trained fighting forces ashore within a few years.

How Policy Shapes in Totals.

With the estimates of the war and navy departments submitted for the coming year the breadth of the administration's policy as to preparedness is being realized. It shapes up in totals as follows:

Navy—For new ships and increased personnel in five years, $500,000,000.

Army—For reserve material (arms and ammunition) within four years, $105,000,000.

For new coast defenses and modernization of old forts within four years, $81,000,000.

For the new continental army and the proposed increase in the regular army, $26,000,000. (This amount probably will be a continuing and if anything increasing appropriation through the first six-year period which would make the total expenditure at that time, $156,000,000.)

The grand total expenditure thus actually planned would be $842,000,000.

Huge Fleet Contemplated.

According to plans laid out by navy and war department experts these expenditures would produce by 1925 a first line of dreadnaughts and battle cruisers numbering forty-three, a fleet of coast defense submarines that would fringe the Atlantic and Pacific coasts with an almost solid line of interior defense against attack, a fleet of nearly 175 destroyers and squadrons of huge sea-going fleet submarines to operate with the battle squadrons at great distance from shore.

For the army there would be at the end of six years a trained force of 1,200,000 men, including a regular army of 140,000 and the proposed continental army and reserves; a ring of fully manned coast defenses, equipped with the largest and most powerful guns yet built, and a vast reserve of field guns, machine guns, Howitzers and big gun ammunition. In addition the enormously increased capacity of private munition plants would give assurances of ample supplies of small arms and field gun ammunition.

Contracts for 22 Warships.

A definite step toward enlarging the navy was taken today when contracts were awarded for twenty-two of the fighting craft authorized by the last congress. They are six big cruiser-destroyers, thirty knot boats, each to carry twelve torpedo tubes, four 4-inch guns and two 3-inch anti-aircraft guns; and sixteen coast defense submarines, each displacing more than 550 tons and each equipped with a three-inch disappearing rifle for surface fighting. The day set a new record for the department in the number of contracts awarded.

Neither war nor navy department estimates for the coming year have been made public as yet in detail. It was learned today, however, that of the $72,000,000 increase over last year's bill to be asked by the war department, $46,000,000 would go toward reserve material and coast defense works, the remaining $26,000,000 to be used in building up the new armies, regular and continental. Part of the $46,000,000 would go into building and arming the new forts which will guard the entrance to Chesapeake bay.

It proposed to spend more of the money in building new forts to guard New York, San Francisco and other great harbors from attack. Gigantic sixteen-inch rifles will be mounted in all these defenses of the first-class where enemy craft with modern guns would be dangerous from great distance.

Greater Ranges for Rifles.

Another expenditure contemplated is for fitting the present 12 and 14-inch rifles with carriages that will give them greater range. Much already has been accomplished in that way and the work will be carried on until every fort is modernized. No sixteen-inch rifles will be installed in place of smaller guns, however, it is said, because to make all the changes in magazines, hoists, machinery and the like would be more expensive and less satisfactory than to build new emplacements for these huge weapons.

The navy department has still to award contracts for the major portion of the building program authorized by the last congress. Contracts will be awarded next month for four fleet submarines, bigger, faster and more powerful than any submersible craft ever designed. The Schley, now building, will displace a thousand tons and make twenty knots on the surface. The new boats will displace twelve hundred tons and make twenty-five knots. Next month also contracts will be let for two 32,000-ton superdreadnoughts, ships which will carry a round

Wife at Funeral, Husband Is Sent To Station House

J. E. Mullinax, While Engaged in Fierce Fight With Friend, Arrested on Complaint of His Daughters.

While his wife was attending the funeral of her only baby grandson, J. E. Mullinax, a 56-year-old stonemason, living at 869½ Marietta street, was at home trying to kill his daughters and tearing up the house, so the police were informed last night.

Officers Webb and Haslett were called to the Marietta street house early Monday night by one of the Mullinax girls. There were three of them there frightened half to death and engaged in keeping out of the way of their father and J. G. Anderson, a 26-year-old farmer friend of Mullinax, with whom he was fighting.

When the officers reached the house they found the two men on the floor locked in what might have been a death struggle if not for their timely appearance.

Bottles of whisky were scattered all over the house and the combatants were bleeding from several wounds. Chairs and tables were broken, showing that a terrific struggle had taken place before the fighters had finally become so exhausted that they fell to the floor.

When the men were pulled apart by the officers, it is alleged that Anderson threw a revolver out of the window and Mullinax a pair of brass knucks. These could not be found later.

Both men were locked up at police barracks charged with being drunk and disorderly. They will be given a hearing before Recorder Johnson Tuesday afternoon.

The oldest Mullinax girl stated that her mother was away attending the funeral of her son's little baby and that ever since she had been gone her father had been trying to kill them and tear up the house.

"The only rest mother gets is when she is away," said the girl, "and even then the rest of us can't have any peace."

FILM EXCHANGES TO BE REGULATED

Council Appoints Committee to Make Investigation and to Report on Needed Legislation.

Following a recommendation by the mayor that some steps be taken to inspect film exchanges to protect working girls without inteferring with the just rights of the manufacturers, Councilman J. N. Renfroe introduced a resolution in the city council yesterday for the appointment of a committee to make an investigation and report upon the necessary legislation.

The resolution was unanimously adopted and the following committee was appointed by the mayor pro tem: Councilman Renfroe, Councilman Hall and Alderman Armistead.

The resolution was as follows:

Whereas, on Saturday of last week, there occurred in this city a disastrous fire, the same originating in the stock room of one of the film supply houses, and caused, it seems, by the explosion of certain inflamable material, which is necessary to be carried by such film exchanges, said fire resulting in the loss of life and destruction of property, and

Whereas, in different parts of the city there are located in close proximity to each other, and often times in the same building, a number of film supply houses, carrying a large stock of films, all of which consists of the same inflammable material as that from which the fire of last Saturday originated, and

Whereas, it is necessary, in order to protect the life and property of the citizens of Atlanta, to prevent a recurrence of such a fire; therefore, be it

Resolved by the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta, That a committee of three be appointed by the presiding officer of this body for the purpose of making an investigation into the existing conditions as above set forth, and recommending to this body suitable legislation which will prevent the recurrence of such fires as above referred to, the committee to consider the advisability of requiring the building of a film exchange building, which shall be of fire proof construction and in which no other offices shall be located, and which shall be used for no other purposes other than the storing of these films. Said committee to report such other legislation as in their opinion may provide for the safety of lives and property.

Word "Murdered" Barred From the Wall of Church About a Lusitania Victim

London, October 18.—"The wall of a church is not an appropriate place to perpetuate hatred," was the reason given by Sir Philip Wilbraham, chancellor of the Duchy of Chester, for refusing to permit a memorial tablet to a victim of the Lusitania in a Holylake church to bear the inscription, "Who was murdered on the Lusitania by the Germans."

The word "murdered," Sir Philip said, would have to be taken out of the tablet. The chancellor then suggested that the inscription should read, "Who lost his life when the Lusitania was torpedoed by the Germans." This was agreed to.

BRITAIN WANTS PROBE OF EXECUTION OF GIRL

London, October 18.—Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey has requested the American government to investigate the circumstances attending the execution of Miss Edith Cavelle, a British nurse in Brussels. Miss Cavelle, who had been at the head of a training school in Brussels, was put to death on order of the German authorities on the charge of having harbored British and French soldiers and Belgians of military age and assisting them to escape from Belgium to join their colors.

RECOGNITION GOES TO GEN. CARRANZA FROM PAN-AMERICA

Diplomatic Relations Between United States and Mexico Renewed Today After Lapse of Nearly Three Years.

IMMEDIATE EMBARGO TO BE ORDERED ON ARMS

Pan-American Conferees Recognize Carranza as the "Chief Executive of the de Facto Government of Mexico."

Washington, October 18.—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico will be renewed tomorrow after a lapse of two years and eight months by the formal recognition of Venustiano Carranza as chief executive of the de facto government of Mexico.

Secretary Lansing and the ambassadors from Brazil, Chile and Argentina and the ministers from Bolivia, Uruguay and Guatemala, constituting the Pan-American conference on Mexican affairs, met today and decided on the form in which their respective governments would present recognition and fixed tomorrow as time for the act.

Each government will address to General Carranza a note of recognition to be delivered to Elisio Arredondo, personal representative of General Carranza. Arredondo will leave Wednesday or Thursday to convey in person the letters of recognition from the several governments.

With the decision on the form of recognition, the Pan-American conference on Mexican affairs adjourned. Five meetings had been held. The first two were devoted to framing an appeal to the contending Mexican factions to reach an agreement on their internal affairs. When the factions failed to agree the conference decided that recognition should be accorded to the strongest.

Change for Better in Mexico.

Since recognition was agreed upon a week ago official reports show that a change for the better has taken place in Mexico and that conditions are fast becoming normal. Thousands of Villa troops have taken advantage of Carranza's offer of amnesty and laid down their arms.

The decision to refer to General Carranza as "the chief executive of the de facto government of Mexico" was reached after some discussion as to titles. Although "provisional president" is a generic term applied to the executive of a republic, fear was expressed in some quarters that since it had not been used by General Carranza himself, the use by foreign governments might create the impression in Mexico that he was being chosen to a new office by foreign governments.

The words "chief executive" were used also to avoid any impression that a constitutional government was being recognized, for while there is no difference in the benefits of recognition to a de facto or de jure government, the constitutional order in Mexico will not be proclaimed until a constitutional assembly is called some weeks hence. This assembly will designate formally General Carranza as "provisional president" or "president ad interim" and arrange for the constitutional elections of president and vice president.

Immediate Embargo on Arms.

Tomorrow's action will mean the immediate proclamation of an embargo on arms to other factions. All Carranza consular representatives will be recognized. American consuls in Mexico who have not possessed exequaturs will apply for them now and it is understood incidentally that the American consular service in Mexico generally will be reorganized.

European governments will be notified by Secretary Lansing, of the Washington government's action in extending recognition, and although no suggestion will be made to them, it is understood most of them will follow the lead of the United States.

An American ambassador to Mexico has not yet been selected, but probably will be chosen soon. Extension of recognition to a government in Mexico followed nearly three years of unprecedented negotiations between the two countries. President Madero was overthrown and General Huerta assumed the executive powers.

The United States, as well as Argentina, Brazil and Chile refused to recognize Huerta. Unofficial relations were maintained by the Washington government for several months, first through a Mr. Henry Lane Wilson and then through Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge de affaires. The charge finally was withdrawn in April, 1914, after an ultimatum had been sent to Huerta which resulted in the occupation of Vera Cruz by the United States navy. The American embassy was in charge of the Brazilian minister until a few months ago and at present American interests in Mexico City are being handled by C. P. Parker, originally a clerk in the American embassy.

Carranza's Picturesque Career.

General Carranza's career has been a picturesque one in Mexico politics. He was born 56 years ago of a prominent family which supported Benito Juarez in the Three Years War and against the French invasion. He studied for a professional career at Saltillo, his home, and Mexico City, but was forced to abandon it because of poor eye-sight. Later he took to farming. He entered politics early and always had been an advocate of local self-government. He was the first municipal president of Cuatro Cienegas, a deputy to the state legislature of Coahuila and afterwards a member of the Mexican senate from the state. Carranza opposed the Diaz regime in Coahuila and ran for vice president on the ticket with General Reys against him. He supported Francisco Madero in his unsuccessful campaign in the election of 1910 against Diaz. He was a mem-

GENERAL VENUSTIANO CARRANZA.

He will be recognized today by the republics of Pan-America as "chief executive of the de facto government of Mexico."

TRAIN IS WRECKED BY MEXIC BANDITS; MANY ARE KILLED

U. S. Soldiers Among the Victims — American Soldiers Rushed to Scene of Wreck Near Brownville.

Brownsville, Texas, October 19.—A southbound passenger train on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico railroad was wrecked late last night 6½ miles from Brownsville by supposed Mexican bandits.

The engineer, several passengers and three United States soldiers were reported killed.

Four companies of United States infantry were rushed to the scene of the wreck by special train, followed by two troops of cavalry.

The Mexican bandits are reported to have been passengers, and on arriving at Olmite began shooting at other passengers. They then set fire to the train, which was still burning at 2 o'clock this morning.

$125,000 ASKED FOR STATE NEEDS

Legislature Will Be Urged to Take Care of Special and Deficiency Appropriations.

Requests for funds amounting to $125,000, approximately, will be made at the extra session of the legislature for special and deficiency appropriations.

At the last regular session the military department asked for $5,300 to cover the riot service. The present request from this department has been increased to $15,076 to cover the cost of other deficiencies as well. The original request from the office of keeper of public buildings and grounds was for $9,500. This has been increased to $14,000.

Other renewed requests for appropriations are by the Girls' Training school, Atlanta, $9,000; for the providing of an insurance fund covering the Eleventh District Agricultural college and the industrial school at Savannah, a negro institution, $20,000; for deficiencies in the printing fund, $9,000; to cover the cost of a dormitory for the state school at Valdosta, $40,000; to provide for payment of ordinaries for the distribution of the state pension fund, $15,000.

18 MEXICANS VIOLATED U. S. NEUTRALITY LAWS

El Paso, Texas, October 18.—A jury in federal court here today returned a verdict of guilty in the cases of Ricardo Aguillar, Albino Frias and sixteen companions charged with violation of the federal neutrality laws. Aguillar and Frias were colonels in the Orozco army.

The men were arrested July 30 near Fort Hancock, Texas, by United States cavalrymen. They were about to cross the Rio Grande into Mexico. Sentence was deferred.

Caruso Reaches New York.

New York, October 18.—Enrico Caruso, tenor; Guilo Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera company, and Cleofonte Campanini, of the Chicago Opera company, arrived today from Genoa. Other arrivals were Rosina Galli, the dancer; Giorgio Polacco, conductor, and Guisseppe de Luca, baritone.

SIX BANDITS ROB WEST SHORE TRAIN NEAR NEW YORK CITY

After Looting Baggage Car Robbers Escape in Auto. Pitched Battle Reported Between Bandits and Police.

New York, October 19.—Six men held up and robbed a West Shore train in Haverstraw and then escaped in an automobile, according to a telephone message received by the police late tonight in Weewawkan, N. J.

After holding up the engine crew at the point of revolvers the robbers detached the engine and had it run down the track, while others opened the baggage car and removed packages. All then jumped into the automobile and started toward this city.

A report of a pitched battle between armed bandits and New Jersey police reached the New York police.

Police reserves from several precincts adjacent to the Fort Lee ferry and other points on the upper end of Manhattan Island were turned out to await the possible arrival of the robbers. Every incoming automobile was stopped and searched. Police were stationed at all the ferryboat landings on the New York side of the river.

A later report received here was that three trains were held up.

Scene at Negro Hanging Denounced by Gov. Dunne As Disgrace to Illinois

Springfield, Ill., October 18.—The hanging of the negro, Joe Deberry, at Murphysboro, Saturday, which more than a thousand persons admitted as deputies were permitted to witness, was referred to as a "scandal and disgrace to the state," by Governor Dunne today in a telegram to Sheriff James A. White, of Jackson county, who had charge of the execution.

INQUEST IN LONDON ON AIR RAID VICTIMS

London, October 18.—An inquest on the bodies of the three victims of the first bomb dropped in the Zeppelin raid last Wednesday night on the London area and of three others who were killed or who died as the result of subsequent air bombs, all within the same area, was held today. The verdict in each case was "death as the result of an air raid."

The father of one of the victims protested against the laconic verdict reached. He cried:

"My son was murdered by the order of the kaiser. I summon the kaiser to meet me before the judgment seat of God to answer for the death of my son and of those other poor people."

Of those killed by the first bomb, one was a railroad employee, both of whose thighs were broken. His wife at his side escaped unhurt. The second was a man who was killed by broken glass which cut through his neck. The third was a woman close by, the lower part of whose spine as completely smashed.

The other dead were the victims of a bomb dropped in the middle of a wide thoroughfare. The missile pierced a gas main, causing a fire which lasted several hours. A driver, a conductor and a special constable were killed in a motor bus upon which the bomb dropped.

Incendiary and explosive bombs were dropped in the same spot. These pierced a water main and the rush of water quickly extinguished fire caused by the incendiary bombs, but several people passing were killed or injured. A number of those over whose bodies the inquest was held today died from shock or in a hospital as a result of their injuries.

War Being Carried Home to Bulgars By Allied Forces

PROBATION OFFICE PROBE REQUESTED BY POLICE HEADS

General Council Will Be Asked at Next Meeting to Appoint a Committee to Make Thorough Investigation.

HARMONY IS LACKING, COMMISSION IS TOLD

Board Is Planning Complete Reorganization of Department in the Near Future, It Is Reported.

General council will be asked at its next meeting to appoint a committee to investigate the affairs of the probation office of the police department, which is under the supervision of Chief Probation Officer S. J. Coogler.

The police board recently appointed Recorder George E. Johnson and Chief of Police W. M. Mayo to take action on the alleged lack of harmony in the working force of the probation department, Probation Officers Hollingsworth and Hewell having made complaint to the board that they did not wish to work longer under Probation Officer Coogler.

This action of the police board is but another step in the policy of the board to thoroughly reorganize the management of the police department which was begun last summer when the board demoted former Chief of Police J. L. Beavers.

Recorder Johnson has called the attention of the board to the fact that Probation Officer Coogler has handled something like $20,000 of "alimony funds" paid into his department during the last seven years by delinquent husbands who were placed under probation by the recorder for non-support of their wives and families.

Recorder Johnson has also shown that Officer Coogler has never been placed under bond, and that he has never had to render an account of the department's affairs to any one.

The complaint of Probation Officers Hollingsworth and Hewell to the board has brought the investigation to a crisis. Recorder Johnson stated last night that he and Chief Mayo would not take any steps in the matter of reorganizing the probation department until they had asked council to appoint a committee to investigate the affairs of Probation Officer Coogler.

However, it is reported that the action of the police board is but a step to oust Probation Officer Coogler from his position, and reorganize the department.

CAR TURNS TURTLE OWNER NEAR DEATH

Unknown Man Caught Under His Machine When It Turned Over Late Last Night Near Red Oak.

While speeding over a new road near Red Oak, Ga., at 12 o'clock last night, an unknown man was crushed beneath his machine, which turned over as he attempted to turn it out of a rut in the roadbed.

Unconscious and bleeding the unconscious man was taken from under the machine by farmers who lived nearby and carried to a drug store at Red Oak. The Grady hospital was notified at 1:30 o'clock this morning, where he was rushed in a dying condition.

The unfortunate man was discovered under his machine on the side of the country road by L. M. Swift, a salesman for the Ford Motor company, who was going to his home in La-Grange, Ga. He stated that the machine Mills was driving was a large touring car and that its wheels had evidently become locked in the long narrow ruts of the road.

Those examining letters about his person believed him to be a Mr. Mills, living at the Black apartments, 45 Auburn avenue. At an early hour no one communicated with there was able to remember such a man.

Kaiser Very Confident His Troops Will March To the Turkish Capital

Paris, October 18.—A dispatch from Basel says it is learned that a German lieutenant, detached from duty while convalescing, has received orders to rejoin his corps, the Sixteenth Baravian, at Dedeaghatch, Bulgaria, between November 16 and December 2. After this time, the order states, the corps will be stationed at Constantinople.

Anglo-French Troops Have Taken Strumitsa in Bulgaria and Allied Forces Have Landed at Enos on the Aegean Sea.

SLOW PROGRESS MADE AGAINST THE SERBIANS BY TEUTONIC INVADERS

Von Mackensen Is Meeting With Greater Resistance Than Expected—Believed That Allies Have Surprise in Store for the Teutons and That Steps Are Being Taken to Force Turkey to Knees.

London, October 18.—Reports that the allies have occupied Strumitsa and landed at Enos, which recently was transferred from Turkish to Bulgarian rule, has caused a more optimistic feeling throughout the allied countries.

As to the progress of the Near Eastern campaign, it is known from both Serbian and German accounts that Field Marshal von Mackensen's army is meeting with greater resistance than was expected, and, although it is probable that the Serbians eventually must fall back on stronger strategic positions in the north, the fact that the allies are bringing heavy forces against the Bulgarians, and so placing them that the Bulgarians will be forced to divide their armies, gives hope here that the Germans may be balked in their latest attempt to reach the sea and bring assistance to the Turks.

All along the line the Serbians and their Montenegrin neighbors, also attacked, are offering stubborn resistance to both Austro-Germans and Bulgarians, and while they have given up a number of towns and positions they have not yet reached the line on which they expect to make thir stand.

LITTLE PROGRESS BY BULGARIANS.

The Bulgarians, so far as can be learned, have made progress only in the Zlotokopska valley, near the River Morava, north of the town of Vranya, where they blew up a bridge. There is no confirmation of a report that they cut the railway in this district. The bridge was near the railway. The Bulgarian force which penetrated the valley is not a large one.

The capture of Strumitsa is of real strategic value, as its occupation permits the defense of the southern end of the railway and compels the Bulgarians to keep a force there. Enos, too, is of value, as, although not a good landing place, its occupation threatens Dedeaghatch, which has a great harbor and is fortified and mined. The civilian population has left Dedeaghatch, which is entirely in the hands of the military under German supervision.

The Italians, according to latest report, will not send a contingent to the Balkans, but co-operate in the Aegean with the fleet of the allies.

The point at which the Russians will strike has not been disclosed. The expectation, however, is that the allies have a surprise for the central powers and that steps are being taken to bring Turkey to her knees before assistance can reach her.

HEAVY FIGHTING REPORTED IN PROGRESS.

Athens, October 19.—(Via Paris.)—There is heavy fighting in the Ristovac-Vranya district of Serbia. According to reliable news from Saloniki the Serbians have been strongly reinforced. Beyond Vranya telegraphic communication is interrupted.

ALLIED TROOPS LAND AT ENOS.

London, October 18.—The entente allies have effected a landing at Enos, on the Aegean sea in European Turkey, close to the Bulgarian border, and have seized the railroad at that point, according to a dispatch from Athens to The Messaggero of Rome, transmitted by the Central News.

STRUMITSA TAKEN BY ALLIED ARMIES.

London, October 18.—Strumitsa in Bulgaria has been occupied by the allied armies of Great Britain, France and Serbia, according to official advices from Saloniki, telegraphed by Reuter's Athens correspondent.

Various points dominating the railway from Saloniki to the interior have been occupied by allied troops, the correspondent says, and the protection of the line is regarded as assured.

Occupation of Strumitsa by the allied forces is confirmed by a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Athens. The dispatch adds that the allied armies are advancing.

A number of allied warships are cruising in the Aegean, off the Bulgarian port of Dedeaghatch.

SERBIANS RETIRING, GERMANS REPORT.

Berlin, October 18.—(Via London.)—The Serbian forces in the Macva district of the Save-Drina front in northwestern Serbia, where strong resistance has been offered to the Teutonic invaders, are beginning to retreat, it was announced today by German army headquarters.

The Teutonic advance south of Belgrade continues, and progress is also being made in the Pozarevac sector. Additional successes also are reported for the Bulgarians, on the eastern border of Serbia.

The statement follows:

"In the Balkan theater:

"In the Macva district the enemy is beginning to retreat on the plateau land. South of Belgrade our troops are advancing against Ovetkov-Grob and the village of Vroin.

"Southeast of Pozarevac the towns of Ornice and Bosevac have been captured.

"Bulgarian troops have occupied the heights of the Muelin-Percin and Badin Zub. Further south they are pushing forward by way of Egri Palanka."

Vienna, October 18.—(Via London.)—The Austrian war office tonight issued the following:

"A Serbian division has been defeated in the region of Avala, retreating on both sides of the road to the south. Our troops now are attacking enemy detachments who remain north of Ralja. The enemy also was obliged to retreat in the Macva district on both sides of the lower Morava.

"The Germans are gaining ground. The Bulgarians occupy the heights of Muelin Percin and Badin Zub. Further south they have advanced over Egri Palanka."

RUMORED BULGARS HAVE CUT RAILWAY.

Paris, October 18.—A dispatch to The Petit Journal from Saloniki says that persistent rumors are current there that the Bulgarians have reached Vranje and succeeded in cutting the railroad between Saloniki and Nish.

Vranje is a Serbian town about 20 miles west of the border, situated on the railroad where the line makes its nearest approach to Bulgaria.

ATTACK ON BULGARIA BY LAND AND SEA.

Paris, October 18.—The British blockade of the Bulgarian coast, says a dispatch to The Petit Journal from Athens, is a prelude to combined land and sea operations along the Aegean coast of Bulgaria and Turkey. In these operations Italy will be represented by a naval squadron and a number of transports.

Rome, October 18.—(Via Paris.)—Italy's co-operation with her allies in the Balkans may now be considered as absolutely certain, says The Correspondenza Italiana. This probably will begin with naval action in the Aegean.

SERB LINE HOLDS AGAINST BULGARS.

Paris, October 18.—The entire Serbian line on the Bulgarian front is being held against the invaders, notwithstanding the superiority of the Bulgarian forces, according to a dispatch to The Temps from Nish under date of October 16. It is declared that the Bulgarian army at Vlassina has been scattered.

"The battle continues along the whole front," says the dispatch.

"The Serbians continue to hold positions outside of Belgrade dominating the city and valley of Yezava.

"The Serbians evacuated Pozarevac so as to avoid a turning movement of their adversaries."

RUMANIA BARS RUSSIAN TROOPS.

Berlin, October 18.—(By Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—"According to a dispatch from Vienna," says the Overseas News agency, "Russia inquired informally of Rumania whether that country would permit the passage of Russian troops through the Dobrudja district. The Rumanian prime minister, M. Bratiano, however, declared that it was the firm decision of Rumania to defend her neutrality most energetically against all armed encroachments."

ONE RAILWAY LINE LEFT TO SERBIA

Berlin, October 18.—(Via London.)—The military critic of The Zeitung Am Mittag points out the strategic importance of the occupation of the Timok valley by the Bulgarians. This, he says, cuts the communication of Nish with Rumania and Russia and makes it impossible for Russia to continue drawing military supplies from Saloniki by way of Serbia. The correspondent adds that Serbia now has only one railway line connecting her with foreign countries, namely that southward to Saloniki.

Telegraphing under date of October 17, The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent with the German forces operating in Serbia, says:

"The German and Austrian operations are proceeding successfully along the whole front. The Germans by an extended enveloping movement compelled the Serbians to evacuate Pozarevac almost without a struggle, although the defenses of the city had been so strengthened and the advanced positions so well prepared for keeping the Teutons at a distance that the Serbians evidently had planned making a long stand here.

"After the evacuation the Serbians retired to the heights southward and southwestward, which also were strongly fortified. On the following days heavy fighting occurred there. The contour of the country offered great difficulties, there being few roads. The Serbians made a stout resistance on the wohle line, but suffered great losses under the bombardments of the Germany heavy artillery. Especially on the mountain of Vranovo, did the enemy fight desperately, but finally after long resistsance he yielded this strong elevated position to one of the Brandenburg regiments."

Another correspondent describes the Vranovo mountain as steeper than the famous Spicheren heights near Saarbrucken, captured by the Germans from the French in 1870.

The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent describing the resistance shown by the Serbians, says they did not aboadon the plateau behind the mountain after the Germans had won the important heights, but continued holding the ground, fighting under greatly unfavorable tactical conditions, until they were slowly pressed back.

Other correspondents also emphasize the bravery and persistence of the Serbians, who, they say, often hold positions until hand-to-hand encounters become necessary to force their abandonment.

The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent says that at some places civilians, even women and children, are participating in the fighting.

FIGHTING IS HEAVY IN EAST AND WEST; NO MARKED GAINS

At No Point, However, Has Either Side Attempted Anything That Resembled a General Offensive.

London, October 18.—There has been plenty of heavy fighting on both the eastern and western fronts, but nowhere has either side attempted a general offensive. The Germans are still making a great effort between Riga and Dvinsk and met with some minor successes, but thence to the Rumanian border, wherever there has been any fighting it is the Russians who are attacking, and they, too, claim some gains.

Berlin asserts that good progress has been made by Von Hindenburg south of Riga and that near Illoukst Russian positions extending over a front of nearly two miles have been captured.

On the western front the British have been attacking east of Vermelles, according to the Berlin report, while the Germans attacked the French near Souchez and the French took the offensive in Champagne, Lorraine and the Vosges. None of these attempts is making any marked alterations in the positions of the armies.

With a particularly intense artillery fire continuing on both sides in the Champagne region, the French war office reports slight progress. A strong barricade to the southeast of Neuville has been completed and the Givenchy wood positions have been consolidated.

In the official report from Paris the only infantry clash of moment noted was in the neighborhood of Souchez, where it is declared three German attacks against positions at Bois-En-Hache were completely checked.

A dispatch from La Panne, Belgium, says a German attempt to break the Belgian lines on the Yser front Saturday and Sunday night was foiled by the Belgians. The German effort preceded by a fierce bombardment was launched at a point known as "Death's Highway" in the Dixmude region. Belgium artillery broke up the advancing columns.

Stubborn fighting is going on on the Austro-Italian zone, with the Italians on the offensive. On the plateau of Doberdo the Italians reached the Austrian entanglements at some places, but Vienna says they were finally driven off.

MANY SUCCESSES FOR THE RUSSIANS.

Petrograd, October 18.—The following official communication was issued by the war office today:

"In the region of Riga, on the River Aa, north of Mitau, enemy elements which advanced beyond Herzoghof were thrown back across the river.

"On the Dvinsk front after the attacks repulsed yesterday the enemy remained passive throughout the day. Only near the village of Pochilini did he make attempts to dislodge us from trenches in the occupied section. We repulsed both these attacks. Artillery fighting continues. Between the Demmen and Dreswiaty lakes there has been no cessation in the fighting.

"The Germans were dislodged with enormous losses from positions north of the village of Nourviantzy on the southern shore of Lake Dreswizty. We captured prisoners and machine guns.

"On the Upper Niemen above Deliatitchi we carried by assault the village of Chtchersy.

"South of the Pripet region and on the middle Styr our troops yesterday gained an important success during the occupation of the village of Sovietchtchitzy, above Rafalovka. We captured thirteen officers, including two battalion commanders, and five hundred men.

"Detachments of our cavalry charged the enemy near the village of Podcherevitchi west of Rafalovatka. Thus far thirty officers and over a thousand men and some machine guns have fallen into our hands.

"We have occupied the village of Kozlinitchi. By simultaneous attack from the north and south our troops occupied the village of Novolkia on the Styr above Czarotoysk and its bridgehead. After we had repulsed an enemy counter attack we took over 800 Geermans and Austrian soldiers and a number of bomb-throwers and some telegraph stores.

"At dawn yesterday our troops got into the village of Kulikovichi, above Novoseliski. Thus far we have captured over a thousand prisoners and many machine guns and bomb-throwers.

"On the Caucasus front there were no engagements on the 16th."

GERMANS HALTED BY FRENCH FIRE.

Paris, October 18.—Tonight's official statement reads:

"After an intense artillery preparation, menaces of infantry attacks were manifested in the German trenches at Bois-en-Hache and the valley of the Souchez, where large masses of enemy effectives were gathered. Our artillery by an energetic and effective barrier fire and our machine guns prevented the adversary from debouching.

"An artillery duel in which we had the advantage took place to the south in the Somme, in the environs of Tilloly, Sessesir and Saint Leocade.

"On the left bank of the Aisne, south of Pommeras, our outpost discovered an enemy ambuscade and brought back prisoners.

"In the Champagne the enemy has been active. Our batteries, in replying on trenches and bivouacs behind the enemy's front, caused an explosion of a large munitions depot.

"In the Vosges, spirited combats with grenades are reported on the crests of Schratzmannele and violent cannonading on both sides in the region of Hartmanns-Weilerkopf and in the valley of the Thur.

"The Belgian communication reads:

"There has been an intermittent bombardment of our positions. Our artillery destroyed an enemy observation post."

The French communication issued in the afternoon follows:

"Three new attacks on the part of the enemy against our positions at Bois-En-Hache, to the northeast of Souchez, were completely checked last night by curtains of fire in which both artillery and infantry participated.

"To the south of the River Somme, in the sector of Libons, there has been almost continual fighting with trench weapons, while in the meantime our batteries directed an effective fire against the German works.

"To the north of Verdun German forces have endeavored to occupy the craters of certain mines recently exploded between the lines. They have been repulsed everywhere.

"Last night witnessed very spirited infantry fire between the trenches in the vicinity of Nomeny. Our artillery in the same region has dispersed groups of pioneers of the enemy, particularly to the east of Eply and near Gremecey and Bioncourt, and it has also bombarded the railroad station at Blamont."

FRENCH REPULSED, GERMANS ASSERT.

Berlin, October 18. —(Via London.)—The text of the official statement issued today by German army headquarters staff follows:

"In the western theater:

"The trench work northeast of Vermelles, which projects far into the enemy positions, was repeatedly attacked by the English with strong forces. All their attacks failed with heavy losses and the trench work remained in our hands.

"Attempts of the French to attack at Tahure were subdued by our fire.

"A new enemy advance with the object of recapturing lost positions south of Leintrey was unsuccessful. It cost the French in addition to sanguinary losses three officers, seventeen noncommissioned officers and seventy-three chasseurs as prisoners.

"On Schratzmannelle the enemy could not recapture a single foot of ground by his attacks, notwithstanding the use of a considerable quantity of ammunition.

"Yesterday German air squadrons attacked the fortress of Belfort, drove off the enemy aviators and dropped eight bombs on the fortress. A number of fires were observed to have been caused by the explosion.

"In eastern theater:

"Field Marshal von Hindenburg in his attack south of Riga made good progress. Two officers and 280 other prisoners remained in our hands.

"Russian attacks west of Jacobstadt were repulsed.

"West of Illoukst we captured enemy positions extending on a front of about three kilometres (1.8 mile.)

"Further south, in the region of Smorgan, repeated Russian advances undertaken with strong forces were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy. Two officers and 175 men were taken prisoners.

"Army group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: A Russian attack on both sides of the Liadkovitchi-Baronovitchi railway broke down under our fire at a distance of 400 yards in front of our positions.

"Army of General von Linsengen: On the River Styr from Rafalowka to Kulikovitchi new local engagements have developed."

CANNON AT WORK ON YSER FRONT.

La Panne, Belgium, October 18.—(Via Paris.)—The Belgische Standardt, published here, says that a terrible bombardment was in progress along the Yser front Saturday and Sunday nights. The firing was especially violent near Dixmude and Ypres.

This bombardment was the prelude to an attempt by the Germans to break the Belgian lines. The Belgian artillery returned the fire, shelling the enemy's communication trenches and scattering his infantry as they leaped from the trenches. A second attack on a smaller scale also was repulsed.

This offensive took place in the Dixmude region at a spot known as "Death's Highway," which has been stubbornly disputed by both sides. Although mowed down in rows the Belgians have been holding their own and not yielding an inch of ground.

ATTACKS REPULSED, AUSTRIANS REPORT.

Vienna, October 18.—(Via London.)—The following communication from general headquarters was issued today:

"There were no special events yesterday in Eastern Galicia on the Okwa front and the region of the Volhynian fortresses.

"On the Kormin brook and the lower Styr the enemy made several strong attacks near Kulikovichi, Novoe Seliki and Rafalowka. The battle continues. At all other points the enemy yesterday was repulsed with great losses.

"The Austro-Hungarian troops on the upper Szczara also repulsed a strong Russian attack.

"On the Isonzo front the Italians again displayed great activity last evening. Stubborn battles took place in the northwestern sectors on the plateau of Doberdo, near Peteano. A strong Italian infantry attack on our positions there reached our entanglements in some places, but finally the enemy was driven off with heavy losses. Otherwise in the littoral and Tyrolean border regions there was only artillery fighting."

GERMAN TORPEDO BOAT CUT IN TWO BY FERRY

London, October 18.—A big German torpedo boat was run down and cut in two by a German steam ferry, which left Trelleberg, Sweden, Friday night with all lights out, says a Reuter dispatch from Malmo, Sweden. Only five of the torpedo boat's crew of forty-five were saved.

CARSON RESIGNS BRITISH CABINET

It Is Reported That He Disagreed With Colleagues Over Matters Connected With Conduct of the War.

London, October 18.—Sir Edward Carson, attorney general, has resigned from the British cabinet.

The resignation of Sir Edward Carson, the first open manifestation of the divergence of views known to exist among the ministers, is the result, according to an authoritative statement, not of the controversy over conscription, but of the condition of affairs in the Near East.

Sir Edward himself so far has made no personal explanation of his reasons for resigning, but it is understood that he disapproves of the policy of the war department in the Balkans and the method of confining the whole national policy to a small "inner cabinet."

It is expected that there will be exciting debates in the house of commons this week, as severe attacks on the government are planned by members of the house in connection with the general military policy, especially in the Near East.

Carson the Ulster Leader.

Sir Edward Carson, prior to the outbreak of the war, was the leader of the movement against home rule for Ireland, which for a time threatened civil war in Ulster. At that time he was the conservative member of parliament for Dublin university and gained great notoriety for his speeches attacking the government and the sympathizers of home rule and threatened in case the king signed the home rule bill to aid in setting up a provisional government in Ulster. He was the first to sign the covenant of resistance to home rule, and led the Ulsterites in the formation of the Ulster volunteers.

When the present coalition government was formed last May, Sir Edward was given the portfolio of attorney general. Some of the English newspapers expressed the view that this appointment was a mistake in view of his previous antagonism to the government.

The most notable case with which Sir Edward has had to deal since his incumbency of the attorney generalship were the board of trades' inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania and the proceedings before prize courts for the consideration of American meat cargoes.

Recently there has been unofficial talk in London of Sir Edward being at odds with other members of the ministry over conscription, the Balkan situation and the Dardanelles expedition. The attorney general did not attend any of the cabinet meetings held recently.

CRISIS IS PREDICTED BY JOHN REDMOND.

Dublin, October 19.—Presiding at nationalist convention yesterday, John E. Redmond said that a grave political crisis might arise any day. The position of the coalition government, he declared, was precarious. It was threatened by internal and external dangers. A conspiracy existed among men ready to sacrifice national unity in the face of the enemy to further their own predilections and theories.

It was common talk, said the Irish leader, that a general election was possible, but Ireland could boast that she was not responsible for the dangers.

OTHERS MAY FOLLOW SIR EDWARD CARSON.

London, October 19. — The London morning papers express much regret over the resignation of Sir Edward Carson as attorney general, and there is lively apprehension expressed that it is not impossible that his giving up his portfolio may be followed by other resignations.

The Times says Sir Edward's action was taken on what he holds to be the fundamental question of policy and that it is understood he by no means is alone in his attitude toward the conduct of the war.

According to The Daily Chronicle the question of conscription did not come to a head at yesterday's cabinet meeting as matters arising out of the Balkan situation, especially the enigmatic attitude of Greece occupied the ministers. But The Chronicle says the conscriptionists have not abandoned their intention to force an early decision on the question and before the week is out there may be sensational developments unless the wise counsels prevail. The newspaper adds that ministerial resignations are freely talked about, and says the very existence of the coalition government may soon be in jeopardy. The Chronicle contends that even if the conscriptionists should form an administration they would be without a majority in parliament and have at least half the nation arrayed against them.

The Morning Post, the leading conservative newspaper, says editorially:

"Sir Edward Carson resigned on the Near Eastern question. The government against his strong advice and urgent counsel, allowed that question to drift and Sir Edward Carson, who had strong convictions on what he regarded as the right policy, for the country, refused to share the responsibility for the results of postponing or evading a decision. We cannot quarrel with him for taking the momentous step. On the contrary no man of intellect and courage could remain in a government which dallies with and postpones its decisions from day to day on issues where delay is dangerous.

"We trust that now that Sir Edward Carson has regained his freedom, he will use means to force upon the government some sense of the dangers to which they are bringing the country by their refusal to look facts in the face."

SUBMARINES OF KAISER BUSY IN MEDITERRANEAN

Alleged That 23 Allied Vessels Have Been Sunk in Last Few Weeks.

New York, October 18.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, announced today that an official communication from Berlin stated German submarines had recently sunk twenty-three vessels, including four transports of the allies, in the Mediterranean.

The message received by the ambassador read:

"During the past few weeks German submarines, operating in the Mediterranean have sunk twenty-three vessels, having an aggregate tonnage of 100,000. Of the vessels sunk four were transports of the allies."

No statement was made as to the loss of life incident to the sinking of the various vessels.

During the past six weeks four British transports have been reported sunk in or close to the Mediterranean and a fifth in the Aegean sea. In some instances there has not been any direct confirmation of these sinkings from London.

During the same period a number of merchant vessels, flying either the flags of Great Britain, France or Russia, have been reported sunk in the Mediterranean region.

On September 28 it was officially announced at Athens that the Greek government had released the Sikhs and Curkas, who were survivors of the British transport Ramazan. There had been previous report of the sinking of the Ramazan.

Vienna reported on September 17 that an Austrian submarine had sunk a British transport in the Mediterranean. On September 9 Berlin announced the British transport Southland had been sunk by a submarine in Turkish waters. On August 29 Berlin reported a submarine had sunk a British transport carrying Canadian troops near the Mediterranean.

On September 3 Berlin reported a British transport had been sunk in the Aegean sea, and that 320 officers, 1,240 soldiers and a crew of 300 had all been drowned. This was believed to have been the British transport Royal Edward, officially reported sunk on August 14 in the Aegean sea with a heavy loss of life.

STEAMER SALERNO HAS BEEN SUNK.

London, October 18.—Lloyd's announces that the Norwegian steamer Salerno has been sunk and that 19 men, two women and three children, have been landed from her.

The Norwegian steamer Salerno, of 1,398 tons net, arrived at Gothenburg, Sweden, from Buenos Aires, on September 20. Her subsequent movements are not covered by available shipping records.

A dispatch from London on October 15 reported the sinking of the British steamer Salerno. The records list this vessel as a Neilson Line steamer of 2,071 tons gross.

Banana Rate Complaint.

Washington, October 18.—The railroad commission of Florida complained today to the interstate commerce commission that the carload rates on bananas of the Louisville and Nashville and other railroads from New Orleans and Mobile to Thomasville, Albany and other points in Georgia are unjust and discriminatory compared with rates from the same cities to points in Florida.

250,000 SERB WOMEN TO OPPOSE INVADERS

Chicago, October 18.—John R. Palandech, Serbian leader and editor, addressing a meeting of Serbians today, declared that an army of 250,000 Serbian women, equal in numbers to the entire Serbian regular army, soon would be on the firing line against the Germans and Austrians.

"No women in the world are more courageous than the Serbian women," Mr. Palandech said, "and they are not going to sit at home and see their fathers, husbands and brothers driven out of Serbia. Many Serbian women have been killed fighting at the front, and I have learned from our native land that it will be but a short time until the army of women soldiers will equal that of the men."

GERMANS ADMIT SERBIAN BRAVERY.

Berlin, October 18.—(Via London.)—

HAMILTON CALLED FROM DARDANELLES

General Monro Succeeds. Hamilton Ordered to London to Report — Berlin Hears Allies Will Leave the Dardanelles.

London October 19.—Major General Charles Carmichael Monro has been appointed to command the Dardanelles expedition, in succession to General Ian Hamilton, who is returning to England to make a report. This announcement is made by the war office.

Pending General Monro's arrival at Gallipoli, Major General William Riddel Birdwood will command the troops.

Matters Not Going Well.

That all has not been going well with the expeditionary forces sent to the Gallipoli peninsula to open the way to Constantinople has been indicated, not only by the official reports, but by intimation in high quarters in London. A few days ago in the British parliament, Viscount Milner suggested withdrawal of the troops from Gallipoli and their transfer to some other war theater.

In reply, Lord Lansdowne said it was impossible for any member of the government to give an undertaking that the troops would be continued in the Dardanelles operations or withdrawn from them.

General Sir Ian Hamilton, who has had command of the British troops from the time of their first landing in April, has, in his reports to the war office, chronicled heavy losses to his forces, with comparatively small gains. The result of this has been to arouse discussion as to whether the operations in the Dardanelles were progressing in a way to warrant their continuation.

General Sir Ian Hamilton is one of the veteran fighters of the British army, having seen service in the Afghan war, the Boer war, the Nile expedition, various campaigns in Africa and the South African war, in which he was chief of staff to Lord Kitchener. He is 62 years of age.

Hamilton's Successor.

Major General Charles Carmichael Monro, who was born in 1860, was appointed commander of an army corps last January. He entered the army in 1879 and served with distinction in South Africa in 1899-1900. Later he commanded a division of the territorial force.

Major General William R. Birdwood, who temporarily takes command of the British forces in the Dardanelles, was wounded in battle last May on the Gallipoli front. He has a record of splendid service in the Boer war, being mentioned several times in dispatches for heroism. In that war he suffered severe wounds.

ALLIES TO WITHDRAW, ACCORDING TO BERLIN.

Berlin, October 18.—(By Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—A special dispatch to The National Zeitung "from the Russian border" says:

"Your correspondent learns from a well-informed source that the abandonment of the Dardanelles campaign by France and Great Britain has already been decided upon. Russian circles interested in this matter have been informed that the allies will not suspend operations on the Gallipoli peninsula all at once, but will gradually withdraw troops from there.

"Military circles of the entente powers are fully convinced of the hopelessness of the Dardanelles undertaking in its present form."

The correspondent adds that another reason for the abandonment of the campaign is that the troops are needed for service in Serbia.

WILL WOMEN WIN AT JERSEY POLLS?

Newark, N. J., October 18.—The campaign waged by women workers for suffrage reached its climax tonight, election eve, in every part of New Jersey. All day suffrage banners fluttered from hundreds of automobiles from Cape May to the New York line and tonight there were few communities in the state where the voices of feminine orators were not lifted in the streets for the cause.

In Newark a score or more of women workers have spoken without cessation since 6 o'clock this morning, pausing only long enough to relieve one another. Dawn and daybreak, they say, will find them still at their post, for this twenty-four-hour meeting is not to end till the polls open at 6 o'clock for the suffrage election amendment.

The last hours of this fight have set a new record for political activity in New Jersey. The so-called whirlwind finishes of bygone campaigns within the memory of living voters have failed to equal tonight's activity.

President Wilson's vote for suffrage will be cast in Princeton.

The standards of the two big political parties which have opposed each other for fifty years have been sent to the background. Democrats and republicans are working side by side for suffrage against democrats and republicans working against it. Both sides claim victory.

"We expect to carry New Jersey by 25,000," was the prediction of Mrs. Lillian F. Feickert, president of the New Jersey State Association for Woman's suffrage.

"Woman suffrage will be defeated in New Jersey by a large majority," were the last words from Mrs. Edward Yarde Breeze, president of the New Jersey association opposed to woman suffrage. The polls will remain open until 9 o'clock at night. There is not a voting machine in the state and returns, it is thought, will be late.

ICE CREAM MAN SAYS HE THOUGHT HIS TIME HAD COME

Suffered for Three Days and Nights With Acute Indigestion and Could Not Get Relief--Thought He Would Die.

It is, indeed, doubtful if there is a better known or more highly respected man in Knoxville than Mr. C. M. Smith, popularly known by his friends as "Cal" Smith. Mr. Smith has been prominently identified with the ice cream manufacturing business in that city for a number of years, and occupies a responsible position with the Mono Ice Cream Company, one of the largest in the state.

Like lots of other folks, Mr. Smith had little faith in the new medicine, as he had tried various other remedies without relief, and decided to try Tanlac only as a last resort. Mr. Smith's complete statement follows:

"About one month ago I had a severe attack of what the doctors described as acute indigestion, and for several days I was a very sick man. It was the first attack of this kind I ever had in my life and I can truthfully say I hope I will never have another one.

"Shortly after eating one day I began to experience a very full and uncomfortable feeling in my stomach, and in only a short time my stomach swelled up so full of gas I could hardly get my breath. My feet and hands got cold and clammy, and my pulse was very weak. I had a kind of sickening, smothering sensation and was very dizzy. I don't know when I ever felt that way before. I just felt like I would give anything in the world if I could get one long, deep breath. I thought this condition would pass off in a few hours, and I would soon be all right again, but I got worse in place of better, and decided I would consult a doctor. He said I was suffering from acute indigestion and gave me a prescription, but the medicine failed to do me any good whatsoever.

"After suffering for three days and nights I went to see him again, and told him I was simply compelled to have some relief. He said 'Well, if the medicine I am giving you don't help you I don't know what will.'

"A friend of mine then told me about Tanlac, and as I had already heard so much about the medicine I decided to try it. I then went down to Kuhlman's and bought a bottle and began taking it at once. Well, sir, you can believe me or not, but I began to improve from the very first dose. It seemed to be the very thing I needed to straighten me out, and before I had taken a third of the bottle I felt like a new man. By the end of the week I had forgotten all about my indigestion, and was eating and sleeping and working again the same as ever. I went back the other day and got another bottle, for I am going to keep on taking it until I am thoroughly well and strong again.

"This Tanlac beats anything I ever saw. I was down at Lenoir City the other day and told a lot of my friends about it, and they tell me it is also having a big sale down there. Nearly everybody in my neighborhood is taking Tanlac, and they are all praising it. If anybody wants to know anything about my case I will be glad to answer any questions at any time."

Tanlac is sold in Atlanta exclusively by Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., under the personal direction of the Tanlac representative.

Special Note—Referring to the statement of Mrs. J. P. Rice, which appeared in Sunday's papers, her place of residence was inadvertently omitted. She lives at 307 Russell Street, Nashville, Tenn.—(adv.)

Bell Rang No One There!!

Sometimes when your telephone bell rings and you answer it, the operator says: "Number please?" Naturally you are surprised and wonder why the bell rang if no one called you.

Sometimes—very rarely—this is the operator's mistake. Most frequently it was because you were slow to answer and the calling party grew tired of waiting and left the telephone. An immediate answer makes for perfect service. It is not always possible so we ask that you answer as quickly as you can and remember that these annoyances are not always the operator's fault.

GEORGIANS SHOW DIXIE TOURISTS SOME REAL ROADS

Motorists' Dream Realized in Smooth Highway Over Which They Whiz Between Macon and Albany.

VISITORS ARE FEASTED ON SUMTER'S PRODUCTS

After Big Time at Americus, Albany Country Club Is Turned Inside Out for the Travelers.

BY NED M'INTOSH.
(Special Staff Correspondent.)

Albany, Ga., October 18.—Georgia showed the Dixie Highway commissioners something about good roads today. The commissioners say the stretch over which the tour came from Macon to Albany is as fine a piece of road work as there is between Albany and Chicago.

The roads are as smooth as a floor, and a thirty-five mile clip is loafing along. As high as fifty-five miles an hour was easily made at times.

As Secretary W. S. Gilreath put it: "All you've got to do is to keep her nose pointing south, and let her have the juice."

Having met a great reception all along the road, the tour arrived in Albany tonight at 6 o'clock. The tourists were met at the Dougherty county line with a big escort of Albany cars and conducted into the city.

Big Time at Albany Club.

At the Kinchafoonee Country club tonight there was surely a sound of revelry by night. There was where the entertainment of the visitors took place, and it took the whole place, too. After an elaborate dinner, there was music and dancing and a general reception until midnight.

The tour left Macon this morning at 10 o'clock sharp with a pilot car from the Americus Chamber of Commerce and many Macon cars in line.

The tour had already had a fine sample of Bibb county roads coming into Macon Sunday night. The roads they saw going out of Bibb today were just as good and were but the forerunner of highways of the character which has already been indicated.

At the Houston county line, a committee, headed by ex-Repreesntative Green, of Houston county, and with a score of Fort Valley cars, met the tourists and took them into Fort Valley.

See Peach Country.

In Houston county the tourists entered the south Georgia peach section and were taken through several beautiful orchards as they went from the county line into Fort Valley. Along the way farm bells rang a welcome. At the city limits the fire department met the tour and let it in, the siren of the big motor truck heralding the arrival. After a few minutes' stop the tour was on its way again.

Through Marshallville, Montezuma and other towns along the way the tour went at high speed, making no more stops until they got to Andersonville. There were many cars in the line from intervening towns, however, which had joined the tour along the way.

Just before the tour got to Andersonville the Americus cars, a regular flock of 'em, joined the tour and went on into Americus with them. At Andersonville there was a short stop while the tourists visited the National cemetery.

Big Feast in Americus.

Americus was the noon control and the reception given the tourists was great. There were hundreds of automobiles lined up in the street and thousands of people were downtown to see the tour. Meanwhile a brass band played "Dixie" and other patriotic airs.

The visitors were taken to the Country club, where a very fine, extensive and unique luncheon was served. As the tour rolled up to the doors of the clubhouse an old-fashioned farm bell pealed the welcome news that "dinner was ready." The tourists surely laid off from work and responded to the call.

The luncheon was composed of nothing but Sumter county products, and the variety and quality of this spread was convincing evidence that Sumter county farmers have been diversifying their crops and that they have raised their "grub" at home. A negro sextet sang old-fashion southern melodies during the meal, which carried out pleasingly the "down on the farm" idea.

With Secretary Gilbreath flying the stars and stripes, in a picturesque fashion and not greatly unlike the dramatic looking gentleman in the "Spirit of 76" picture, the tour bade Sumter county a reluctant farewell. They also said goodbye there to a number of Macon cars which had come that far with them.

Tourists' Dream Realized.

From Americus to Albany the acme of quality in roads was found. Down through this famous "Black Pebble" farm country and miles of pecan groves the road to Albany spans valleys and dives through cuts in such splendid fashion that it leaves nothing for the heart of a tourist to desire. The road had been scraped, apparently for the especial benefit of the tourists for the greater of the way to Albany.

Along the way were several gangs of men using modern road building machinery, showing the tourists just how Georgia builds her roads. Getting to Albany was probably the easiest task the tour will have to confront it. Everybody enjoyed the day's run greatly.

Judge M. M. Allison, president of the Dixie Highway association, who was ill last night, felt greatly improved today.

The party will leave early tomorrow for Tallahassee, making stops at Camilla, Pelham and Thomasville.

CORPS OF ARMENIANS PROPOSED BY ALLIES

London, October 18.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says:

"Captain Torcom is planning to raise volunteer corps from the Armenians now residing in the Balkans, Egypt, Italy, France, Great Britain and the United States to fight in the ranks of the allies against Turkey.

"In an appeal with this end in view, Captain Torcom says the Armenians have been unable to prevent the massacre of Armenians in Asia Minor by the Turks, but that those living in other countries can help fight Turkey and that the allied powers will not refuse them the right and honor of joining in the war against their oppressors.

"Captain Torcom's plan provides for the formation of a maximum of 30 battalions and a minimum of ten battalions. Captain Torcom was wounded during the recent fighting in Galicia, but is now able to leave the hospital and is about to start for London to get his plan in operation."

ONE AFTER ANOTHER THEY WENT TO DEATH

Eight Persons Escaped From Wrecked Vessel Only to Be Dragged Back by Combers.

Point Arena, Cal., October 18.—One after another, seven men and two women, who had fought their way on Mal Pass rocks, after escaping today from the wrecked gasoline schooner Alliance No. 2, were dragged back into the sea by pursuing combers. Eight were swept to death. Rafael Mediner was flung ashore alive. H. R. Jones, of Vancouver, the mate, was the only other member of the ship's company of ten that was saved.

When the schooner, which sailed from Vancouver, British Columbia, October 9 for Mazatlan, Sinaloa, piled up on Mal Pass rocks, 12 miles north of here early today, she had on board Captain Delouchrey, F. E. Harrington, chief engineer; J. S. Walsh, second engineer; H. R. Jones, mate; A. Alan, cook; ——— Baillie, purser; Miguel Abila, owner; Mrs. Abila, Miss Miller and Rafael Mediner, Abila's servant.

The two women and all the men except Jones, who remained on the vessel, aided one another over the side as the schooner was being smashed to pieces, but could not mount high enough on the rocks to escape the clutch of the sea.

Soon afterwards the pounding bulk broke in two, flinging Jones into the sea. The ship's dory floated within his reach and he climbed into it. There he was found exhausted hours later.

Abila, the owner, was said to be a close friend of General Carranza and was taking the vessel to Mexico for use in Carranza's service.

NO AMERICAN ACTION ON GERMAN AFFIDAVITS

Washington, October 18.—The state department does not contemplate any action on the affidavits filed by the German embassy charging that marines and sailors of the British patrol boat Baralong killed the commander and ten men of a German submarine.

Officials pointed out today that the case did not differ from any others filed by belligerent governments charging violations of military law and atrocities. The American government has merely filed all such protests.

Officials foresee, however, that if such incidents became a general practice they might possibly affect the submarine controversy between the United States and Germany. They fear that if British ships generally attack German submarines, interfering with the attempts of the latter to visit and search, the submarines might resume their practice of torpedoing without warning.

The use of the American flag by the British patrol boat is regarded as a ruse in keeping with the naval practice of previous wars and used by the United States as well as other nations. The only requirement is that a war vessel must show its true colors before opening fire.

WOMAN IS BAYONETTED IN STRIKE OUTBREAK

Nashua, N. H., October 18.—An increased military guard tonight patrolled the plant of the Nashua Manufacturing company, where one man was shot, one woman bayonetted, and other companies of militia from Manchester arrived to help two local companies on duty within the mill gates since the strike for more pay and shorter hours began two weeks ago.

Today's disturbance grew out of an attempt of the manufacturing company to run cars on a siding which the police assert was blocked by women sitting on the track with babies in their arms.

TROOPS ON GUARD AT KILLING PROBE

Charleston Coroner Investigating Shooting of Cohen. Witnesses Tell of Battle in Executive Committee Room.

Charleston, S. C., October 18.—Coroner John G. Mansfield actively began today the inquest into the shooting of Sidney J. Cohen, a reporter, who was killed by a pistol in the room of the city democratic executive committee Friday. More than two-score witnesses had been summoned. Solicitor W. H. Cobb, of Columbia, and Acting Solicitor William H. Grimball, of Charleston, represented the state. The coroner refused to allow interested lawyers to examine witnesses.

Soldiers About Courthouse.

National guard and naval militia companies patrolled the zone about the county courthouse in which the inquest is being held. Persons entering the building were searched without exception. All concealed weapons were removed. Only one witness was allowed in the room at a time, other witnesses being confined to two rooms in another part of the building.

The inquest was adjourned at 7:30 o'clock tonight and will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Ten witnesses were heard during the two sessions, City Chairman Joseph A. Black and other members of the executive committee being included. The evidence concerned the persons who are accused of having fired pistols in the room.

Before the inquest was opened, a hearing was held by Judge Mendel L. Smith on a writ of habeas corpus for Henry J. Brown and Edward R. McDonald. Brown was accused by the police of murdering Sidney J. Cohen, and McDonald with conspiracy to commit murder, assault and battery with intent to kill several men in the room. Judge Smith ordered that the two men be taken to the county jail pending the outcome of the coroner's inquest.

Tall Man Fired First Shot.

City Chairman Black, the first witness, said that a tall heavy man wearing a small black hat fired a shot and Cohen fell. He said he saw Chief Cantwell's pistol drawn over the head of a man who was being held. He saw several men pass out of windows and left himself in the same way. Mr. Black said he could not identify the tall man in the black hat.

G. Lee Holmes, of the executive committee, told of a scuffle in the hallway just before the shooting started. He said he saw "Babe" Brouthers approaching Edward R. McDonald and the latter drawing a pistol. He did not see Cohen fall. He heard several shots after he had left the room.

Nathaniel B. Barnwell, a member of the executive committee, said that a commotion in an ante room was followed by a pistol shot. A crowd surged into the room and several pistol shots rang out. Chief Cantwell rushed in with a pistol in his hand, he said. He said he saw Henry J. Brown shoot and got the impression that Chief Cantwell shot once.

Daniel S. Lesesne, a member of the executive committee, said that he heard an altercation between Brouthers and McDonald and tried to quiet them. He heard a bullet sing past his ear, coming from the back. He heard a threat against Mr. Black.

W. Peter Poulnot, a member of the executive committee, said that Brouthers and McDonald had some words. A crowd came in, pistol shots were heard. He did not see McDonald fire. He saw three or four pistols on the north side of the room. He said he saw pistols in the hands of Wingate, Cantwell, McDonald and Police Sergeant Quinn. Most of the shots, he said, were fired on the north side of the room.

Brown Began to Shoot.

John P. Michel was the first witness after the recess. He said he heard a man in the hall shout to take a pistol from a man. Then Brown appeared in the doorway and began to shoot, he said. Brown's was the only pistol he saw, he said. John W. Robson heard a shot in the hallway after some noise, he said. He saw Cohen lying on the floor. He declared he saw Chief Cantwell run up to a man and point a pistol in his face. He caught hold of the chief's arm as the pistol went off, he said. Mr. Robson failed to identify Brown as the man he saw shoot at Wingate.

Harry J. Hancock declared McDonald drew a pistol during an altercation with Brouthers. He heard a shot and saw Wingate fall. He saw Cohen lying on the floor. He said Brown shot Wingate, but he did not identify Brown when the latter appeared.

John I. Cosgrove testified that Wingate followed Brown into the room. Brown drew a pistol and fired. He saw Wingate fall. He said he saw Brown fire at Wingate after the latter was on the floor. He said he grabbed Chief Cantwell's arm with the exclamation that "we don't want any shooting here."

E. J. Riddock testified that McDonald and Hancock were in an altercation and that McDonald drew a pistol. He declared Brown fired the first shot. Brown's and McDonald's were the only pistols he saw, he said.

SPENCE CELEBRATES HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY

Baltimore, October 18.—William Wallace Spence, for many years a leading financier of this city, is celebrating today the 100th anniversary of his birth.

Mr. Spence was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. It took him seventy days to cross from Scotland to the United States in 1833. Last Saturday he returned to Baltimore from Hot Springs, Va., where he had spent the summer months.

For years Mr. Spence has expressed the determination to live to be 100 years old, and the fact that he has done so is attributed largely to his iron will.

Society

For Miss Blackmar.

Miss Susie Blackmar is being delightfully entertained as the guest of Miss Mary Murphey.

A party to the circus was given for her last night and yesterday afternoon Miss Marie Dinkins entertained at a matinee party.

Dr. J. V. Pierson will entertain Thursday evening at the dinner-dance at the Capital City club.

For Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raine will entertain at the Harvest ball at the Driving club the evening of October 29 in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Burwell, of Sparta, who will be their guests at that time.

For Miss Jordan.

Miss Emma Jordan, of Monticello, the guest of Miss Wyckliffe Wurm, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Thomas R. Burton in her apartment at Claramore, on Piedmont avenue. A rustic basket, filled with dahlias in rich tones, was the centerpiece of the table. Autumn leaves surrounded the basket and the place cards were hand-painted in autumn leaves. Pink roses were used in the reception room.

Mrs. Burton wore blue Georgette crepe trimmed in fur.

The guests were Miss Jordan, Miss Wurm, Miss Helen Rhorer, Miss Mary Murphey, Miss Susie Blackmar, of Columbus, and Mrs. George Walker.

For Miss Armstrong.

Mrs. J. P. Armstrong entertained at a pretty luncheon yesterday at the Winecoff, followed by a box party at the Forsyth, in honor of Miss Margaret Armstrong, whose marriage to Mr. Milton B. Mertz, of Huntsville, Ala., takes place Wednesday evening.

A basket of white and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the luncheon table and other details were in the colors of the flowers.

Miss Armstrong wore blue velvet trimmed in black fur, and her velvet hat to match, was trimmed in paradise.

The guests included Miss Armstrong, Miss Mabel Schilling and Mrs. S. G. Schilling, of Birmingham; Miss Annie Armstrong, Miss Grace Coffin, Mrs. James Duncan Clarke, of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. James Sharp and Mrs. L. N. Hyatt.

Miss Ethel Noble gives a matinee party this afternoon for Miss Armstrong, and this evening Miss Lillian Lupo entertains at a dinner party. Later the rehearsal for the wedding will take place at Miss Armstrong's home on North avenue, and will be followed by a buffet supper.

Miss Stephens Entertains.

Miss Nan Stephens entertained at a buffet supper last night at her home on Briarcliff road, the occasion a delightful one in compliment to Miss Fanny Turner and Dr. G. P. Spearman, whose marriage takes place tonight. Supper followed the rehearsal and included only the attendants.

The guests were received in the music room, where nasturtiums, orange colored dahlias and autumn leaves were a decoration in harmony with the browns prevailing in the finish of the apartment.

The parlor and dining room were in pink and white cosmos and dahlias, an effective decoration. The table in the dining room, from which salad and sweets were served, had as its centerpiece a bowl of the dahlias, the silver candlesticks had pink shades and there was dainty detail of color in pink. Punch was served in the breakfast room, the bowl resting in ferns and nasturtiums.

Miss Stephens was becomingly gowned in white brocade crepe de chine.

To Mrs. White.

Mrs. Roland Alston will entertain at luncheon Thursday at her home, "Roan Cliff," in compliment to Mrs. George White, of Brooklyn, who arrives Wednesday to be her guest.

Art Exhibition.

Miss Louise Mellichamp, of 595 Piedmont avenue, will exhibit her paintings of western scenes at her home this afternoon between 3 and 6 o'clock. She especially invites all the members of the Atlanta Art association and the members of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R.

Drama League.

Mrs. Merrill Hutchinson will read "Children of Earth," the famous American prize play, at the meeting of the drama league this afternoon at the Georgian Terrace at 3 o'clock. The selection of this play for the second reading of the season has attracted widespread attention, and the majority of Atlantans will be given their first opportunity to hear one of the most widely discussed dramas of recent years. It will be remembered that in 1913 Winthrop Ames offered a prize of $10,000 for the best play to be submitted anonymously by an American author. Nearly 1,700 manuscripts were received, and out of this immense number the judges, Augustus Thomas, Adolph Klauber and Winthrop Ames, awarded the prize to "Children of Earth," by Alice Brown, the well-known New England story writer. Last winter, Mr. Ames produced the play at the Booth theater, New York, and it received glowing tributes from the critics. Mr. Richard Burton, when in Atlanta last spring, declared it to be one of the finest productions which he had ever seen.

The Drama league, under Mrs. Emma Garrett Boyd's capable direction, has brilliant prospects for an eminently successful season.

MEETINGS

Woman's Pioneer Society will meet 3 o'clock this afternoon, October 19, at Phillips & Crew Co., to consider the acceptance of invitation to participate in the exercises of the Harvest ball. All members are requested to attend.

The Wednesday Morning Study class will meet with Mrs. L. E. Barton, 210 St. Charles avenue, Wednesday morning at 10:30.

Mrs. G. Cornwallis West (Mrs. Patrick Campbell) is at the Georgian Terrace.

Highway Commission For Georgia Planned By Chamber Members

The engineering committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will meet this morning to consider the need of a state highway commission with the view of bringing it to the attention of the county commissioners of Georgia when they hold their annual convention here November 18. The chamber of commerce has been working for establishment of such a commission and introduced a bill to that purpose in the last legislature.

MISSIONARY ALLIANCE WILL MEET NOVEMBER 7

Beginning November 7 and ending November 14, the Christian and Missionary alliance will hold its annual district convention at the Alliance tabernacle, 79 Capitol avenue. It will be attended by delegates and visitors from the states composing the southern district, which extends from the Potomac and Ohio rivers to the Rio Grande. The principal speakers will be Dr. A. B. Simpson and Rev. E. J. Richards, of New York; Rev. F. H. Rossiter, of North Carolina; Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Forrest, of Toccoa, Ga., and Rev. R. A. Belsham, of Atlanta, and two missionaries from China, Rev. Forrest Carter and Miss Elizabeth Lewis.

COMPTON WILL SPEAK TO ROTARIANS TODAY

At the regular semi-monthly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club today at 1 o'clock at the Piedmont hotel, Russell Compton will be the principal speaker. He will talk on present business conditions as viewed by a southern manufacturer.

Other interesting features have been arranged by the committee for today's meeting, and a large attendance of the membership is expected. E. H. Cone, who has been appointed chairman of the committee on the 1916 convention at Cincinnati, has already begun working for a big delegation from the Atlanta club.

The monthly Rotary bulletin, which is just off the press and announces today's meeting, contains a map showing Rotary extension work in this section of the southeast, and shows that Georgia has five Rotary clubs, at Rome, Atlanta, Augusta, Macon and Savannah, while Florida has two and Alabama has three.

ENDEAVOR SOCIETIES TO MEET THIS EVENING

The Christian Endeavor societies of Atlanta will hold a union meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at the Harris Street Presbyterian church.

The number of Endeavor societies of the city has almost doubled in the last eighteen months, there now being over twenty in the city union. Birmingham is the only southern city with a larger number of societies than Atlanta and local Endeavorers intend to hold the first place by January 1.

Music will be furnished by the Endeavor orchestra of the North Avenue and Westminster Presbyterian churches and a special song service will be conducted by R. E. Mell. Addresses will be made by Rev. G. R. Buford, of the Moore Memorial church and by J. R. Regnas.

METHODIST STEWARDS HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

Tonight at 7 o'clock the stewards of the various Methodists churches of the city meet at Grace church by invitation of that church. The ladies have prepared a very sumptuous luncheon, which will be served in the basement of the church.

After the luncheon the stewards will then return to the auditorium, where several short addresses on Methodist hymns will be made by W. C. Mansfield, Gordon Moore and W. C. Conway.

After these addresses, Perry Bloodworth, the secretary of the association, will deliver an address on "The Church Services." Mr. Bloodworth has been secretary of this association for several years and is extremely popular with the members. His address will doubtless be received with interest, on account of his long connection with the church and his familiarity with the association. The other officers of the association are James L. Mayson, president, and Wheeler Mangum, vice president.

20,000 FOLKS ATTENDED DONALDSONVILLE FAIR

Bainbridge, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Decatur county is to have an exhibit at the Georgia-Florida fair in Valdosta. The best of the exhibits shown at the Southwest Georgia fair, in Donaldsonville last week, will be sent to Valdosta and entered there. The display will be in charge of J. T. Pittman, farm demonstration agent of this county, and John Melton, of Donaldsonville.

Over 20,000 people attended the Southwest Georgia fair at Donaldsonville and the exhibit that will be taken to Valdosta has already been passed on by that number as a prize winner.

W. O. W. Unveil Monument.

Bainbridge, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Holly camp, No. 28, Woodmen of the World, unveiled a monument here Sunday afternoon over the grave of Sovereign Willa Glenn Mathis. The local camp was assisted by District Organizer Woodruff, of Macon, and the uniform rank degree team of Blakely, commanded by Captain Underwood. Over 200 Woodmen paraded to the cemetery and joined in the impressive ceremony.

All-Star Cast in "Robin Hood," Wednesday and Thursday. Seats now.

East Lake Dinner-Dances Wednesday and Saturday

The Athletic club announces that the midweek dinner-dances are changed from Thursday to Wednesday night, beginning this week. The regular Saturday night affairs will continue as usual. Both entertainments formed a gay feature of the summer social life and are meeting with so much enthusiasm now that they have been transferred from the terrace to the spacious dancing floor indoors.

Miss Almeta Petit Is Entered By Augusta for Harvest Queen

Augusta has entered the queen contest of the Georgia Harvest Festival, W. M. Moseley having wired in Monday afternoon the name of Miss Almeta Petit, of that city, as the candidate who will make the race throughout the state to try and carry the honors of the contest to Augusta. Mrs. Evelyn Vaughan is the Augusta manager of the contest.

Reports received late Monday from Rome and Athens indicated that the voting in these two towns started off Monday morning with a rush, and it is evident that the candidates from these two Georgia cities will run a "scared" race from start to finish. "We are in it to win for Rome," said Miss Bessie Moore, the manager of the contest at that place.

Mr. Moseley, the manager of the contest, will spend tomorrow in Savannah and the next day in Brunswick, and it is understood that two candidates are already in the field at Brunswick.

Several calls for voting boxes came in to headquarters Monday from points in Atlanta not already supplied, which indicates that even this early in the game Atlanta is not intending to allow the other towns to get too much headway.

Early next week the chaperon and patronnesses of the various balls will be named, and on Sunday the first official standing of the candidates will be announced.

PRIZES ARE OFFERED FOR BEST SINGERS IN OPERA COMPANY

It might be interesting to note that the day has passed when the boys and girls of the chorus of many of the larger traveling organizations idly while away their spare time in joy rides and late suppers, thereby losing much of the time necessary for perfect rest in order to feel thoroughly able to give their best efforts toward making a performance successful in every way.

Many managers, keen to the realization of what a poor performance means, have struck upon different plans with which to interest those in their employ, such as golf clubs, riding clubs and, in fact, all healthy outdoor sports, in the hope that between the exercises and work combined each day may be spent to the benefit of all concerned and when the performance was over at night, each and every member would be ready for a good sleep, such as comes naturally and not from exhaustion.

James Stevens and Ivy Scott, of the "Robin Hood" company, however, have struck upon a plan that not only improves each member of the company physically, thus insuring the strength of a great singing chorus, but improves each and every member of the club vocally.

At the beginning of the seaosn both Mr. Stevens and Miss Scott organized their choral clubs, Miss Scott taking the ladies and Mr. Stevens the men. Every day on which the company is not traveling or has a matinee each battalion may be seen taking a two or three-mile hike after an hour's good hard lesson with the scales and perfect breathing. The boys and girls seem to enjoy it, and there is not one of them who is not striving hard to capture the prizes which the management has offered to the most proficient at the end of the season.

How She Acquired "Feminine Charm"

A nicely-dressed woman sat beside me in the train. Everyone stared at her. It was not her beauty of feature that held our eyes, nor her costume. But there was something about her face and expression—I risked it and asked: "Would you mind telling me how you keep your complexion so dazzlingly pure? Don't think me impertinent, but you seem over 30, yet haven't a line in your face, and your cheeks are quite peach-like. How do you do it?"

Laughing, she said: "That's easy; I remove my skin. Sounds shocking, doesn't it? But listen. Instead of cosmetics I use only pure mercolized wax, procurable at any druggist's. I apply this nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings. This gently absorbs the soiled, weather-beaten film-skin, without pain or discomfort, thus revealing the fresh, clear under-skin. Every woman has a beautiful complexion underneath, you know. Then, to ward off wrinkles I use a face bath made by dissolving powdered saxolite (one ounce) in one-half pint witch hazel—a harmless astringent which 'tones' the skin wonderfully. Very simple, isn't it?" I thought so. I'm now trying her plan and like it immensely. —Millicent Brown in The Story Teller.

SERIES OF LUNCHEONS PLANNED BY CHAMBER

Senator Hoke Smith will speak at a luncheon of the members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, which will be held in the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce building Wednesday, October 27. This will be the first of a series of luncheons to be held by the chamber's membership on the second Wednesday of each month. Various prominent men will speak on subjects engaging public attention.

Soft, Curly, Wavy Hair Now Easy to Have

(Woman's Realm)

Beautiful, fluffy, natural-looking curls or waves, without the use of the ruinous curling iron, are now possible for every woman. Yes, not only possible, but very easily acquired over night, and with benefit to the life and health of the hair. It is only necessary to apply a little liquid silmerine before retiring, using a clean tooth brush for the purpose, drawing this down to full length of the tresses from root to tip. In the morning the hair will have a most delightful curliness and lustre, without the least suggestion of grease or stickiness, and will be quite controllable, no matter how the hair is done up.

As liquid silmerine is procurable at any drug store and as a few ounces of it will last for months, no woman need put up with that flat, lank, dank appearance of the hair which gives such an unwholesome look of plainness to most faces.

DR. PICKARD TO PREACH AT THE FIRST BAPTIST

Next Sunday at the First Baptist church at 11 and 8 o'clock Rev. W. L. Pickard, D. D., president of Mercer university, will preach. Dr. Daniel, the pastor, is absent from the city. Dr. Pickard is one of the ablest and most eloquent ministers in the Baptist denomination. He has preached occasionally in Atlanta and always charms the thousands who crowd the church to hear him. His style is peculiarly entertaining, combining the masterful delivery of the old-time pulpit orators with a thorough up-to-dateness in learning and research. Dr. Pickard has filled pastorates in Louisville, Cleveland, Savannah and other cities.

DR. BRICKER TO SPEAK TO LOCAL SUFFRAGISTS

Rev. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the First Christian church, will address the suffragists of the city at a meeting of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association on Wednesday afternoon at the Hotel Ansley.

NEGRO CONFEDERATE BURIED WITH HONORS

Little Rock, Ark., October 18.—"Major" Stone, said to be the only negro member of the United Confederate Veterans organization, was given a full military funeral at Batesville yesterday. The "Major" died Friday.

When Company K, of the Arkansas rifles, was organized, Jeff Stone joined it. With Stone was a negro servant called "Major." Stone was promoted to a captaincy, but at the batle of Chickamauga was killed. Through a rain of bullets, risking death at every step, the negro carried his master's body into the confederate lines. For this act he was permitted to join the Batesville camp.

RED PIMPLES ON SCALP LIMBS

And Back. Itching and Burning. Much Loss of Sleep. Hair Came Out.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"The first visible appearance of my trouble was the falling out of my hair, which came out when combed. The scalp then began to itch, and was irritated and covered with small, red pimples which also appeared on the lower limbs, and on the small of my back. This caused a great deal of itching and a burning sensation, and much loss of sleep. My hair came out gradually and it became thin, lifeless and dry.

"I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The result was so satisfactory that I purchased more. I am now entirely healed." (Signed) R. E. L. Neil, 122 Logan Ave., Knoxville, Tenn., March 22, 1915.

MILLIONAIRES ACCUSED OF UNLAWFUL METHODS

Government Attorney Severe in Arraigning Directors of the New Haven.

New York, October 18.—The alleged unlawful methods by which the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company is charged with having secured a monopolistic grip on New England transportation traffic were set forth today by Robert L. Batts, government official, in opening the government's case at the trial of William Rockefeller, Lewis Cass Ledyard and Edward D. Robbins and eight other past and present directors of the road for alleged conspiracy to violate the Sherman law.

Suits to force the foreclosure of competing railroads, secret acquisitions of stock, the incorporation of dummy companies for the sole purpose of concealing ownership of rail and steamship lines taken over, fictitious sales of securities to deceive the authorities of Massachusetts as to their actual ownership, the use of money to obtain control of a Boston newspaper and to secure favorable legislation, sacrifice of millions of dollars of stockholders' money in acquiring competing properties, the burning of books and the transfer of records to Canada, beyond the jursdiction of the federal authorities—these were some of the acts alleged by the federal attorney as having been committed by the New Haven directors, "with criminal intent and with full knowledge that they were unlawful."

Natural Growth Not Opposed.

Mr. Batts emphasized that had the New Haven combination been attained in the natural and legitimate growth of business, it might not necessarily have come within the scope of monopolistic corporations, which the Sherman law was intended to reach. But the law was designed not only to protect the public from the destruction of healthful competition, but to protect the stockholders and the railroads themselves from becoming the victims of unfair methods. It was the method used by the New Haven in driving its competitors out of business, sacrificing the money of stockholders and bringing about a situation "where every person doing business in New England, every enterprise was at the mercy of a powerful combination," that the Sherman law was intended to punish.

All these alleged offenses the attorney outlined in a general way, and then, using a map showing the ten principal New England railroads that operated independently in 1890, traced the history of their acquisition.

Mr. Batts accused William Rockefeller of having, with other directors, acted so that the New York and New England was forced into a foreclosure.

J. P. Morgan & Co., he said, was used as a means of concealing the ownership of stock of the Old Colony Steamboat company at a time when the New Haven's attempt to acquire it was being inquired into by the Massachusetts authorities. The Morgan firm gave a note for the stock that bore no interest, he said, and kept it in their possession long enough for the president of the Old Colony railroad, the new subsidiary of the New Haven, to say that the railroad did not own it.

Illegal Schemes Devised.

At the door of Edward D. Robbins, the former general counsel for the New Haven, the federal attorney laid the alleged unlawful devising of schemes whereby the control of steamship companies could be secretly acquired. Robbins, he said, made use in a single day of three banks and various dummy corporations and individuals in the manipulating back and forth of the sum of $1,500,000, used eventually in buying the Metropolitan Steamship company.

In 1905 Charles F. Brooker, one of the defendants, called attention to the fact, said Mr. Batts, of the "danger" of resumption of Connecticut river traffic in competition with the New Haven beyond Hartford, "and the New Haven officials expressed their belief that they could prevent the passage of congressional resolutions that would open the river."

William Rockefeller followed the trial today with apparently more watchful interest than any of the other defendants. While the government attorney was using the map, the aged millionaire occasionally rose to his feet to get a better view. Leaning on his cane he would stand for several minutes watching every move of the attorney's pointer. Mr. Rockefeller also took occasion today to introduce himself to the federal attorney and engaged with him in seemingly amiable conversation.

Mr. Batts will continue his address tomorrow.

SUBMARINE SINKS SHIP; SEVENTY-ONE LIVES LOST

Paris, October 18.—The Marseilles correspondent of The Petit Journal, telegraphed that the sailboat Eugene Pereire has arrived there with thirty-three members of the crew of the French steamship Amiral-Hamelin, which was sunk by a submarine. A previous report from the Havas correspondent said that seventy-one person on board the steamer lost their lives.

The Amiral-Hamelin was under government requisition. According to The Petit Journal correspondent, she was torpedoed by an Austrian submarine without notice and while passengers and crew were being transferred to the boats the submarine bombarded the steamer which was struck by forty shells.

The captain of the submarine asserted as justification of his attack that the steamer was armed, but this is denied by the correspondent. Six of the crew were wounded by the bombardment. The sound of firing drew a French torpedo boat and an English hospital ship to the spot and the wounded and many fugitives were taken aboard by these vessels. The submarine fled at their approach, after firing two torpedoes into the Amiral-Hamelin and sinking her.

COFFEE DWARFS CHILDREN PHYSICALLY--MENTALLY

Prominent school workers assert coffee drinking school children are undersize, underweight and backward in studies.

The State Board of Health of Texas has been making inquiries into the effects of coffee upon school children. "Children who drink coffee for breakfast," says one report, "come to school exhilarated, they work strenuously in the morning, and are overflowing with energy and vitality, BUT THEY DO NOT LAST under the school routine; they become fatigued more quickly than the other pupils, and by the close of school in the afternoon they are exhausted to the point of stupidity. They are nervous and therefore unstable in their deportment."

It has also been found by other investigators that "children who drank coffee averaged from one and one-half to more than four pounds less in weight, and from one-half inch to more than one inch less in height, than the children who abstained from coffee. They were also found to have an average of three pounds less in hand strength than the children who never drank coffee."

NOTE—Many parents have found it to their children's advantage to give them Instant Postum as the hot morning beverage instead of coffee. This delicious food-drink resembles coffee in looks and flavor, but is entirely free from the disturbing coffee drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

40,000 Atlantans Become Young Again at Big Circus

By Britt Craig.

A circus press agent—although there is an army of "good fellows" in the profession—is the most flamboyant wielder of the pen of his entire profession. As a rule publicity men for all theatrical and other amusement are taken at somewhere near half their word; beg pardon, copy.

But for once I put sincere belief in the word of a press agent—the representative of the Barnum & Bailey circus, which showed to around 40,000 people Monday afternoon and last night with the biggest, most stupendous attractions of its long career.

If anything, he underestimated the worth of his performance. He could have taken every superlative to be found in all the dictionaries, shaken them, and spilled them out on copy paper, and then fallen short of his descriptive duty.

I will make no attempt to describe the show in detail, but there are a few things I must say about Bird Millman, queen of the tight-wire, who took New York by storm when she headlined the Hippodrome's stupendous show last season, and about that band, and some of the other amazing things that stirred the overjoyed 20,000 present last night into continued applause.

Pretty Bird Millman is one of the big features of the show. Her tango upon the steel strand was better than any vaudeville dancer has performed on stage this or any other season in Atlanta. You forgot your troubles and wondered how she mastered it.

And that band! It was augmented by the steam calliope, a superb musical instrument, admired by all last night.

You recognized among its repertoire of selections every topical and classical aria you had heard since the year 1, and you can gather a faint idea of its volume when I tell you that it could be distinctly heard in all parts of the tent, fully a half-mile in circumference.

Barnum & Bailey brought a galaxy of artists this year that shows they have spared no "pains or expense" (to quote the press agent) to gather material from "even the remotest parts of the globe." The aerial performances thrill you; the clowns—and there is an army of them—bring roars of laughter; the tight-wire and the equestrienne performers amaze you, and you sit bewildered all the way from 8:15 o'clock until somewhere around 10 at the happenings in the gigantic phantasy that starts with a rush and a bang, continues so, and ends likewise.

Like Arabs, Barnum & Bailey folded their tents and stole away before the first flush of this morning's dawn.

So much the loss for those who didn't revert to youth again by seeing them.

Mrs. Jennie Bruce Dies; Funeral to Take Place At Home at 3 O'Clock

Mrs. Jennie H. Bruce, aged 77, wife of A. C. Bruce, a retired architect, died Monday at her residence, 327 North Boulevard. The funeral will be held from the residence Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Bruce, whose maiden name was Jennie H. Hagan, was born and raised near Nashville, Tenn. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce were married in Nashville November 2, 1865. She was a member of the First Baptist church for many years. Later she allied herself with the Jackson Hill Baptist church.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Bruce is survived by one son, W. H. Bruce; one daughter, Mrs. B. F. Cobb; two grandchildren, Misses Bruce and Marie Bruce Cobb.

Body of C. J. Parker, Killed in Copper Hill, Brought to Atlanta

The body of Charles J. Parker, aged 26, was was shot to death in Copper Hill, Tenn., was brought to Atlanta yesterday for burial. He was the son of the late J. A. Parker, who was widely known as a bailiff in Judge Orr's court for many years.

According to reports a fight arose on the streets of Copper Hill Saturday night, following a disputed decision in a popularity contest. Young Parker was accidentally shot by one of the rioters while passing by on his way home from a neighboring town, where he had fulfilled a vaudeville engagement.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. A. Parker, and one brother, Hayden Parker, both of Atlanta. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Greenberg & Bond, Rev. C. V. Weathers officiating. Interment will follow in West View.

WIRELESS OPERATORS TAKING STRIKE VOTE

New York, October 18.—A strike vote is being taken by 400 wireless telegraph operators, members of the Atlantic coast district of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, according to announcement today.

"The operators have been getting from $25 to $50 a month and the sentiment among them is for a wage scale of $50 to $75," George Schnatsinctz, a union official, declared. He added that a strike would tie up 65 per cent of the Atlantic coast and Trans-Atlantic shipping.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS DEDICATE NEW TEMPLE

Washington, October 18.—The new $2,000,000 Masonic temple, headquarters of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Free Masonry for the southern jurisdiction of the United States, which also is called the Mother Council of the World, was dedicated here today with elaborate ceremonies and in the presence of a large assemblage of distinguished Masons from many parts of the country.

The stately structure fashioned after the famous mausoleum erected for King Mausolus by Queen Artemisia at Halicarnassus—one of the seven wonders of the ancient world—is unique among the many magnificent buildings in the national capital. It has been under construction since 1911 when ground was broken. It stands on Sixteenth street about one mile from the white house on the capital's finest boulevard and in a section of the city where many of the nation's most celebrated public men have lived during their public service in Washington.

Preceding the dedication ceremonies, Lieutenant Grand Commander Rosenbaum, as its chairman and on behalf of the executive committee in charge of the structure, formally presented the new temple to Sovereign Grand Commander Moore, by whom the oration of the day was delivered. The grand commander was attended by the camp guard of Arkansas consistory, of Little Rock, Ark.

Among Masons from other jurisdictions present were Sovereign Grand Commander Benjamin Allen of Canada, Leon Abbott, lieutenant grand commander, and Sovereign Grand Inspectors General James H. Codding, secretary general; Harry J. Guthrie of Delaware, James B. Krause of Pennsylvania, Charles T. Gallagher and Frederick W. Hamilton of Massachusetts, Robert A. Shirrefs of New Jersey and George W. Currier of New Hampshire.

COMPROMISE OFFER REJECTED BY STRIKERS

Schenectady, N. Y., October 18.—Representatives of the 13,000 striking employees of the General Electric company tonight voted to reject a compromise offer made by the plant. The workers struck when their demand for an eight-hour day was refused.

The compromise would have called for a 5 per cent increase in wages now, with a nine and a half hour day and another 5 per cent increase in one year and a nine-hour day.

AIRSHIP DROPS BOMBS ON A SWISS VILLAGE

Chaux Des Fonds, Switzerland, October 18.—(Via Paris.)—A foreign aeroplane passed yesterday afternoon over this town, which is near the French border, and dropped three bombs. One adult and one child were wounded.

Berne, Switzerland, October 18.—(Via London.)—Three grown persons and one child were gravely injured, according to government reports of the bomb throwing by a foreign aviator flying over the Swiss town of Chaux Des Fonds. The government has ordered an inquiry into the occurence and will renew protests to the belligerent countries against violations of Swiss territory by aeroplanists.

HE GAVE HIS OWN LIFE TO SAVE HIS SOLDIERS

Heroic Deed of Major Roy, of the Canadian Contingent in France.

Ottawa, Ontario, October 18.—A thrilling incident of recent fighting in the Arras sector in northern France, in which members of the Canadian contingent were engaged, is described in an official communication received from the Canadian headquarters in France by Sir Samuel Hughes.

"On October 6," says the account, "Major A. J. Roy was standing in a trench issuing orders to a company sergeant and others. The enemy trench mortar shells were falling in the vicinity. Brigadier General Watson, Quebec, had just passed along the trench when a mortar shell feil into the trench a few feet from Major Roy and his men.

"The shell did not burst on impact, and, rushing toward it, Major Roy bent down with the object of seizing it and throwing it over the parapet to save the lives of those near him. Before he could grasp it, the projectile exploded, inflicting wounds from which Major Roy died. His gallant self-sacrifice has been specially reported by his brigade and divisional commander."

"At one point two German officers led a party through a crater. One was blown to bits by our bombers and the other rolled back into the crater. The party then withdrew.

"A party of the enemy next reached our parapet and attempted to effect a permanent lodgment, but was driven off with fixed bayonets. Our companies maintained their parapets and maintained a controlled fire wherever the enemy showed himself. The slight damage to our parapets was speedily repaired.

"The Twenty-second battalion, under Colonel Gaudet, of Montreal, and the Twenty-eighth battalion, under Colonel Embury, regina, displayed great coolness in dealing with the surprise attack which consistently failed completely.

"On the afternoon of October 13 a demonstration was carried out all along our front. Our artillery fire was effective both against the enemy's wire and parapets. While the enemy's supports were being brought up they were subjected to heavy fire.

"At one point under cover of smoke a party of thirty men, under Major W. R. Brown, of the Twenty-sixth battalion; Colonel McAvity, St. John, commanding, accompanied by Lieutenants C. Fairweather, Twenty-sixth battalion, and McPhee, Canadian engineers, left our trench to examine a crater close to the German parapet. An enemy bombardment was in progress and heavy rifle and machine gun fire was opened on the party. Major Brown was wounded, but continued to direct operations. The crater was entered and rendered untenable to the enemy and then evacuated."

MARRIAGE ON SKATES WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

A marriage on skates will be the unique feature at the Casino skating rink this evening at 9:30 o'clock. The contracting couple will be the two professional skaters who attracted so much attention by their performances yesterday. Jack G. Williams, of Denver, Colo., and Miss Mary Dieswore, of Gulfport, Miss.

The entire affair has been arranged by Mrs. John W. Alexander, chairman of the house committee of the First Christian church, and the proceeds of the day will be for the benefit of that church. Rev. Bricker, the pastor, will officiate at the wedding.

AMERICAN NEUTRALITY SUSPECTED BY GERMAN

Berlin, October 18.—(Via London.)—George Bernhard, editor of The Vossische Zeitung continues today his weekly discussion of matters relating to Germany and the United States. He reviews the case of Dr. Constantin Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, who was recalled by his government—the ambassador's letter to Secretary of State Lansing having just been published here—and draws the conclusion that Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador at Washington, also is having difficulty in communicating with his government, because his official report on the Arabic negotiations has not yet been made public.

After declaring that Dr. Dumba's letter, "belongs to the most sensational written revelations in this all-too sensational war," Herr Bernhard says: "These reports of the ambassador throw a new and most suspicious light on the neutrality of the United States." After lengthy speculation as to whether Von Bernstorff's messages are being held up, as Dr. Dumba's are alleged to have been, the writer declares:

"It appears to be urgently necessary to secure an explanation as to how America is fulfilling toward the German ambassador the obligation described by international law."

Count von Reventlow devotes a column in The Tages Zeitung to the American naval program, and says:

"It is significant that the United States is carefully watching the present war, and, notwithstanding the submarine successes, has decided on the construction of sixteen huge battleships."

German Patrol Boat Destroyed

London, October 18.—A German mine patrol boat has been blown up in the Baltic sea and her crew of ten men are missing, says a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph. The disaster adds that wreckage of the boat has been found at Marstal.

Assets of Knights of Honor.

St. Louis, October 18.—The assets of the supreme lodge, Knights of Honor, a national fraternal insurance organization, are approximately $300,000 less than its liabilities, according to a report on the financial condition of the order filed in federal court today by Charles A. Houts, receiver.

CHARLTON ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF WIFE

Como, Italy, October 18.—(Via Paris.)—When the case of Porter Charlton, the American charged with murdering his wife, was called today Signor Cataneo asked for a further postponement to give Miceli Picardi, Charlton's chief counsel, who is indisposed, further time to study the case.

Baron Sciacca, the presiding judge, reserved decision on the motion, and began trial in parts of the case wherein a defense is not necessary.

Baron Sciacca later rendered a decision refusing consent to a postponement of the trial, saying that he considered the presence of Signor Cataneo, of Charlton's counsel, sufficient to protect the interests of the accused.

The court thereupon immediately proceeded to interrogate Charlton. The prisoner spoke for about an hour, giving a complete account of his life from the time he met Mary Scott, whom he married, and of whose murder he is accused, up to the time the crime was committed.

Charlton spoke in Italian, but, owing to the difficulty he had in finding the proper words with which to express himself, the court frequently helped him out.

Charlton was attacked with a fainting fit during the progress of the interrogation and was obliged to retire from the court room. When he returned Baron Sciacca continued the inquiry.

The public is being excluded from the court room because of the nature of the testimony.

Part of the afternoon sitting was taken up in an examination of the trunk in which the woman's body was found, the hammer with which Charlton struck down his wife, and various household articles.

The reports of experts will deal with the question as to whether the woman's death was caused by blows or was due to other causes and whether death occurred before or after the body was placed in the trunk.

SUSPICIOUS YACHT HELD BY COLOMBIA

Bogota, Colombia, October 18.—An American yacht from San Francisco with the name Academy painted over the name Ethel, and carrying an unusually large crew is detained by government authorities near Buena Ventura, a Colombian port on the Pacific.

According to the Colombian officials, the vessel's papers are irregular. The German name of the master of the ship, it is asserted, has been erased from the papers and an American name substituted.

Nothing was found on the yacht to indicate the crew's mission. The vessel will be detained until her legal status has been established.

Washington, October 18.—British agents recently reported they believed some yachts were being outfitted in California waters and on the Atlantic coast, to be manned by German crews to attack tank ships carrying fuel oil from Mexico for the British navy. Their report was followed by the disappearance of German sailors from the interned cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm in a yacht from Norfolk. A small yacht outfitted at Pensacola, Fla., also was the subject of investigation.

De Oro 3-Cushion Champion.

Chicago, October 18.—Alfred De Oro, of New York, again is world's champion at three-cushion billiards. "Fighting Bill" Huey, of Chicago, officially forfeited all claim to the title today when he returned the trophy emblematic of the championship to its donor.

LIFE OF CZAR NICHOLAS AT THE BATTLE FRONT

He Keeps in Close Touch With Conditions at All Points.

Petrograd, October 18.—The following authorized description of the emperor's life at the front has reached Petrograd:

"Headquarters has been established in a small two-story house in a White Russia city, the name of which is necessarily omitted. Emperor Nicholas occupies two rooms on the second floor—one as a bedroom and the other as an office. On the same floor are Minister of the Court General Baron Fredericks and Palace Commandant General Voekoff, each of whom occupies a single room. On the first floor are the emperor's physician and various persons of his suite. The number of servants has been cut to the minimum.

"Near the house, in governmental buildings and hotels, live Grand Dukes Cyril and Boric and Dmitri Pavlovitch and others of the temporary court.

"At 9 o'clock in the morning the emperor, attired in a field uniform, walks to the offices of the general staff, accompanied by one of his officers. With General Alexieff, chief of staff, the emperor reads the reports and issues orders until 1 p. m. He informs himself concerning the conditions on all parts of the immediate front, examines maps and discusses events. To luncheon in the emperor's quarters are invited the high military officials and the foreign military observers, altogether about ten. The luncheon is brief. No wine is served.

"After luncheon, the emperor chats with his guests. Two o'clock finds the emperor and General Alexieff again occupied with reports in the emperor's private office. In mid-afternoon the emperor motors for an hour or two and then returns to work until dinner is served at 7:30 o'clock. The dinner is of three courses and is less formal than the luncheon.

"At 9 o'clock in the evening, after brief conversation with his guests, the emperor returns to his office and works far into the night. General Alexieff frequently going there for a conference. The general staff works night and day."

The government of India will extend its wireless system until every army post has a station in charge of a trained officer.

S. S. S. Greatest Blood Remedy Gives Results When Others Fail

Nature's Remedy for Blood Troubles.

The purifying and curative properties of Nature's great remedy have made "S. S. S. for the Blood" a household saying. Thousands today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood purifier. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, which possess cleansing and healing ingredients. You cannot be well when your blood is impure; you lack strength and energy natural with health; your complexion becomes pale and sallow; your vitality is weakened. When waste or refuse matter, which Nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system, it is absorbed into the blood and boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin appear.

S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character. All skin diseases and eruptions pass away, and the smooth, clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, all are deep-seated blood disorders, and for their treatment nothing equals S. S. S. Get S. S. S. at any drug store. If yours is a peculiar case write S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

WARNED, FOR THE FUTURE!

We call attention to a very timely communication, published elsewhere on this page, in which F. V. L. Smith, ex-deputy fire marshal of Louisiana, comments upon Atlanta's recent tragic film fire, resulting in the death of three young women and the serious injury of several others.

Whatever may have been the cause of this fire, there can be no possible doubt that there would have been no tragedy had all possible sources of the trouble been safeguarded.

Possibly there has been no official negligence, and it appears that neither the owner of the building, nor of the business, had violated any municipal regulation; if this is true, then there has been extreme laxity in the establishment of such a system of regulation and control as will prevent the possibility of the recurrence of such a catastrophe.

If anything of this kind ever happens again in the city of Atlanta the responsibility will be placed directly upon somebody's shoulders. The warning has been served, and while no one may be criminally responsible for the recent tragedy, there will be a positive and direct accounting should there be another such loss from the same trouble.

So it behooves the city to get busy first in the matter of establishing regulations that will prevent the possibility of such an occurrence in future, and then it will be up to the inspection service to see to it that these regulations are observed in a manner that will insure positive protection to life and property.

ENGLISH INTERFERENCE.

English interference with American trade has long since become intolerable. First, neutral European ports were closed to our non-contraband cargoes, the cargoes were seized, carried into British ports and either condemned, as in the case of meat shipments, aggregating $15,000,000, or held with promise of payment, which has been long delayed. Next, cotton, in violation of all precedent and of international agreement, was declared contraband and subject to seizure, although bound for neutral ports, upon the mere suspicion that it might find its way to Germany. And now it is announced that even cotton manufactured goods are to be put under the same ban as the raw material, for fear that Germany may convert the textiles into the original state for use in the manufacture of explosives.

Now, England has gone a step further and has the audacity to use the very neutral ports from which she has excluded American trade, for the extension of her own commerce, although increases in American shipments to these ports were used by England as evidence of their unneutral character.

Consul General Skinner, representing the United States in London, has become persona non grata to the British government because he reported to Washington true figures showing the increase of British traffic to the very ports which Britain had closed to American trade. It was the pernicious and sometimes malevolent British censorship that discovered Mr. Skinner's reports, and because England did not like to be shown up in her true light, Mr. Skinner must, perforce, come home.

British censorship, according to apparently authentic report, has gone even further than that, and has actually turned over to British merchants American cable orders destined for merchants in other European countries—orders which were not allowed to go through at all, and which the merchants for whom they were intended never heard of.

It would seem, in view of these facts, that there is a far more sinister and selfish purpose back of the British orders in council against American cargoes than merely the effort to achieve a more speedy victory over an enemy. We can begin to see why British merchants and business men were quick to demand the closing of neutral ports to American commerce; why, also, they insisted upon the declaration of contraband against cotton.

The eyes of the Washington administration are no doubt open to the truth of the situation, which should lend force to the long promised demands to be submitted to Great Britain.

England is adding insult to injury by shutting us out of neutral European ports and then going after their trade herself. There is no more reason to assume that our products will find their way into Germany than will those English merchants are shipping them.

WAREHOUSE LEGISLATION.

Representative R. L. Shipp, of Colquitt county, presents a very interesting contribution to the cotton warehouse discussion, in the shape of a communication in this morning's Constitution. The system of cotton warehousing under state direction having been firmly established in South Carolina, Representative Shipp is correct in his statement that if Georgia follows in the establishment of a safe and an adequate system, every one of the other cotton states must do likewise.

Thus it is that the general assembly at its approaching extra session will have before it, in the consideration of this measure, one of the most important questions that has been before any general assembly of this state for many years.

The first and foremost consideration in the enactment of warehouse legislation will be in the strength and security of the receipts issued against stored cotton. These receipts must be as good as gold, must be first lien against the cotton they represent, and must contain every surrounding assurance that will satisfy the holder that the receipt is as good as the bale of cotton for which it stands. No system will be satisfactory that makes a receipt of the small country town less secure than that issued in any city in the state. The system must not only be uniform in application, but absolutely so in administration and in the strength of every receipt issued.

It is a very simple proposition if it is worked out along business lines, and if business rather than politics is the controlling factor in the making of such legislation as may be enacted.

A loosely drawn, ineffective measure will be worse than none at all. The right kind of a warehouse law—one fully protecting the owner of the cotton stored and at the same time offering absolute security to those who hold receipts as collateral—will be a boon to every cotton grower in the state.

FOR ATLANTA'S FIREMEN.

It is seldom that Atlanta's firemen ask anything of Atlanta's citizens; they have never "passed the hat" or sought public subscriptions for any purpose. Voluntary subscriptions have occasionally been raised for the family of some fireman killed in the discharge of his duty, but not on the request or at the suggestion of associates of the victim.

The Atlanta firemen who die calmly and peacefully at home, and who are as heroic and ready as any, depend solely upon their associates for assistance to their families when they are gone. This is provided for through the Atlanta Firemen's Benevolent association, supported by monthly membership dues and assessments in case of death. In this way practically 200 firemen take care of their own insurance.

For about the third or fourth time in its history of more than a quarter of a century the association is planning an entertainment from which it hopes to supplement its funds and revive somewhat a treasury that is taxed to its limit in meeting sick and death benefits and paying insurance claims. It proposes to take advantage of the Georgia Harvest Festival season for this purpose, and the firemen promise something that will be well worth seeing. It is not to be questioned that they will carry out their promises.

The Constitution bespeaks the support and assistance of Atlantans for the fire department members in this enterprise. Every one will agree that they are entitled to it, and we believe they will have it. This is all the association has ever asked of Atlantans, and all they propose to ask.

The city neither pensions firemen, nor supports even in smallest degree their protective association. This they take care of themselves. To those who help make successful their harvest festival show the members of the department will be profoundly grateful.

No doubt at all that some presidential candidates "are on the quiet"—so quiet, in fact, there's not a hurrah to disturb them.

It will take ten years of peaceful work for Mexico to figure out just what her revolutions have cost her.

Villa's men might "turn their swords into plowshares" if they were not mortally opposed to plowing.

The canal will have to stay where it is, now that Goethals has decided to slide in again.

Does the sending of Grand Duke Nicholas to the front foreshadow another "strategic retreat?"

The Old-Time Circus Feeling.
(As the Old Colonel Sees It.)

I.

Sometimes I get to thinkin' of the old-time circus clown;
Like to be a boy again and follow him aroun';
The old-time one-ring circus—I'd like to see it, too,
Where the friendly old performers were on speakin' terms with you!

II.

I know it's gone forever, with its store of fun unrolled,
Yet the old-time circus "feelin'" it is never growin' old;
And you just say, "It's circus day," you'll see me take my stand,
Or following, just like a boy, the wagon with the band.

III.

That old-time circus feelin'—it makes you young and spry;
You clean forget that Time himself's the circus passin' by!
A boy is standin' at your side, and takes you by the hand,
And leads you through dream-meadows to the old-time circus land!

THE LIGHT OF HOPE.

By Lowry Axley.
(For The Constitution.)

I put my frail bark on the sea
Afearful lest perchance it be Asunder torn;
The wild waves beat and lash the foam,
The frail bark from its sheltered home
Is cast forlorn.

No light sweeps o'er the darkened way,
No star's effulgent gleam, nor ray,
Breaks o'er the path;
Naught but the dark which looms ahead
And angry sea which wakens dread
By its dire wrath.

Yet there's a Light that's stronger far
Than light which comes from moon or star
That bids me cope
With dangers that obscure the goal —
A Light which fires the heart and soul—
A Light of Hope.

Mr. Shipp of Colquitt, Author of the Warehouse Bill, Discusses the Question

Editor Constitution: The governor has included as one of the measures to be considered at the extra session of the legislature the warehouse bill. For many reasons it is appropriate that he did so. If, however, anyone gains the impression from his doing so that it is a temporary measure, he is in error.

While necessarily any bill of this importance will have defects in it, this measure should be carefully considered.

In the opinion of the writer those back of the measure should frankly state that while there is no intention to hurt any other business, the bill should be drawn distinctly in the interest of the cotton producer.

In order for the farmer to get the full benefit of such a law it is necessary that the bill be so drawn that the receipts issued by the smallest warehouse under this system will have the same force and effect as if they were issued by the larger warehouses in Augusta, Savannah, Macon or the Candler warehouse in Atlanta. The receipts should be of such character that if the local banks refuse to handle them, or refuse to lend money on them at sufficiently low rate of interest, the holder of the receipts could send them out of the state and to the money centers and get money at a satisfactory rate of interest. It is utterly impossible to do this unless the bill provides that the receipts, when presented, will secure the cotton, regardless of all other antagonistic claims, or else secure its equivalent in cash, should the cotton have been destroyed by fire or by stealth.

Lines That Must Be Followed.

In order to attain this end, it will be absolutely necessary that some one central power be vested with entire authority to see after the insurance against fire on the cotton, and to see to the proper bonding of those who handle the cotton. If each warehouse is allowed to issue its own insurance, this will make the insurance so costly as to be burdensome, and so uncertain that no one would care to handle the receipts except the local bank, or some person situated in that particular locality; whereas, if all the insurance is handled by the state commissioner, the policies of insurance can be arranged to cover all the cotton stored in all of the warehouses in the state (blanket policies) and each day the keeper of any particular warehouse can report to the state warehouse commissioner the amount of insurance to be adjusted in that way.

In the event that the insurance companies now doing business in the state of Georgia should charge too high a rate, the state warehouse commissioner could secure this insurance from other companies, or from those companies now writing trans-Atlantic insurance.

I also think that those of us who are friendly to giving the farmers a better warehouse bill should frankly state that we intend for this bill to localize cotton—let it stay, as far as practicable, in the country towns, and not concentrate it in the cities, as it has been in the past. This and other features of the bill will bring on opposition, but we had as well fight it out now as later.

The bill should, as far as practicable, divorce the institution from politics, and to that end it seems to be it would be wise to let the governor appoint a board of directors, or trustees—say one from each congressional district—and let this board have full charge and authority to elect a commissioner and put the system into force and effect. This board should be men of character and business standing, and composed of members directly interested in the cotton grower.

Reasonable Interest Rates.

While it is not the intention of the promoters of this measure, so far as I am advised, to put the state in the banking or warehouse business per se, yet it should be the duty of the warehouse commissioner to arrange with the banks, either locally or in New York, so that the cotton grower on placing his cotton in one of these warehouses could borrow money at a reasonable rate of interest, and in no event should this interest exceed 6 per cent per annum. Under a good warehouse system this will not be difficult. This will enable the cotton grower to hold his cotton and to sell it at an opportune time.

Some time back, under the leadership of Senator McLaurin, South Carolina passed a state warehouse law; while it is not all that Senator McLaurin desired, yet it was a long step in the right direction. The governor of South Carolina has recently, in an interview, indorsed this system. He, together with Senator McLaurin, is working to more nearly perfect it. Senator McLaurin has given more thought and study to this plan than has any other living man; while he is a large property holder and one of South Carolina's biggest farmers, he is giving practically all of his time and attention to perfecting this system in his state.

It is the belief of those interested in this matter that if Georgia, the Empire state of the south, will follow in the wake of South Carolina and adopt the warehouse system, that in a short while all of the cotton states will have such a system, and that then it will be, for the first time in its history, that the south will control the cotton situation. If this is done—that is, each cotton state organizes under a system of this kind—then the cotton manufacturer in Germany, England or other foreign country, desiring to buy cotton, can secure it directly from the producer through the state warehouse commissioners of the various states, thus not only giving the farmer the power to hold his cotton until an opportune time to sell, but also giving him the profits that are now being made by the middleman.

Weakness of Present System.

It is a fact that the south is the only part of the union that has an absolute monopoly on any of the great products necessary to the human race, and yet, as anomalous as it may seem, it is true that the southern cotton raiser is today the poorest off financially of any class of farmers in the union. Why is it? It is not because they do not work hard enough—for we have the longest working season of any people; it is not because they are not economical enough, because they enjoy as few of the luxuries of life as do any of the farmers in America; it is simply because we have no system of marketing our cotton.

I am glad that the farmers' union, at its recent meeting in Atlanta, gave evidence that it intends to do something about this matter. If the committee then appointed will meet in Atlanta at the beginning of the extra session and formulate a real farmers' warehouse bill and let it be known that they propose to stand behind it and give it their active support, such a bill can be put through, but if they do not do this, but leave the matter to other interests, then a real farmers' warehouse bill will not be enacted into law.

Our farmers should learn a lesson from the labor organizations. When they want a measure they go after it and get it. The farmers can do the same thing. I am sure that those of us who evinced interest in this measure during the last session of the legislature stand ready to co-operate in every way possible with such a movement.

At the last session of the legislature I introduced a bill along the lines as herein indicated. I would very much prefer, however, that the committee from the farmers' union would prepare a bill, to be known as their bill and not as my bill, and offer it in the legislature. If they will do this and we all get behind it we can either put it through at the extra session of the legislature or can work up such sentiment for it over the state that the representatives in the next legislature—particularly those from the rural districts—will not dare to vote against it.

ONE DIFFERENCE IN THE NUMBER OF RINGS, SAYS CITY HALL WAG

The city hall wag was at it again yesterday.

Somebody remarked that the "circus was in town."

"There are two circuses in town," said the wag. "You mustn't forget that council meets today. The only difference is that one is a three-ring circus."

ELECTION OF BOARD MEMBERS IS NOW TOPIC OF DISCUSSION

The election of board members is now under discussion around the city hall.

First comes the election of three members of the water board on the first Monday in December. Those whose terms expire are E. A. Wachendorff, first ward; F. B. Florence, second ward; A. J. Callaway, tenth ward.

Three members of the board of health are to be elected the first Monday in January. Those who terms expire are Dr. J. H. Bradfield, second ward; Dr. W. M. Etheridge, fifth ward; F. E. Maffett, tenth ward.

The term of C. G. Hannah, member of the park commission from the tenth ward, expires the first Monday in January.

A successor to W. P. Fain, police commissioner from the second ward, will be elected the first Monday in next March. Fain is now chairman of the board.

Dr. K. G. Matheson tendered his resignation as a trustee of the Carnegie library to council yesterday afternoon. The resignation was accepted with regrets. Dr. Matheson gave business reasons for his resignation. His successor will be elected the next meeting of council.

BOARD OF ELECTRICAL CONTROL WILL BE CHANGED BY COUNCIL

An ordinance was adopted by council which was introduced by Alderman Maddox yesterday afternoon, to repeal the present law creating the board of electrical control so as to pass a new law taking the chief of the fire department from the board and adding to it all the members of the committee on electric lights. This was done at the request of the fire chief.

MORPHINE CANNOT NOW BE USED BY "DOPERS" ON PUBLIC STREETS

Council adopted an ordinance introduced by Councilman Renfroe, which prohibits any person from injecting morphine into the body of another person on any street or in any public alley. This was done to put a stop to the public use of morphine.

CITY HALL WILL BE DECORATED FOR HARVEST FESTIVAL WEEK

The sum of $100 was appropriated by council for the decoration of the city hall during Festival week. The building is to be beautifully adorned.

BOARD OF CENSORS TO INSPECT PICTURE, "BIRTH OF NATION"

Under a resolution adopted by council the city board of censors has been instructed to investigate the picture, "The Birth of a Nation," which is to be shown in the city at the Atlanta theater. This action was taken on request of Councilman Ashley, who said he had been told the picture might "resurrect old war-time memories which might well be forgotten."

THERE WILL BE NO DANCE HALL FOR THE NEGRO ODD FELLOWS

The petition for a dance hall in the negro Odd Fellows' building on Auburn avenue was turned down by council yesterday afternoon. The police committee had given a temporary permit. The dance hall will now be discontinued.

COUNCILMAN RENFROE HAS WON HIS FIGHT FOR MADISON STREET

Councilman Renfroe won his fight in council for paving as a street the sidewalk on the west side of Madison avenue between Mitchell and Nelson streets. Objection was raised to this, but since the Southern railroad agreed to pay for all the pavement the paper was adopted.

Louisiana Fire Marshal Comments on Atlanta's Recent Tragic Film Fire

F. V. L. Smith, ex-deputy fire marshal of Louisiana, and who has had considerable experience in fire investigations in New Orleans, was in Atlanta during the tragic film fire of last Saturday.

Mr. Smith has written the following communication to the municipal board of electrical control:

Board of Electrical Control, Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen: After having witnessed the sad, unfortunate film fire of yesterday and listened to statements regarding cause—on the ground—I searched the columns of today's newspapers, but beyond brief reference to the interest of our mayor, chief of police and chief of fire department, I was disappointed in not being able to find a single expression as to possible real responsibility.

Therefore, I deem it my duty to respectfully suggest to your board that if:

Portable or unprotected electric fans, flexible cords or fuses were in use in the vicinity of the highly inflammable films, then:

Your inspection records should be carefully examined, date and results of last inspection noted, and if these conditions did exist and were not given the absolutely necessary attention, then:

Your inspector was either grossly incompetent or criminally negligent, or both, and should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law covering.

F. V. L. SMITH,
Ex-Deputy Fire Marshal of Louisiana.
Atlanta, Ga., October 17, 1915.

Lissauer's "Hymn of Hate" That Put Germany Agog

This is the poem of Ernest Lissauer, the German poet, whose ringing song, "Hymn of Hate," has put all Germany agog.

The fearful indictment of the British as the only real enemy of Germany is the talk of the hour in the kaiser's domain. The poem is as follows:

LISSAUER'S "HYMN OF HATE."

French and Russian they matter not,
A blow for a blow and a shot for a shot:
We love them not, we hate them not,
We hold the Weichsel and Vosgesgate,
We have but one and only hate,
We love as one, we hate as one,
We have one foe and one alone.

He is known to you all, he is known to you all,
He crouches behind the dark gray flood,
Full of envy, of rage, of craft, of gall,
Cut off by waves that are thicker than blood.
Come let us stand at the Judgment place,
An oath to swear to, face to face,
An oath of bronze no wind can shake,

An oath for our sons and their sons to take.
Come, hear the word, repeat the word,
Throughout the Fatherland make it heard.
We will never forego our hate.
We have all but a single hate.
We love as one, we hate as one,
We have one foe, and one alone—England!

In the captain's mess, in the banquet hall,
Sat feasting the officers, one and all,
Like a saber-blow, like the swing of a sail,
One seized his glass held high to hail;
Sharp-snapped like the stroke of a rudder's play,
Spoke three words only: "To the Day!"

Whose glass this fate?
They had all but a single hate.
Who was thus known?
They had one foe, and one alone—England!

Take you the folk of the earth in pay,
With bars of gold your ramparts lay,
Bedeck the ocean with bow on bow,
Ye reckon well, but not well enough now.
French and Russian, they matter not,
A blow for a blow, a shot for a shot,
We fight the battle with bronze and steel,
And the time that is coming peace will seal.
You will we hate with a lasting hate,
We will never forego our hate.
Hate by water and hate by land,
Hate of the head and hate of the hand,
Hate of the hammer and hate of the crown,
Hate of seventy millions, choking down.
We love as one, we hate as one,
We have one foe, and one alone—England!

The Dark Jail Cell Often School and Church Of the Law Breakers

From The Survey Press Bureau for The Constitution.

Have you ever been in the local jail or lockup in your community? If not, make it a visit the next time you have an hour or two to spare.

As you stand before the dark, insanitary cells and the prisoners idling their minds away, you will be looking at the whole process of treatment of the man who breaks the petty laws of the state. The jail is the misdemeanant's place of temporary detention, his abode while awaiting trial, his prison after sentence. It is his school, the haunt of his leisure hours, the place where most of his thinking is done, and too often it is his church.

The jail is still doing a big business. The latest figures show that 32 per cent of the population of penal institutions are in county and municipal jails and workhouses. Worse still, 91.5 per cent of all prisoners committed during a single year are sent to these local institutions.

Agency of Vice.

Penologists are agreed that the jail is in nine cases out of ten "an agency of vice and a school of crime." Some of these fortress-like structures are inscribed with dates as far back as 1826—the days of Andrew Jackson, of the invention of the steamboat, of the pioneer struggle.

The past generation has made some improvements in the jail. These have had to do chiefly with cleanliness, food, moral supervision, classification of prisoners, abolition of the fee system, state inspection and standradization of jail rules and of specifications for construction and repairs.

Today we are coming to something better, says William T. Cross, general secretary of the National Conference of Charities and Correction. We are approaching a conscious social policy in the treatment of the misdemeanant. Newer ideals have come into prominence. Jail reform is but one aspect of the problem of the petty offender. Mr. Cross describes these newer ideals as follows:

1. Methods involving a change in the plan of incarceration:

(a) State Penal Farms. Perhaps the most revolutionary and practical proposal for the cure of the jail evil is that prisoners sentenced for any but the briefest terms be sent to state farms. A state farm for male misdemeanants 16-21 years of age is in process of establishment in New York. In Indiana 1,605 acres have been purchased for a state institution for misdemeanants, and the construction of buildings has begun. The creation of institutions of this character is the practically unanimous desire of reformers in this field.

Payments to Prisoners.

(b) Payments to Prisoners in the Nature of Wages. The object of this is to support the prisoner's dependents. Payments to convicts are optional with prison authorities in a number of states, and the way seems clear for the adoption of the principle with respect to the misdemeanant class. In the administration of the Kansas City Municipal farm up to $1 a day may be allowed the family of any prisoner.

(c) Revision of Sentences. The principle of systematic revision of sentences on the basis of more complete knowledge of the criminal and of his action subsequent to conviction has been established through the success of the indeterminate sentence acts. The principle needs yet to be extended to the misdemeanant class.

(d) Habitual Offender Acts. A recent study at Springfield, Ill., shows that 45 per cent of those convicted in the city courts are repeaters. The desirability of a plan of sentence and treatment which takes into consideration the repetition of offenses is generally conceded.

(e) Educational work and Mental Examination. A school operated successfully for several years at the Baltimore city jail cannot be ignored. Both school work and classification within the institution should be based on thorough mental examination of every prisoner.

Methods Involving Supervision.

2. Methods involving supervision under conditional liberation:

(a) Adult Probation. Adult probation laws have been adopted in twenty-three states. In Cook county, Illinois (which includes Chicago) during the first three years operation of the adult probation law the earnings of probationers amounted to over $1,000,000.

(b) Parole. Conditional pardon has lately begun to be adopted for misdemeanants. It is not uncommon at municipal workhouses. A successful instance appears in Onondaga county, New York.

(c) Out-Work for Local Prisoners. It is quite common for local prisoners to be used on road work. Wisconsin so employs them, turning over earnings to the prisoner's dependents.

(d) Honor System. Although there has not been the opportunity to build upon the trustworthiness of prisoners in case of misdemeanants that there has been in case of felons, occasions for it seem to increase with the employment of prisoners in larger numbers, as on municipal or state farms.

(f) Change in System of Commitment for Fines. One of the most abhorrent features persisting in our system of treatment of petty criminals is that of imprisonment in lieu of payment of fines. Unless graded according to the ability of the offender to pay, fining is a poor means of attaining justice; and in case of certain classes, like prostitutes, it serves merely as a licensing system. The International Prison congress has advocated that fines be made payable in installments or on public work.

Rehabilitation.

3. Rehabilitation of the offender:

(a) Special Treatment for Special Classes. In most communities it is still common to find the jail the chief means of handling inebriates, vagrants, cases of wife desertion and nonsupport, prostitutes, and even the feebleminded. Other institutions and modes of treatment should be used for these special classes.

(b) Co-operation With Community Agencies. Juvenile, playgrounds, homes for discharged prisoners, associated charities, societies for the reformation of drunkards, boards of health and a great number of other agencies should be as definitely focused on the problem of crime as any penal institution.

(c) Case Work. Whatever be the nature of the maladjustment through which the offender is finally committed to prison, the prime need is for some agency to undertake to see through to the end the process of his rehabilitation. The penal institution ought definitely to take part in this process.

4. Improvement in the process preliminary to conviction:

(a) Psychopathic Study. Recent studies of the feebleminded delinquent, the establishment of bureaus of psycnopathic research in connection with courts and penal institutions, with such results as the production of Dr. William Healy's revolutionary work, "The Individual Delinquent," may be regarded as heralds of the ultimate establishment of the principle of psychopathic study as a basis of judgment and treatment of criminals.

(b) Reforms in Legal Procedure and Police Administration. The report of the so-called Merriam Crime commission in Chicago this year depicts in a convincing way the almost hopeless tangle of out-grown legal forms and bad police practices at the basis of the crime that heads up in the local jails. The Springfield Survey revealed the fact that only 34 per cent of those arrested finally paid penalties.

5. Supervision:

(a) State Supervision and Control. The principle of state control of the treatment of misdemeanants is clear, for crimes are committed against the state. Our best prospect lies in the direction of improvement of state supervision and extension of direct state control of local jails.

(b) Statistics. The meagerness and useless quality of statistics of misdemeanants in America is notorious. In contrast, one reviews with admiration the comprehensive and telling figures of the English prison commission and of authorities in other countries.

The principle of punishment is not eliminated from the system here outlined, but rather is it made more effective. The local jail is left virtually a place of detention only, and that elusive ideal is left virtually a place of detention only, and that elusive ideal of our penology, separate confinement for the unconvicted prisoner, is brought a step nearer.

NEW MONEY SHEET MUST BE DRAFTED

Council Fails to Override Veto of Woodward, Motion Being Adopted to "File the Paper."

The mayor's veto of the October apportionment sheet was not overridden by the general council yesterday afternoon.

A motion to "file the paper," after it had been read, was unanimously adopted.

The action by council was taken, so Alderman A. D. Thomson, who made the motion, stated, to "put the matter up to the mayor and the finance committee."

The sheet stands vetoed. In other words, there is now no October apportionment sheet at all. The finance committee must make out a new sheet and present it to council at its next meeting.

The action of council came as a surprise. It was generally believed that the mayor's veto would be overridden. A motion to pass the sheet over the veto was made by Councilman Dallas, and immediately withdrawn when Alderman Thomson made a motion to "file the paper."

There was not a word of comment. The chair put the motion and it was unanimously carried.

The finance committee must meet and go over the whole financial situation again.

As was stated in The Constitution, the mayor's reason for vetoing the sheet was because it carried a deficit of about $146,000, and he was unwilling for the city to carry over any debts.

Young Negro Slayer Given Three Years In the Reformatory

Pleading guilty to voluntary manslaughter, James Bunkley, a 12-year-old negro boy, was sentenced to three years in the state reformatory yesterday by Judge Ben Hill in the criminal division of Fulton's superior co[u]rt.

Bunkley killed another negro boy named Henry Bolton, larger than himself, in a fight which took place at Haines and Mitchell streets several months ago. Bolton was stabbed to death by the smaller lad.

Bunkley was represented by Attorneys John L. Moore and Paul Bartlett.

LOOKOUT, AUTO THIEVES:

Heavy Sentences Are Promised All Offenders.

War has been declared by the courts on auto thieves.

Judge Andy Calhoun, in the city criminal court, Monday sentenced young Henry Jordan to twelve months in the chaingang without a fine on the charge of an attempt to steal the Ford auto of County Policeman J. O. Casey, recently, from in front of the postoffice building.

"Auto thieving is getting entirely too common in Atlanta, and I'm going to use my best efforts to break it up," said Judge Andy Calhoun to young Jordan, "and I am going to make an example of you. I sentence you to twelve months in the chaingang without a fine."

GEORGIA POSTMASTERS LEAVE FOR WASHINGTON

Georgia postmasters representing the Georgia division of the national association left Monday afternoon for Washington, D. C., to attend the national meeting October 20. Those from Atlanta were Mr. and Mrs. Bolling H. Jones and N. B. Brimberry, secretary of the Georgia division.

The following were the Georgia delegation:

Mr. and Mrs. Bolling H. Jones, Atlanta; H. W. Bennett, Tifton; Mrs. W. Y. Atkinson, Newnan; Mrs. H. W. J. Ham, Gainesville; Mrs. J. B. Roddenbery, Thomasville; Mrs. F. E. Chapman, Buena Vista; H. C. Bunn, Waycross; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Colson, Ocilla; D. F. Davenport, Americus; W. J. Grist and wife, Blakely; W. J. English, Pelham; J. M. Scott, Bainbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Spivey, Eatonton; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Irwin, Sandersville; John P. Turner, Columbus; John W. Clark, Augusta; C. V. Clark, Louisville; Miss Sue Thurman, Commerce; Miss Lizzie Hamilton, Buford; Miss Minnie Hogan, College Park; Mrs. F. M. Smith, Lyons; A. J. Head, Tallapoosa; W. A. Adams, Fitzgerald; L. N. Peacock, Eastman; A. M. Cherry, Donaldsonville; W. B. Cheatham and daughter, Dawson; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Anderson, Statesboro; J. H. Rucker, Athens; R. D. Brown, Hawkinsville; Mr. Bowie, Rome.

BROWN IS FINED $100 FOR SUITCASE THEFT

C. C. Brown was fined $100 Monday by Judge Andy Colhoun in the city criminal court on the charge of stealing a suitcase from the Terminal station some weeks ago. Brown denied stealing the suit case, declaring that another man had given it to him and he pawned it. Brown paid his fine.

WOMAN SPRAINS ANKLE, THEN SUES FOR DAMAGES

Because she stepped into a hole in the sidewalk and sprained her ankle, Mrs. D. B. Tope Monday filed suit for damages in the sum of $2,000 against the city of Atlanta in Fulton superior court. The suit is filed by her attorneys, Lamar Hill and J. A. Drake, and alleges that she stepped into a hole in the sidewalk on Crew street, near Woodward avenue.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

By Ned McIntosh

A., B. & A. Ordered to Repair Road Between Ocilla and Irwinville.

So that traffic may be safe and expeditious between Ocilla and Irwinville, an order was issued by the railroad commission Monday directing the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad and E. L. Lamb, receiver, to make necessary repairs on the Irwinville branch of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road. These repairs cover a distance of 10 miles and must be completed within sixty days.

The alleged bad physical condition of the road was brought to the attention of the commission on complaint of J. B. Clements, and the order followed the report of the commission's engineer and the inspection of a committee.

This branch road has been leased by the receiver of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic to the Ocilla Southern railway for the past four years. The Ocilla Southern claims the lease has been terminated and that on November 1 it intends to give up operation of the road, which has been exercised since January 1. The commission, therefore, decided under the circumstances to order the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, as owner, to make the necessary repairs.

15,000 Autos Are Being Operated Without Tags, Believes Phil Cook

Should proposed amendments to the automobile registration law be passed at the coming extra session of the legislature, the number of machines licensed by the state would be increased from 25,000 to 40,000 next year, according to Secretary of State Philip Cook, who believes there are at least 15,000 automobiles being operated in Georgia under out-of-date licenses or with no license at all.

Secretary Cook points out that should these people be compelled to pay their licenses the income to the state from this source would jump from $125,000 yearly to $200,000. The required payment of this amount is eluded, he says, through the inadequacy of the present law.

W. E. Taylor, of Hawkinsville, Named Pulaski County Warden

The appointment of W. E. Taylor, of Hawkinsville, as game and fish warden of Pulaski county was announced yesterday by the game and fish department. Mr. Taylor succeeds H. C. Brown, of Hawkinsville, resigned.

Governor Harris Asks Return Of Negro Now in Florida

A requisition was issued Monday on Governor Park Trammell, of Florida, by Governor Harris for the return of Joe Smith, a negro of Forsyth county, charged with burglary. Sheriff W. W. Reid, of Cummings, was also appointed to bring back Smith, who is said to be in Leon county, Florida.

Hirleman Meeting With Success In Treatment of Hog Cholera

"If the farmers will pay systematic attention to their hogs cholera will be little to be feared," said Dr. Peter Bahnsen, state veterinarian. "This is proved by the report of Dr. W. B. Hirleman, assistant state veterinarian, who has been some time in Brooks county dealing with the conditions there.

Dr. Hirleman in a report just filed with the state office shows that there are now no newly affected hogs in the county and that he is turning his attention solely to other matters.

TROLLEY COMPANY WINS PONCE DE LEON FIGHT

But Citizens on Grant Street Win First Round Against Power Company.

Ponce de Leon avenue is to be paved at once.

Grant street is not to be paved just yet.

The Georgia Railway and Power company wins out on Ponce de Leon avenue, but is about to lose out on Grant street.

The fight over the two streets has been over the kind of base the company is to lay under the tracks and the kind of rails to be used. The city has contended that a concrete base should be laid and a "T" rail used.

The property owners on Ponce de Leon avenue decided to do without the concrete base and the "T" rail, but those on Grant street wanted to keep up the fight.

City council Monday afternoon adopted a resolution to have the pavement on Ponce de Leon avenue laid at once without any concrete base under the car tracks and without any "T" rails.

After a long and hard fight, led by Councilmen Freeman and Hall for the property owners, council adopted an ordinance to call off the paving of Grant street this year. The contractors will get from the city in the end about $250 net for the work already done. The concrete base on either side of the car tracks will be laid as a temporary pavement. Next year a new contract for the paving of Grant street will be let and another effort made to have the street car company lay a concrete base and a "T" rail.

E. W. BROWN COMPANY ADMITS INSOLVENCY

Columbus, Ga., October 18.—(Special.) The E. W. Brown company, against whom an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed several days ago, today filed its answer, admitting insolvency.

Social Postponed.

The social, which was to be given by the B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist church at the home of Mrs. F. H. Thrasher, 67 Avery drive, Friday night, October 22, has been postponed until Friday night, October 29, at the same place.

NEGRO WHO ATTACKED WOMAN MAY RECOVER

Macon Police Believe Robbery Was Motive of Attack on Mrs. Womack.

Macon, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Jim Howard, the negro who attacked Mrs. W. T. Womack at her home on Main street at midnight Saturday night, and who had his throat cut from ear to ear in a struggle with J. H. Simmone, who went to Mrs. Womack's assistance, is still unable to make a statement to the police. Howard is confined to the Macon hospital, and his condition will not permit him to talk. It is believed, however, that he will recover. As soon as he is able to leave the hospital he will be removed to the county jail. Charges of drunk, disorderly conduct and assault with intent to murder have been made against him.

The police still believe the negro's motive was robbery as he is thought to have known that Mrs. Womack carried her money home with her from the store on Saturday nights.

German-American Club Opens.

Macon, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—The German-American Club of Macon will tomorrow night have the formal opening of their new club quarters on Cherry street, and German-Americans from Atlanta, Savannah and other cities will be on hand to help the local club celebrate.

The club quarters are on the second floor of a building between Third street and Broadway on Cherry and have been fitted up in attractive style.

During tomorrow afternoon the wives, daughters and sweethearts of the members will be entertained and in the evening the club will keep open house for the members and their friends. It will be a sort of double celebration as Tuesday is also the birthday anniversary of President H. B. Hoppendeitzel.

Engineer DuBose Dies.

Macon, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—After an illness of over a year, J. Snowden DuBose, a former locomotive engineer, who was last employed by the Atlantic Coast Line, died here today at his home, 512 Oak street. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Division No. 210.

Mr. DuBose leaves this widow; three daughters, Mrs. W. D. Stead of Birmingham, Misses Marie and Mabel DuBose, and two sons, J. H. DuBose and I. B. DuBose of Macon.

Mrs. A. S. Florence Dies.

Macon, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Mrs. Annie Steed Florence, sister of the late Clem P. Steed and Professor Carl W. Steed, of Mercer university, died this morning at a local sanitarium following a brief illness.

Mrs. Florence had spent the greater portion of her life away from Macon, but was well known here and her death has caused much sorrow. She is survived by one son, William S. Florence.

Underwriters to Meet.

Macon, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—The first state convention of the Life Insurance Underwriters of Georgia will be held in Macon November 2 and the indications are that several hundred members of the association will be in attendance. The convention will be held while the state fair is in progress and November 2 has been designated as Insurance Underwriters' day at the fair. Among the prominent insurance men who are to attend the convention are Jesse R. Clark, president of the Union Central Life Insurance company, of Cincinnati; C. C. Taylor, secretary of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance company, and William A. Wright, insurance commissioner of Georgia.

The program for the convention is now being prepared.

Burglar Makes Escape.

Macon, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—A bold daylight burglar who was caught in the act of robbing the home of E. M. Meadows at 104 Emerald street this morning, made his escape after an exciting chase, in which a police officer and a dozen or more persons participated.

When the negro was discovered he jumped from a window, taking a gold watch with him. Several people gave chase and Patrolman Gatliff also took up the pursuit. The patrolman got so close in behind the negro that he dropped the watch, but managed to lose himself in the fields back of the Meadows home.

MISS SALLIE CLEGHORN SUCCUMBS TO BURNS

Columbus, Ga., October 18.—Miss Sallie Cleghorn, aged 75 years, who was terribly burned in a gasoline explosion in her home Sunday afternoon, died at 1 o'clock Monday morning in a hospital. Miss Cleghorn was alone in her room at the time of the explosion. A little child, daughter of Rev. Dr. S. Alston Wragg, saw her in flames and summoned aid, but the woman was found unconscious and her body seared. Miss Cleghorn was considered the wealthiest woman in Columbus. She owned much of the downtown real estate.

OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD HONORED AT EXPOSITION

San Francisco, October 18.—Southerners gathered today at the Panama-Pacific exposition to honor Oscar W. Underwood, United States senator from Alabama, named as the most distinguished citizen of his state.

The ceremonies arranged for "Oscar W. Underwood Day" included a luncheon at the California building, given by exposition officials. A bronze medal commemorating the event was struck for presentation to Senator Underwood.

"FED" MAGNATE WARD DIES IN NEW ROCHELLE

New York, October 18.—Robert B. Ward, head of bread baking companies bearing his name in many cities and widely known as a figure in the Federal baseball league and as president of the Brooklyn club, died tonight at his home in New Rochelle at the age of 63 years.

Mr. Ward was born in New York city, the son of a baker, and early in life followed that occupation, going to Pittsburg, where he set up in business, married and prospered. Later he came to New York and organized baking companies here and in other cities.

Mr. Ward became one of the chief financial supporters of the Federal league early in 1914. He was chosen vice president of the league, then organized the Brooklyn club, and with his brother, George F. Ward, built Washington park, the home grounds. He was strongly opposed to Sunday baseball and never permitted the Brooklyn club to play on that day.

RINTELEN IS INDICTED THO' HELD IN ENGLAND

New York, October 18.—Franz Rintelen, now held in a military detention camp in England as an alleged German spy, was indicted here today on a charge of engaging with Edward Meloy in a conspiracy to defraud the government in attempting to obtain a passport.

In August Rintelen and Meloy sailed for Holland on the steamer Nieuw Amsterdam. At Falmouth, England, both were seized by the British. Rintelen was held in England and Meloy was sent back. Meloy was arrested on his arrival here and is out on bond. Rintelen failed to obtain an American passport and sailed with a Swiss passport bearing the name of Edward V. Gasche.

Atlanta Is Now Ready To Aid in Opening Up Chattahoochee River

The city will be ready to co-operate with the national government on the opening up of the Chattahoochee river for navigation.

At yesterday's meeting of the city council a resolution by Alderman I. N. Ragsdale was adopted which declared that Atlanta would, when solicited by the secretary of war, provide suitable facilities at the river for free wharves and terminals to be located as the government engineers might direct.

3 NEGROES SENTENCED TO HANG FOR MURDER

Convicted of Slaying Rackley Near Crawfordville—Two Sent to Gang.

Crawfordville, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—At a special session of Taliaferro superior court, called by Judge Walker for the purpose of investigating the killing of Charlie Rackley at the saw mill near hear on the night of October 9, the grand jury very promptly indicated three negroes, Jake Turner, Guy Young and Sam Harden for murder. Their cases were taken up for trial at once and each was convicted and sentenced to be hanged on November 8. Two other negroes were indicted for accessory after the fact, to which charge they entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced to twelve months in the chaingang. These were Robert Evans and Will Zachary.

The people in attendance upon the court were most orderly and, while feeling against the three negroes convicted of murder has been a little high during the past week, there have been no indications of any outbreak and the people seem now inclined to let the guilty parties be executed according to law.

POTTER'S FATE WITH JURY

Tried at Athens for Father-in-Law's Death.

Athens, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—After an all-day trial the jury in the case of John Potter, a well-known young man, charged with killing his father-in-law, Adolphus Richards, a member of the city council at the time, in June, 1912, retired tonight without reaching a verdict, after being out three hours.

The case is attracting wide attention and interest. Potter claimed self-defense.

FATHER CHARGES SON TRIED TO FIRE HOME

Waycross, Ga., October 18.—(Special.) After barricading a room of his father's home and resisting efforts to arrest him today, Joe Jeffords was tonight disarmed and brought to jail by Sheriff Pittman to answer to two warrants taken out by his father, S. V. Jeffords.

The father alleged that his son was trying to set fire to his property and he wanted him locked up. The younger Jeffords had a double-barreled shot gun and said he would not be taken alive. The Jeffords live three miles west of here.

FRED STARR, OF ROME, CHARGED WITH LARCENY

Rome, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Fred Starr, member of a well-known Rome family, is out on bond charged with larceny. The allegation is that he and two boys who have not yet been arrested stole about 500 pounds of seed cotton from land two miles from Rome, farmed by William Floyd. The cotton seed was brought to a house in the suburbs of Rome and concealed there.

CHAS. DELANEY FREED OF GAMBLING CHARGE

Columbus, Ga., October 18.—(Special.) A city court jury late this afternoon brought in a verdict of not guilty in the case of Charles Delaney, proprietor of the Waverly hotel, one of the leading hotels here, who was charged with keeping a gaming house. Recently a raid was made on the hotel and a number of persons were arrested, charged with gaming, but were discharged at the preliminary trial.

HER MARRIAGE DELAYED, YOUNG GIRL ENDS LIFE

When Parents of Fiance Object, Miss Belle Newman Shoots Herself.

"Suicide" was the verdict of a coroner's jury empanelled by Acting Coroner J. Coy Pearce Monday afternoon for an inquest over the body of Miss Belle Newman, who shot herself in her bedroom at her father's residence, No. 1 Eff street, early Monday morning, following disappointment over the failure of her wedding plans. Miss Newman and Frank Hamilton, of 180 North Forsyth street, were to have been married Sunday.

Hamilton's parents were said to have been responsible for the hitch in the marriage arrangements.

Sunday night the young man arrived at the home of his bride-to-be and told her that his parents had objected to the marriage on several grounds, one of which was his financial condition.

Hamilton left the Newman home at 10 o'clock Sunday night after spending several hours with her trying to show her his position in the matter, and just what they should do to make things turn out all right.

Miss Newman retired shortly afterwards and was next seen at the breakfast table by her father, R. R. Newman, and her two sisters.

Getting up from the table the girl went to her room and a few minutes after her family heard her door close there came the report of the revolver.

On hearing of his sweetheart's death Hamilton rushed to the Newman home, but had to be taken away by Call Officers Sam Long and Howard Austin, as the girl's father considered the young man responsible for his daughters' death.

The body was removed to Poole's undertaking chapel. Miss Newman is survived by her father and two sisters. Her mother is dead.

BECAUSE HE HAD GRUDGE NEGRO WRECKED TRAIN

Black Admits Derailing Coast Line Passenger and Causing Engineer's Death.

Thomasville, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—That he caused the wreck of a passenger train of the Atlantic Coast Line at Newark, near here, in July, in which Engineer Phillips was killed and several passengers injured, to satisfy a grudge, was the confession made this afternoon by Julius Tyson, a negro arrested on suspicion and lodged in jail here recently.

Tyson confessed to Special Agent Godbold, of Savannah, and Sheriff Rheberg, who had traced the crime to him, causing his arrest. Tyson said that on the night of the wreck he found the foreman's keys, that he unlocked the switch, turning the lever to detour the passenger train to the side track. A freight coming beforehand, however, worked the switch, but later left for Thomasville leaving part of the train on the siding. Tyson says he again reset the switch to the siding and left for his home, a few yards away. He blew out his light and watched the passenger train take the side track, wrecking the engine and killing Engineer Phillips.

The negro said he had a grudge against the Atlantic Coast Line, as it had failed to pay a reward to his wife for locating a broken rail some time ago. The matter will be investigated by the grand jury now in session here at superior court.

FUNERAL OF J. N. BROWN IS HELD AT MADISON

Madison, Ga., October 18.—(Special.) The funeral of James N. Brown occurred at Brownwood Baptist church, near this city, today at 10 o'clock. Mr. Brown died at his home near the church yesterday. He was one of the oldest and best citizens of Morgan county, having lived in the county all of his life, being born near the spot where he died. He was in his seventy-third year, was an old confederate veteran and was a member of the Morgan county camp. He leaves a wife and five children, Mrs. John Knight, Mrs. W. B. McAdams, Mrs. John McAdams, Mrs. Marks and Bertrand Brown. His funeral was preached by Rev. Carl W. Minor, pastor of the Madison Baptist church. Mr. Brown was a descendant of one of the oldest and most prominent families of the state.

ACUTE INDIGESTION CAUSE OF THE DEATH OF ANSLEY'S GUEST

Acute indigestion was the cause of the death of R. W. Harrington, of New York, in room 526 of the Hotel Ansley Saturday night, according to a jury empanelled by Acting Coroner Judge I. Coy Pearce after an inquest held in the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son's undertaking establishment Monday morning.

The body was sent to New York, accompanied by J. Teadley, friend of the deceased traveling man, shortly after the inquest. Harrington is survived only by his widow.

132 DIVORCE CASES ON DOCKET IN CLARKE

Athens, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—There are 130 divorce and allimony cases ripe for the present term of Clarke superior court now sitting. Judge Brand announced tonight that eighty-five of them will be dismissed at the next term unless they are ready and tried at the present term. It is a record number for a county of 25,000 population.

Injured by Freight.

Rome, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Thomas Carver, of North Rome, narrowly escaped death when he was knocked down and run over by a freight train of the Southern railway on a bridge across the Etowah river in North Rome. Carver was walking across the bridge, and when struck by the train his left arm was so badly mangled that it had to be amputated.

DRUGGISTS KNOW ABOUT VITALITAS

What Three of Them Located in Three Southern States Have to Say.

Many druggists throughout the Southern States are making a study of Vitalitas and closely observe the results of its use by their patrons. Here is what three prominent ones have to say:

"In our thirty years' experience in retail drug business we do not think we have ever handled a preparation that has become more popular in the same time than has Vitalitas. We have unusual demand for this wonderful remedy and receive testimonials daily from our customers." J. C. McGee, Manager Hunter & McGee. Mr. McGee is also president of the Mississippi State Pharmaceutical Association.

"In the analysis of my customers I am frank to say that Vitalitas has received endorsements almost unanimous. I am glad to add, as the first druggist handling Vitalitas in Montgomery, that I believe it to be of great merit, economical in price and destined to be beneficial to a great many people." J. Johnston Moore, leading druggist, Montgomery, Ala.

"For more than a year we have been handling Vitalitas and have never sold a preparation that has given more general satisfaction. We highly recommend Vitalitas to the public in general and also to druggists who have not yet stocked with it." Z. E. Marvin, Marvin's Drug Store, Dallas, Texas.

Vitalitas is for derangements of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood.

LIGHT SHOWERS TODAY, SAYS THE FORECASTER

The weather forecast for Atlanta and north Georgia for today is light showers and about the same temperature as that of Monday. The showers, according to the weather man, will probably fall in the middle of the day, with the probability of there being more showers towards nightfall.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

WORK OF DEVELOPMENT TO BE PUSHED IN SOUTH

State Branches Report to Executive Committee at Meeting Held in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., October 18.—(Special.) A meeting of the special committee of the executive committee of the Southern Settlement and Development organization was held in Baltimore today. The members of this committee are: S. Davies Warfield, chairman; W. J. Craig, Wilmington, N. C., vice chairman; W. P. Taylor, Richmond, Va.; S. M. Adeit, Norfolk, Va.; J. F. Jackson, Savannah, Ga.; Austin Gallagher, Baltimore; J. A. Pride, Norfolk, Va.; E. A. Schubert, Roanoke, Va.; K. T. Crawley, Richmond, Va.; H. B. Crimshaw, Macon, Ga., and W. W. Wood, Baltimore.

A full attendance was present. There was also present Clements Ucker and R. M. Pindell, Jr., vice presidents of the Southern Settlement and Development organization.

Full reports were made of the state branches of the organization thus far completed, including Maryland, Virginia and Georgia. It is the intention of the organization to establish state branches in the other South Atlantic states as soon as practicable. The organizations in Virginia and Georgia are known as the Virginia and Georgia Branches of the Southern Settlement and Development organiaztions. These organiaztions consist of one director from each of the congressional districts of the state. The directors elect their chairman and secretary who will act in conjunction with the officers of the parent organization in Baltimore.

Special committees were named to take up various matters in connection with the work of the organization in the South Atlantic states, said committees to report at the next meeting of the special committee to be held Tuesday, December 7, at Norfolk, Va., in the offices of the chamber of commerce of that city.

The story of Mr. Rothapfel's life is full of interest. He rose from a $3 week job as a copy boy on a Metropolitan newspaper to a Broadway moving picture theater magnate.

TRAIN TO CINCINNATI PUT ON BY SOUTHERN

Rome, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—The Southern railway has sent out notification of important changes in schedule on north and southbound trains, effective November 1. Two trains operated at present between Rome and Atlanta will continue to Chattanooga instead of making their terminus here. Nos. 13 and 14, the Ohio Special, will again be placed in service, making an additional north and southbound train between Atlanta and Cincinnati every day.

WABASH PURCHASERS MUST PAY $18,000,000

St. Louis, October 18.—An order entered here today by Federal Judge Adams set November 3 as the day on which the purchasers of the Wabash railroad under the recent foreclosure proceedings shall pay the purchase price, $18,000,000. This money will be obtained chiefly from payment of the $16,000,000 receivers' certificates.

Judge Adams' approval of the deed of sale expected to follow the payment of the sale price, will lead to the termination of the receivership under which the road has been operating for more than two years.

URIC ACID POISONS THE WHOLE BODY

It Should Be Dissolved and Flushed From the System

Jacobs' Liver Salt is a gentle but effective tonic stimulant to liver and bowels, which dissolves and eliminates Uric Acid and other poisons, at the same time it flushes and physically cleanses the system.

Fermentation of meat and other heavy foods, produces two things: Waste that clogs and poisonous toxines that attack and gradually break down the vital organs so that they fail in their functions.

By removing both the waste matter and the poisonous products at the same time, Jacobs' Liver Salt prevents disease of the vital organs, giving them opportunity to perform their functions normally and to keep the body vigorous and healthy.

Calomel habitues know, often to their sorrow, the effect of this drastic drug which always leaves its cracks and scars, like the dynamite blast in the mountain of rock.

Jacobs' Liver Salt does the work gently but quickly and effectively, with no injurious after effects. Get it at Jacobs' and at druggists generally.—(Advt.)

SPORTS

Welchonce May Lead Crackers

EDITED BY DICK JEMISON.

HARRY WELCHONCE LOCAL MANAGER?

Cracker Captain Would Make Ideal Leader If Directors Decide to Release Bill Smith.

The sporting editor is in receipt of a letter from Harry Welchonce, former captain of the Crackers from his home in Greenville, Pa., advising that he is about himself again and has intentions of playing a little baseball again next season.

Harry does not want to play regularly, but fill utility and pinch hitting roles, which will not tax his strength too much. Harry can play outfield and first base and with that big bat of his would be a handy man to have around a ball club.

In this connection, we might make a suggestion to the Atlanta baseball association. If they have intentions of changing managers, which seems to be the case, inasmuch as Bill Smith has not been advised of what disposition will be made of him for the coming season, they could go lots further and fare lots worse than grab Harry Welchonce.

Captain Harry knows baseball from every angle. He has proven this in the past, and he is the best hitter, bar none, day in and day out that has ever been in the Southern league.

Welchonce would prove a worthy successor to Bill Smith. He could sign himself to a player-manager's contract, get on the lines every day and if a pinch arose, shove himself into the breach. And many a ball game would be won with Welchonce striding to the plate with the hassocks occupied and one or two runs needed.

MANY MATCHES PLAYED IN ANSLEY TOURNEY

G. S. Ogg Was Low Scorer in Qualifying Round—Tourney Lasts Two Weeks.

Match play in the championship tourney at Ansley Park is progressing rapidly, and so far five matches have been played in the first flight.

In the qualifying round played Saturday, two flights and half of a third were completed. G. S. Ogg, with an 85 for the eighteen holes was the low qualifier.

The winner holds the club championship for the ensuing year and in addition wins a handsome cup. The runners-up in the other two flights will receive cups.

The result of all matches played so far is:

First Flight.

G. S. Ogg defeated Harry Ansley, 4-3.
W. Taylor defeated L. C. Miekel, 2 up.
Charles Strong defeated W. C. Mobley, 5-4.
Roger Jones defeated G. Jones, 4-3.
L. H. DeMott defeated W. H. Scott, 4-3.

Second Flight.

W. E. Sims defeated Mark Knite, 3-2.
C. B. Wilmer defeated C. B. Bidwell, 3-2.
Charles Roper defeated Sam Williams, 7-6.
C. C. Cole defeated B. A. Boykin, 7-15.
Len Fort defeated J. C. Gibbons, 4-3.

Third Flight.

K. H. Holliday drew a bye.
J. W. Smith defeated L. W. Russell, 2 up.

DEATH OF PLAYER CAUSES JEFFERSON TO CANCEL GAMES

New Orleans, October 18.—Because of the death here last night of Pierre Ducos, 17, halfback of the Jefferson college football eleven, the faculty of the institution announced today at Convent, La., that all remaining games of this season's schedule had been cancelled. Ducos was injured Saturday at Donaldsonville in a game between Jefferson and the Louisiana State university reserves. In attempting to tackle a Louisiana player he was struck in the back by the runner's knee, and, according to physicians, sustained a fracture of the spine. Jefferson was scheduled to meet Tulane university on November 6.

BOY DIES OF FOOTBALL INJURIES.

Moscow, Idaho, October 18.—Floyd Gilbert, captain of the Grangeville high school football team, died at a hospital here today from a broken neck, sustained in a game at Nezperce Saturday.

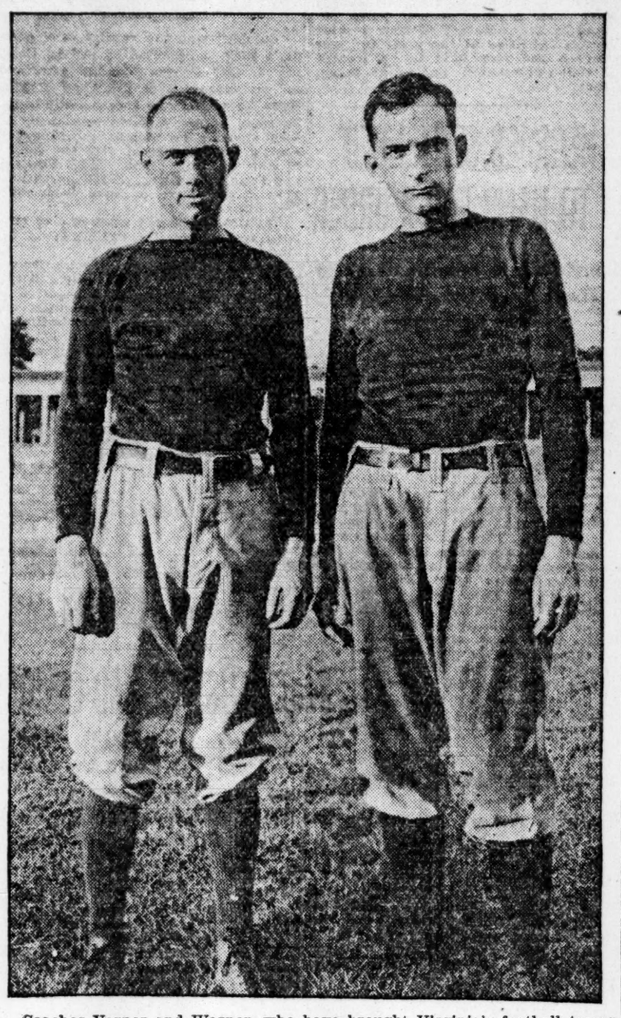

RIVER ASSOCIATION MEETS AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ga., October 18.—(Special.) The stage is all set for the convening of the Flint-Chipola-Apalachicola-Chattahoochee River association meeting here tomorrow and indications are that the conference will be the most important ever held looking to the improvement of this system of rivers.

Judge Price Gilbert, president of the association, will be unable to preside as he is engaged in holding court in Hamilton, and it is probable that Congressman W. C. Adamson will preside over the convention. Atlanta will be represented by a delegation headed by Mayor James G. Woodward and delegations are expected from Albany, Bainbridge, Eufaula, Fort Gaines, Apalachicola, Chipley, LaGrange, Marietta, Hamilton, Marianna, Panama City, West Point and other places.

United States Senator Hoke Smith has expressed a desire to be present, but his plans are not known definitely at this hour. A telegram was received today from Senator Hardwick regretting his inability to attend.

Coaches Varner and Warner, who have brought Virginia's football teams to the front in the last three years. Blessed with good material, they have whipped it into splendid shape. They send their eleven against Georgia, in Athens, next Saturday.

DAHLONEGA IS BEATEN IN HARD FOUGHT GAME

Riverside Scores Three Touchdowns and Kicks One Goal. Forward Passes Win.

By Dick Jemison.

Gainesville, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Riverside Military Academy defeated the North Georgia Agricultural and Mechanical college team from Dahlonega, Ga., here this afternoon in a hard fought game, 19 to 0. Riverside made three touchdowns and converted one into goal.

The game was fiercely, but cleverly played, with both rush lines charging fircely. Riverside's backfield moved with better power on the attack, and this coupled with their forward passing won the game.

Despite the hot Indian summer day, little time was taken out for exhaustion from the heat, while the injuries were only minor and the substitutions few.

Forward passing turned the tide to the locals. A shift formation where the tackle and end shifted over and a lateral forward pass being hurled to the opposing side of the line from which the shift was made, proved the winning play for the Riverside eleven.

It was this play, Jones to Chappelear, with only one minute left to play in the second quarter, that resulted in the first touchdown for Riverside, Haney kicking an easy goal. After that touchdown it was then a question of how much Riverside would make, as Dahlonega's attack was nil and they were never in danger of scoring.

Jones and Haney were the stars for Riverside, with Captain Palmer starring for the visitors. The two teams play again later in the season.

FULLER WON SHOOT

Led Gate City Gun Club Last Saturday.

J. H. Fuller won the high average at the weekly shoot of the Gate City Gun club, held last Saturday, with 92 breaks out of 100. R. Cothran was second with 91 out of 100.

C. E. Goodrich won the high professional average with 96 out of 100. Other professionals shooting were H. D. Freeman and Julian Prade, 92, and J. E. Addicks 41 (shot at 50 only.)

The scores of the other amateurs were W. C. Carpenter 90, Brad Timms 89, J. C. Wright 88, J. D. Allen 85, W. J. Timms 83, Dr. W. E. Yankey 82, C. L. DuPuy 80, L. L. Shivers 75, W. J. Stoddard 74, J. W. Ware 71, T. M. Inman 41 (shot at only 50); M. C. McKenzie 17 (shot at only 20.)

The shoot is probably one of the last that will be given by the club this season, special or call shoots may be given from time to time. Notices will be sent out announcing such shoots.

FOUR FLIGHTS PLAY IN HUDSON TOURNEY

Nearly All of the First Round Matches Have Been Completed in Tourney.

Play in the Scott Hudson tourney, which was started Saturday at East Lake, is progressing rapidly, and nearly all of the matches in the first round have been completed.

This is the last tourney that will be played this season at East Lake, and in the qualifying round four full flights were completed. The winner of the first flight and the winners of the other three flights will win cups.

The first round is to be completed tonight.

The result of all matches in the first flight played Monday is:

YALE BASEBALL STARS FORCED TO WITHDRAW

New Haven, Conn., October 18.—The withdrawal of five members of the Yale baseball team, including Harry W. Legore, of Legore, Md., the football star, from further participation in intercollegiate athletics was announced tonight by the Yale University Athletic association. The withdrawal was due to infraction of Yale eligibility rules concerning playing summer baseball.

The men who withdrew are Arthur M. Milburn, of Haverstraw, N. Y., captain of the nine; Legore, William Easton, of Loudonville, N. Y., and Robert G. Rhett, of Charleston, S. C., outfielders, and Spencer A. Pumpelly, of Owego, N. Y., a first string pitcher.

The announcement was made in a statement in which was incorporated a letter addressed from the five players admitting they had violated the eligibility rule by receiving board while playing with the Quogue Field club nine on Long Island, but added that as soon as they discovered they were breaking the rule they paid for their board and rooms.

"From the time we discovered the provision in the Yale rules that no man who has received board for playing summer baseball shall represent Yale on its teams, each of us paid in full for board and lodgings, subsequently furnished by him by the club," says the letter. "In view, however, of the fact that we did, although unintentionally and ill-advisedly, violate the rule, we hereby withdraw from competition in intercollegiate athletics."

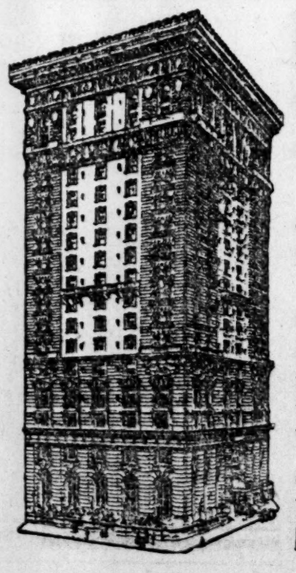

The statement adds:

"It seems but fair to the players signing the letter for the association to express publicly its regret that because of the carelessness of its officers and committees, these men have inadvertently violated the rule mentioned."

RACE TRACK IS BARRED BY GENERAL CARRANZA

San Francisco, October 18.—Construction of a race track at Tia Juana, Lower California, in which wealthy San Franciscans are said to be interested, has been forbidden by the Mexican department of foreign affairs, according to Ramon P. De Negri, Mexican consul general here who said today that the Mexican authorities would not permit the operation of a race track or any other form of gambling.

A. B. Spreckles, who is interested in the project, said he knew nothing of General Carranza's reported objections.

756 COMPETE IN NATIONAL SHOOT

39 Attractive Prizes Are Offered Various Winners. Several Matches Were Staged Monday.

Jacksonville, Fla., October 18.—Three contestants out of field of 756 riflemen, competing in the national rifle matches unde rthe auspices of the federal government, begun here today, were tied tonight with a score of 173 out of a possible 175. The distances covered in today's shooting were 200 and 300 yards rapid-fire, and 300 yards slow fire. The 600 and 1,000-yard slow fre matches are to be shot tomorrow.

The leading contestants are Captain C. K. Lamotte, Nineteenth United States infantry; Sergeant J. S. Stewart, Massachusetts, and Sergeant B. Otey, Wyoming.

The individual matches opened today constitute the beginning of the most important stage of the tournament which has been in progress here since October 2.

A reception in honor of Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge was held at the camp headquarters today.

NO MEN WERE HURT IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Team Works Hard for L. S. U. Local Fans in for Some Good Games.

No men were injured in the game with Transylvania Saturday, and except for a little stiffness that comes after any hard grid batle, the Jackets were in good shape for the first workout of the week Monday.

Every man on the Tech team realizes that he will have his work cut out for him when they tackle L. S. U. in New Orleans Saturday, and to this end will all go through strenuous workouts every day this week. Coach Heisman will probably take about twenty-five men with him. The team will leave on Friday.

Starting with the L. S. U. game Saturday, which incidentally is the first and only out-of-town game the Jackets play this season, Tech will have some strenuous games on their hands.

Good Games Coming.

On the following Saturday, October 30, North Carolina will be played on Grant field. Although it was at first thought that this would be one of the hardest batles that Tech would have to play, and while it will not be a walkaway for the Jackets, it should not prove a stumbling block in their championship aspirations. Captain Tayloe, the star of the sole Tar Heel outfit, may be out of the game for the rest of the season. In Saturday's game, with Georgetown in Washington, D. C., he was hurt pretty bad, his back being wrenched. While it is not definitely known how long he will be out, it is thought that he will hardly be able to play against Tech. The absence of Tayloe from the Tar Heel's line-up will be a serious setback to them, while it will make Tech's road much lighter. Tech should win this game.

Then on the Saturday following Tech will play the University of Alabama at Grant field. This is where the Jackets will have to uncork their spectacular stuff and crowd on all the extra speed they possibly can.

Alabama Dangerous.

The "Thin Red Line," which, by the way, is a misnomer this season, is unusually strong and is playing the mischief with all the teams they have tackled so far. Their team combines speed with weight, and under the coaching of Kelly, have rounded into a great machine that will make any southern team hustle.

The Jackets are anxious to stick their stingaree into the most tender part of the Alabama team and have most assuredly not forgotten the defeat handed them last year by this bunch.

This will be the first big game of the year. Then on the following Saturday, which is November 13, the annual game with the Red and Black will be staged. The dope on this game is all in the Jackets favor.

At the start of the year, Georgia's chances to win over the Gold and White could not be seen with a telescope, but since the advent of Dave Paddock's return to the fray, Georgia rooters have taken hope and are now expecting to win over the Jackets.

Usually dope on a football game holds true, but in the case of a Georgia-Tech game, where the players are keyed to the highest pitch, no dopester is responsible for the outcome.

It is true that the Jackets hold the advantage, and are easily the favorites, but when it is considered that the favorites in a Tech-Georgia scrimmage of any kind have been knocked off the limb so many times, this counts for but little.

Always it's sure to be a great game, the biggest game that Atlanta will see this year. Both Tech and Georgia have great teams, teams of championship caliber, and there should be a battle royal to the nth degree when they tie up on November 13.

On the following Saturday, November 20, the Jackets have an open date. It is possible that they will arrange a game with some strong team, possibly the University of Florida here on that date.

This brings them to the Thanksgiving game with Auburn, and, provided nothing is upset between now and then, these two should face each other undefeated, and probably play for the southern title. Tech has tried to down the Plainsmen for years upon years, and while they apparently have had them several times, the old Auburn rush would always overcome any lead the Jackets could get. This season the Jackets have the team that should beat Auburn, and nothing is going to be left undone in order to accomplish this end.

So, starting on Saturday, October 30, and continuing with but one pause until Thanksgiving day, Atlanta fans are in for some great games, easily the best they will have seen in several years.

K. O. Hollingsworth v. Kid Hood, 4 rounds.
Battling Clark v. Battling Terry, 6 rounds.
Kid York v. Bud Connally, 8 rounds.
Underwood v. Budd, 10 rounds.

Five slashing bouts are on the card for the opening fistic show of the season at the Columbia theater tonight. One ten-round mill, an eight-round go, one six-round set-to and two four-round openers comprise the card.

The show is to be a popular-priced affair. Seats sell for 25 cents to $1 ringside. Promoter Hughes, who is staging the show, promises to run off the card with no delays.

Battling Budd, Atlanta's great 128-pounder, will clash with Kid Underwood, the Nashville favorite, in the ten-round main bout. The scrap has caused much interest, due to the fact that the boys put up a rattling bout at the same playhouse last year. Underwood won on that occasion, but the local lad hopes to reverse the verdict this time.

Kid York, the Atlanta newsboy scrapper, will clash with Bud Connally in the eight-round semi-windup. This will be York's first appearance here in some time. Young Terry and Battling Clark lock horns in the six-round go, while Cyclone Thompson and Oscar Bridges swap punches for four rounds. Another four-round go will open the card.

Billy Winters will referee the bouts. Billy was selected by both the fighters at a conference the other day.

ROTARY CLUB MEET REACHES SEMI-FINALS

Much Interest Is Being Displayed in First Golf Tourney Ever Held by Club.

The semi-final round in the Rotary club tourney in progress over the links at East Lake has reached the semi-final stage, nearly all of the second round matches having been completed by Monday night.

This tourney is the first the local Rotary club has staged and is meeting with huge success. Only two flights filled when the qualifying round was played.

Many prizes are offered the various winners in the different flights. Sixteen prizes will be awarded for various events in the first flight.

The semi-finals have until Friday of this week to be completed.

The result of all second round matches played so far, is:

First Flight.

George Allen defeated Clarke McMichael, 3-2.
Dowdell Brown defeated Dr. Carl Mott, 1 up.
T. R. Smith defeated George Hanson, 4-2.
Will Glenn defeated Jack Carlton, 7-5.

Second Flight.

Alvah Harliss defeated Bill Wardlaw, 2-1.
Homer George defeated Jim Scott, 5-4.
F. O. Stone defeated Evelyn Harris, 4-2.
R. C. Darby defeated Frank Coffee, 4-2.

G. M. C. ROMPS OVER TIFTON AGGIES, 79-0

Milledgeville, Ga., October 18.—(Special.)—Georgia Military college defeated the Tifton Aggies, 79 to 0. Reynolds, Georgia Military college fullback, was star of the game. Rhodes, King and Morris played a great game for Georgia Military college. Tifton never had a chance to score.

Reliable Druggists

Migraine or Sick Headache
Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that it is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two Anti-kamnia Tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one Anti-kamnia Tablet every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet.
Anti-kamnia Tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all Pain.

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN BOLL WEEVIL FIGHT

Entomologist Worsham Returns to Atlanta After Campaigning in 45 Counties.

Reports of keen interest on the part of farmers in the eradication of the boll weevil were made yesterday by Lee Worsham, state entomologist, who had just returned to his office after the conclusion of an anti-weevil campaign covering 45 counties of the state. The campaign was conducted by two parties of government and state experts traveling through the country in automobiles since October 4.

"The best information possible was given the eager farmers," said Mr. Worsham, "and if they follow our instructions there will be no such problem in Georgia next year. All our arguments went home to the audiences for they were so hungry to hear us that they hated to see the two parties move on to other points. Both the methods for killing out the weevil and the expediency of cutting the cotton acreage for the raising of more cattle were discussed. These tours will be followed by others next spring about early planting time."

The experts composing the two parties were Lee Worsham, state entomologist; Ira W. Williams, assistant state entomologist; T. R. Barber, of the boll weevil laboratory of the United States department of entomology; L. M. Calhoun, in charge of demonstration work in Louisiana; J. Phil Campbell, state demonstration agent; J. A. Evans, assistant chief of United States demonstration work; E. M. Neighbert, in charge of state tick eradication work; R. C. Buckmans, of Augusta, president of state horticultural society, and Captain John S. Cobb, president of the state agricultural society.

GA.-FLA. FAIR OPENS AT VALDOSTA WITH MANY ATTRACTIONS

Valdosta, Ga., October 18.—(Special.) The Georgia and Florida fair opened here today with the largest attendance that has ever been known. Colonel J. M. Ashley, secretary and general manager, touched the button at 10 o'clock that put the wheels to rolling for one of the greatest weeks that south Georgia has ever known.

Today is general day for everybody, and Wednesday Agricultural day. Nine counties of south Georgia and north Florida will compete for the grand prize. The Boys' Corn club and Girls' Canning club will show some of the best exhibits ever seen in Georgia.

Thursday is Educational day. The South Georgia Normal college, of this place, will show what its girls were doing and will have charge of the program. Munford's Industrial Home Band of Macon, will furnish music. Friday Senator Hoke Smith will speak. Saturday is General day, and will be featured by the awarding of prizes, consisting of $6,000.

There are over 500 hogs on exhibit coming from Fairview farm, Cochran, Ga.; 100 Duroc-Jersey, the largest weighing 1,200 pounds. E. O. Temple, of Blythe Mahan, has the largest Holstein and Berkshire exhibit, having one sow that won first prize at the Chicago cattle show in 1913-1914. J. F. Turner, of Valdosta, is showing a Poland-China sow that has won five grand prizes at the western cattle show in 1914.

The poultry exhibit is the finest ever known. Coops are shown from Stanford, Ky., Cuthbert, Ga., Oliver, Ga., Montgomery, Ala., and the local Valdosta people show some of the finest ever on exhibition. The cattle show consists of 300 head from local farms, and they are all taking prizes. Johnny J. Jones' carnival is amusing the children.

LISTED SECURITIES IN VIGOROUS RISE

U. S. Steel Scores New Five-Year High Record—Bethlehem Rises to 495—All Groups Are Upturned.

New York, October 18.—Higher prices were registered by a majority of the better known stocks today, with renewed activity in war specialties, but trading lacked much of its recent vigor until the final hour, when United States Steel became the central feature, rising 3⅛ to 85¾, its best price since 1910. This was achieved by purchases of individual lots running from 1,000 to 6,000 shares.

Gains in the war shares were general, but extremely variable. New records were made by Bethlehem Steel, which rose 11 points to 495, Willys-Overland 10 to 258, Studebaker 5¾ to 167¾, American Steel Foundries 5⅜ to 70⅝, United States Industrial Alcohol 7½ to 107½, and Central Leather 1 to 55¼. Liggett & Meyers, one of the tobacco issues, also shared in this distinction, advancing 2½ to 245.

In addition to these records, sharp gains were made by Bethlehem Steel preferred, General Motors, Maxwell Common and second preferred, Westinghouse, General Electric, Crucible Steel, Virginia Coal, Iron and Coke, and several of the metal shares, notably American Smelting.

Canadian Pacific led the rails, rising 4 points to 169, with marked strength in St. Paul, Great Northern, Baltimore and Ohio, Eries, New Haven and some of the Southern group. Harriman's and coalers were up 1 to 2 points, but lost some ground later, profit-taking making for some irregularity at the active close.

The restraint which marked dealings in the forenoon was predicated on rumors dealing with the tone of Washington's note to Great Britain and further selling for foreign interests. Offerings through London were again estimated at a substantial figure, but the setback resulting from this liquidation was only temporary.

Speculative interests as represented by activity of commission houses was again an undoubted factor in the rise. Advices from important western centers bore particularly on the increased confidence begotten of crop prospects. Some stiffening of exchange on London and Paris, with a shading of time money quotations were among the other favorable developments of the day.

Bond quotations were higher, despite an increase of European selling. Total sales, par value, aggregated $3,970,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New York, October 18.—The crop report issued by a New Orleans paper claiming conditions to be the lowest on record, in connection with firm Liverpool cables, caused a sharp advance in the cotton market early today, with January selling up to 12.93 or an advance of 16 points over Saturday. It later broker to 12.75, however, and the general market at the close was steady with prices 6 points higher to 2 points net lower.

The market opened firm at an advance of 5 to 13 points on the basis of 12.87 for January. There was a great deal of commission house buying and the south also bought quite freely on the bullish crop news from that section, while covering by local traders was on quite a liberal scale. The weather was wet all over the southwest, particularly in Texas and Oklahoma, from which quarter a good many private advices complaining of floods and damage were received. Clearing and cooler weather was predicted, however, for Tuesday. Some of the private estimates from Texas suggested only 3,000,000 bales, with about 750,000 bales for Oklahoma. The south continued to hold spots firmly.

Much of the early strength at Liverpool was due to this bullish crop news, but it was noted that Liverpool sold here in the late afternoon part of the reaction, which carried the list several points under Saturday's close, with December dropping from 12.77 to 12.58 and March 13.17 to 12.96, was due to rumors of a cable stating serious labor trouble in Manchester and the probability of a lockout. Selling was also induced by reports that insurance companies were refusing further risks on cotton shipments to Scandinavian countries. Encouraging reports were received about the Indian monsoon.

Wall street was a seller today and there seemed to be an impression in local circles that more long cotton would have to come out before the market would enjoy any material advance. Exports today 46,526 bales, making 1,019,970 so far this season. Port receipts 42,719. United States stocks 1,152,664.

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 12.50; no sales.

New Orleans Market Unchanged.

New Orleans, October 18.—Cotton showed strength in the early trading today, but fell off later under liquidation of long contracts, closing unchanged to 1 point up compared to Saturday's last prices. Trading was fairly large in volume and until longs commenced selling offerings were slender.

Around the opening the market bulged 16 to 23 points on the wet weather in the western belt and the bullish crop report by a local newspaper. This report led to small crop estimates and served to call attention to the continued damage in the west through excessive rains. Reports from Texas and Oklahoma and portions of the central belt were that heavy rains were preventing picking, injuring open cotton and preventing bolls maturing. This, it was considered, was especially dangerous for Oklahoma, where the late crop is said to be in danger of being caught by frost.

Toward noon liquidation became heavy and it was the main influence from then on. During the greater part of the session the market stood at a net rise of less than 10 points.

Spot cotton steady 7 points up. Sales on the spot 1,230; to arrive 775. Good ordinary 10.06; strict good ordinary 10.62; low middling 11.25; strict low middling 11.70; middling 12.07; strict middling 12.32; good middling 12.64; strict good middling 13.01. Receipts 4,176; stock 184,166.

ATLANTA LIVE STOCK MARKET.
(By W. H. White, Jr., of the White Provision Company.)

Good to choice steers, 800 to 900, $6.00 to $6.50.

Good steers, 700 to 800, $5.50 to $6.25.

Medium to good steers, 700 to 800, $5.00 to $6.00.

Good to choice beef cows, 750 to 850, $4.50 to $5.50.

Medium to good cows, 650 to 750, $4.25 to $5.00.

Good to choice heifers, 600 to 700, $4.50 to $5.00.

The above represents the ruling price of good quality beef cattle. Inferior grades and dairy types selling lower.

Medium to good steers, 750 to 850, $4.50 to $5.50.

Medium to good cows, 650 to 750, $4.00 to $4.50.

Mixed common, $3.25 to $3.75.

Good fat oxen, $4.25 to $5.00.

Medium fat oxen, $3.75 to $4.25.

Good butcher bulls, $3.50 to $4.50.

Prime hogs, 160 to 200, $8.10 to $8.25.

Good butcher hogs, 140 to 160, $8.00 to $8.10.

Good butcher pigs, 100 to 140, $7.75 to $8.00.

Light pigs, 80 to 100, $7.25 to $7.50.

Heavy rough hogs, 200 to 300, $6.50 to $7.25.

Above quotations apply to cornfed hogs. Mast and peanut-fattened, 1½ to 2c under.

Hog receipts nominal. Market higher.

Cattle receipts light, market quiet. A few cars of good fleshy Tennessee heifers and steers were in the yards this week and were sold promptly to the Atlanta packer at top prices. Aside from these, the run was rather of the ordinary types, mixed grades meeting with slow demand. Commission firms report considerable inquiries for desirable feeding steers, regardless of the recent advance in cotton seed meal and hulls. However, the feeding steers so far placed in this territory is considerably short of the number engaged for corresponding date of 1914.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, October 18.—(Special.)—Heavy rains in Texas and Oklahoma over the week-end occasioned southern buying in this market today, and while for a time prices ruled higher, offerings finally increased to an extent that forced a reaction. Crop reports at present are most unfavorable, but the action of the market indicates that the question of supply has been pretty well discounted by the rise in prices. JAY, BOND & CO.

New York, October 18.—(Special.)—The day was particularly interesting in the cotton market. Prices showed some tendency toward improvement in the early half of the session, but toward the close the market sagged and closed at about Saturday's prices.

We are right in the midst of the period of heaviest ginning, and those who are against the market are emphasizing the possibility of spot cottons pressing for sale, just as they did last year. The conditions now, however, as contrasted with those of last year are widely different. Last year we had no reserve banks and money for loans on cotton was almost unobtainable. Today cotton is excellent collateral, not only to the reserve banks, but to all banking institutions. Cotton is certainly better collateral than the warring nations, who have just borrowed over half a billion dollars of American money, can possibly offer, and that same amount of money would purchase outright all the unsold cotton in America.

In addition to the unparalelled volume of money obtainable to carry cotton with, the south has record-breaking crops of food stuffs and having already sold at least one-third of his entire crop the farmer will not yield readily to any prices except those satisfactory to himself.

The only real argument the bulls can offer is to prove, if they can, that the consumption of goods made of cotton will be under normal during the twelve months ahead of us. We do not think they can prove this. Spot cottons will not yield and we do not think the contract market will do so. We advise purchases on all soft spots. RENSKORF, LYON & CO.

New York, October 18.—(Special.)—On the higher Liverpool this morning, supplemented by advices of unfavorable weather in Texas and Oklahoma, our market showed strength on and after the opening. Liquidation, however, on the part of recent buyers, followed in considerable volume.

Bullish enthusiasm seemed generally lacking and altogether the day was the dullest seen in many weeks past.

Cotton at southern ports is quoted today at 11⅝ to 12¼ cents. Seed is said to be bringing $40 to $50 a ton. The farmer is indifferent about selling his spots, but is marketing the seed. Seed sold at present values brings the cost of production of cotton down to a figure where the farmer can afford to become a disinterested looker-on in respect to the price of spots. He must realize this season that the balance of power is his and is likely to act accordingly. We believed prices are invitable for both spots and futures ultimately; meantime, however, at this period of the year, particularly in view of the recent almost generally unexpected advance of over 400 points, some hesitation is likely, but we still favor purchases on all declines, believing that sufficient buying power is in reserve to bring about sharp rallies.

The cotton oil market is still sluggish. Sold-out bulls are waiting for further declines on which to buy. The technical situation from our viewpoint has been improved by the recent decline, and we favor purchases of the May option on all moderate setbacks. We believe May will sell at 9 cents or higher in the near future. CHAS. FAIRCHILD & CO.

New York, October 18.—(Special.)—Liverpool advanced more than expected as it had received advices of the heavy rains of yesterday in Texas and Oklahoma before the opening of our market from the English buyers in the southwest. January advanced to 12.23 before the profit-taking and hedge-selling from the south caused the market to pause, then to react, and finally to close lower than last evening. The only selling comes from these sources, as all agree that they cannot see any basis for a permanent decline in cotton with this continued bad weather in the southwest, where warm, clear weather is needed for the crop. It is only when hedge selling (which in turn represents more southern merchants selling against the cotton offered by the planters) that any pressure comes upon the market. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

ALL CHICAGO LIST GO DOWN MONDAY

Canadian Competition and Heavy Receipts Sag Wheat and Other Grains Dip in Sympathy—Bears Rule.

Chicago, October 18.—Huge receipts at Minneapolis, Duluth and Winnipeg, with a promised continued heavy movement in the northwest throughout the week did a good deal today to depress the wheat market here. Prices closed unsettled, 2@2 1-8 to 2 1-4@2 3-8c net lower, at $1.06 1-2@1.06 5-8 for December, and $1.07 3-8@1.07 1-2 for May. Other speculative articles, too, showed losses—corn 3-4 to 1 1-4c; oats, 1 1-8 to 1 3-8@1 1-2c, and provisions, 2 1-2 to 22 1-2c.

Wheat prices headed downgrade right at the start and failed to make a decided rally at any subsequent time. Many stop loss orders were uncovered, as the prospect of favorable weather gave special emphasis to the big arrivals at the chief spring crop terminals. Winnipeg, in particular, had a surprising exhibit—more than ten times as many carloads received as on the corresponding day a year ago. The total at Minneapolis and Duluth was nearly trebled. Bulls here were thus directly threatened, for the prices in the northwest disclosed a full shipping difference against Chicago. Comparative weakness at Liverpool, where receipts were also on the increase, tended further to discourage holders.

What little reaction from the lowest level of the day took place in the wheat market appeared to be due to the smallness of the gain in the United States visible supply. The seaboard sent word that 1,000,000 bushels had been purchased for export, but that almost the entire amount was from Manitoba.

Corn receded in value as a result of the break in wheat. The improved weather tended also to stimulate selling.

Oats followed the bearish lead of other grain. Cash houses unloaded freely.

Commission houses went to the bear side of the provision market. The incentive seemed to be the fact that an early advance in the price of hogs had gradually disappeared.

Mrs. Campbell Wins Audience By Fine Work in Shaw's Play

MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL.

Bernard Shaw, in his "Pygmalion," presented by Mrs. Patrick Campbell and her company at the Atlanta theater last night, puts philosophy in the garb of comedy, and bids his audience call it romance—a typical Shavism to start with.

And Mrs. Campbell has her own little joke, for while Shaw has named his play "Pygmalion," the famous actress comes perilously near making the creator, Pygmalion, a lesser role than that of his creature, the modern Galatea.

Mrs. Campbell could never have won with the role of "Eliza Doolittle" however the kind of fame she has. The role is one of evolution, calling for the best gifts of an actress in a comedy of manners; but her forte is not the delineation of manners; it lies deeper, in the picturing of the real human woman underlying the conventions which make her like and unlike every other woman.

Since she has won the greater plaudits, however, she may well carry the delightful and pathetic role of the "gutter-snipe" whom the blind theorist makes a lady. And it is not without its depth of appeal, although Shaw is at his maddest when he draws the part, and so surrounds it with the whimsical humor which is Shaw that one laughs at one's own seriousness, and then stops half way, shamed back out of the cynical by Shaw, the comedian, again become Shaw the moralist.

The company was one of fine appreciation and translated the spirit as brilliantly as the letter of the play.

Their audience had two difficulties to cope with—one the English accent, a difficulty which soon grew negligible with the growing familiarity of the voices and intensity of the action, and the other a more serious problem, that of placing themselves in the English attitude towards the woman of the lower class. That attitude they had to realize was not characteristically Shaw, but characteristically English, and Shaw, when he translated that spirit of the Englishman, proved himself a true draughtsman.

Eliza asks not love, not riches; only kindness, and that is the one thing she is denied. It throws strong illumination on the feminine problems and agitation which the English women heroically put in the background with the beginning of war.

Henry Higgins, professor of phonetics, whose statue comes to life and literally hits him in the face to wake him out of his philosophic shell and reveal to him the soul within the marble, is a very live professor of phonetics, true to his philosophy even in the face of his defeat.

Edgar Kent, as the moralist of the "undeserving poor," does a superb piece of character work, and the entire cast is adequate.

"Pygmalion" will be repeated tonight, while at today's special matinee Mrs. Campbell will give Pinero's, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray."

LOUISE DOOLY.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

With Miss Henrietta Crosman in the headline position and with a supporting program of unusual merit the Forsyth theater this week offers a bill which affords many enjoyable moments and which will no doubt do an excellent business.

It will owe a great part of its attendance to the popularity of Miss Crosman and a great part of its pleasing qualities to the ability of the supporting numbers.

It would be pleasant to say nice things about the peace play by Maurice Campbell, "Thou Shalt Not Kill," in which Miss Henrietta Crosman is the star. Those of us who in the days past have seen this most lovable and magnetic actress in so many roles that became indelibly impressed upon our minds can only regret that she is this week furnished with so inadequate a vehicle for the display of her undoubted genius.

Known as one of the greatest actresses on the stage in light comedy roles, there is not a line of comedy in the play; it is practically all talk with no action. In the lines there is nothing new, nothing bright. Miss Crosman takes advantage of her every opportunity and gets the most out of every line, but she is unable to save the sketch.

One of the biggest hits of the afternoon was scored by Walter Brower, whose "Mirthful Moments" might well be described as something different from the material offered by other monologists seen here in recent years.

Brower has a way of starting a sentence, saying enough of it to let you know what the rest of it is, and then branching off into another line. There was never a time Monday afternoon when he did not have the complete attention of his audience.

Another act that won applause was that of Hope Vernon, "songstress and a violin." In the afternoon she proved especially popular. Her imitation of the violin is very good.

Atlanta has been given some unusually fine singing acts recently and there came another Monday when "The Musketeers" made their first appearance.

Burns and Kissen, the song writers, entertained their audience well; George Schreck and Mabel Percival have a fair act for an opener, and Werner and Amoros company present a unique and closing number. The work of the male impersonator is especially clever.

ROBERT MORAN.

"The Soul of Broadway."

(At the Strand.)

"The Soul of Broadway," the vehicle in which Valeska Suratt makes her debut on the silent screen, was presented at the Strand theater Monday to packed houses throughout the day, beginning with the first performance in the morning.

Advance notices had prepared us for an extraordinary photoplay and those who attended found it to be all that was promised and more, as it proved to be the most elaborate of any so far produced by the Fox Film corporation, which is saying a good deal.

In the first place there is daring and novelty in the very spirit displayed in the making of the scenes. Ultra modernism marks them and the furniture and draperies all correspond in their general key of futuristic art. For instance, the screen showing the boudoir of La Valencia (Miss Suratt), where she receives her infatuated old millionaire lover, is a revelation in the use of black and white in decoration. This is an immense set containing hundreds of pieces of furniture and properties, yet everything harmonizes. This is the rule throughout the entire production and Herbert Brenon, the director, has spared no expense making "The Soul of Broadway" his most lavish picture.

William E. Shay, one of the most popular and versatile of screen stars, heads the list of noted players appearing in support of Valeska Suratt. Few players are better known to photoplay fans than William Shay. He has won great popularity through his splendid impersonations of the leading male characters of such Fox productions as "Kreutzer Sonata," "The Clemenceau Case," "Sin," and other big hits of the screen. In "The Soul of Broadway" he has a role that is well suited to his effective methods.

Valeska Suratt, in her part, gives us still another "Vampire," and, in addition to giving a wonderful performance, she wears strikingly georgeous gowns throughout. The picture will be shown again today.

L. E. WINCHELL.

"Robin Hood."

(At the Atlanta.)

"Robin Hood," the celebrated comic opera by Messrs. de Koven and Smith, will be the offering at the Atlanta Wednesday and Thursday, with a Thursday matinee. In this notable cast of vocal artists first mention should be given to Ivy Scott, the charming young Australian prima donna, who made such a success at the Century Grand opera in New York; Ralph Brainard, whose fine tenor voice is admirably suited to the part, and William Schuster, who plays the part of Friar Tuck. Mr. Schuster's performance of the lovable old monk is said to be a classic. Cora Tracy will be the Alan-a-Dale and her rich contralto adds a new beauty to Mr. de Koven's best known song, "O, Promise Me." Another recruit from grand opera is James Stevens, of the Chicago Opera company, whose singing of "Brown October Ale" gives a pleasure only possible from such a splendid baritone voice. Henry Hanlin, a fine basso, will sing the famous "Armourers' Song." Marie McConnell, Tillie Salinger, Phil Branson and Sol Solomon complete the cast, the excellence of which has never been surpassed, if equaled, in comic opera.

"Mutt and Jeff in College."

(At the Atlanta.)

All positively new!—is the most important announcement necessary regarding "Mutt and Jeff in College" for the coming season. As the title signifies, it has the college environment from start to finish, and is certainly one continuous "scream" of laughter from curtain to curtain. To begin with, the characters are all new with the exception of our heroes, Mutt and Jeff themselves. They also are in a new atmosphere entirely. You can imagine how funny it will be to see Bud Fisher's two eccentric characters as students. There will be nothing lacking to make the best Mutt and Jeff show Gus Hill has ever offered. However you can judge for yourself at the Atlanta Friday and Saturday, with a Saturday matinee, for which seats go on sale this morning at 9 o'clock.

"The Chorus Lady."

(At the Grand.)

"The Chorus Lady," the Lasky feature of the Paramount, at the Grand today, is one of the strongest photoplays of the year, and Cleo Ridgely has a part written especially for her, in which she has every opportunity for displaying her wonderful beauty and training to the best advantage. The great picture shows the willing self-sacrifice and the quick wit of a girl of the chorus to save her innocent sister from the human vultures who prey upon the innocent. Many marvelous and astounding scenes are shown of the charmed "behind the scenes" of stagedom that will make the stage-struck girl hesitate before entering upon a life so full of toil and danger. Wednesday and Thursday, Richard C. Travers will be seen in the great Essanay feature of the V-L-S-E, "In the Palace of the King."

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS NOW GOING TO SCHOOL

With an attendance of nearly 400, composed of representatives of nearly every Sunday school in the city, the Atlanta School of Methods for Sunday School Workers opened its annual session in the Central Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. The classes begin each afternoon at 3 and continue until 9:15 o'clock, with an interval for supper, which is served in the building.

Dr. Andrew Sledd, of Emory university, delivered a lecture on the Books of Acts; Leon C. Palmer, general secretary of the Albama Sunday School association, spoke on "The Boy Problem;" W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, superintendent of the International Sunday School Lessons for the Adult department, gave a history of the organization development of Bible classwork.

Those who will speak today are Professor Sledd, Mr. Palmer and Mrs. Phebe A. Curtiss.

ATLANTA DELEGATES LEAVE FOR COLUMBUS

Several representatives of the Atlanto Chamber of Commerce, the city of Atlanta and Fulton county left yesterday afternoon to attend the Chattahoochee River convention at Columbus, which begins this morning and continues through Thursday. This party will be joined by several delegates from other counties. Those leaving from Atlanta were M. F. Amorous, V. H. Kriegshaber, H. Y. McCord, W. G. Cooper and H. T. Moore, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; H. N. Hurt, chief of construction, representing the city, and S. B. Turman, chairman of the Fulton county commissioners, representing the county.

Edward T. Taubman Dead.

Washington, October 18.—Edward Teare Taubman, of Aberdeen, S. D., sovereign grand inspector of the southern jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, died in a hospital here today after a stroke of paralysis. He was here to attend the dedication of the new Masonic temple, headquarters of his order. He was stricken Saturday night.

Seaboard Stockholders to Meet

New York, October 18.—Stockholders of the Seaboard Air Line railway will hold a special meeting at Petersburg, Va., on November 15 to ratify the merger between the company and the Carolina, Atlantic and Western railway, and also to approve of a mortgage for $300,000,000 in connection with the consolidation of the two companies.

A Mother's Peace.

If every expectant mother would get Mother's Friend from her druggist and would apply this wonderful external remedy and valuable help as directed, she would soon experience comfort and peace of mind. For many years this time-tried remedy has been used and strongly endorsed by experienced mothers, for it is the one safe, dependable remedy that penetrates to relieve all strain on nerves, cords, ligaments and all parts involved. It makes the muscles expand naturally and stops pain.

BOARDS ARE NAMED TO BOOST FESTIVAL

In Every Section of Georgia Prominent Citizens Have Promised to Work Hard for Big Carnival.

"The real rush has begun in Harvest Festival activities," said Beaumont Davison, president of the association yesterday afternoon, "and beginning this much in advance of the carnival is indisputable indication that the week is going to be even more successful than we anticipated.

"The lowest estimate yet made of the expected attendance is 25,000 persons daily from all parts of the state. Agricultural day, however, now is expected to draw a crowd exceeding 75,000.

"A telephone message was received today from W. M. Mosely, of Augusta, informing us that the crowds coming from that city would require more than four special trains. We are receiving similar encouragement from all parts of Georgia."

Advisory Boards Named.

Announcement was made Firday afternoon of the appointment of advisory boards in each of the state counties.

These men have been carefully selected either by the ordinary of each county, or by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and are men who are already interested in the Festival and want to see it succeed.

An early meeting of each of these boards will be held in the county seat of each county and they are being asked to submit suggestions as to how to make the Georgia Harvest Festival appeal to people of their counties and do the most good to the citizenship of their immediate sections.

Prize Committee Named.

The Georgia Chamber of Commerce has announced the committee which will have charge of the prize in the guessing contest which will take place at the Auditorium Friday night during the run of the Georgia motion picture, at which time $15 in gold will be awarded, $10 for the one guessing nearest to the number of people in the Auditorium and $5 for the second best guess.

The committee to make the awards is as follows:

Julian V. Boehm, Ivan E. Allen and Fred Houser.

This committee will meet in the office of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce Saturday morning and will count the tickets and go through the estimates and the prize winners will be announced in the Sunday papers.

Many Floats Secured.

W. H. Smith, general chairman of the float committee of the agricultural parade being staged by the Atlanta Ad men, has received reports from seventy-five county floats which will take part in the parade. His committee has been one of the most successful and energetic of the Agricultural day organization. Besides the seventy-five county floats, more than fifty commercial floats have been contracted by this committee.

J. M. Van Harlingen and H. G. Williams, of the Ad club, scout men who were sent out through the state, have returned from the Whitfield county fair at Dalton, where they met one of the most encouraging receptions of their tour.

Bert Tyler, president of the Dalton Chamber of Commerce, and others of that body honored them with a sumptuous dinner at the fair grounds. Most of the exhibits of Whitfield county at the fair will be brought to Atlanta for exploitation on Agricultural day.

The following members of the fair organization of Whitfiled county are directing the Whitfield county interests in the Agricultural day parade: H. J. Vernon, J. C. Vernon, J. C. Sapp, P. G. Potcot, J. F. Bryant, E. W. Bagby, Walter T. Kenner, S. R. Smith, Miss Dowdell, of the Girls' Canning club, and Dennis Barrett, president of the fair association.

At least three floats will be contributed by Dalton and Whitfield county.

Seven Submarines Arrive.

New London, Conn., October 18.—Seven submarines, G-1, G-2, G-4, E-1, D-1, D-2 and D-3, accompanied by the monitors Tonopah and Ozark as tenders, and by the destroyer Columbia as flagship, Rear Admiral Albert M. Grant, arrived in New London harbor today to open the new submarine base at the navy yard here.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Monday was the largest day since the outbreak of the European war in the matter of Atlanta's bank clearings. From all indications this week's bank clearings ought to be the largest in many years.

Monday's total was $4,441,321.54, as contrasted with only $2,716,961.62 for the corresponding day of last year—an increase of $1,724,359.92.

With cotton selling at 12½ cents a pound, and cotton seed bringing around $45 a ton, it looks like good times for Georgia and Atlanta.

Realty Agents Optimistic.

While there was no realty announcements of consequence Monday, all real estate agencies report that they are having an unusually large number of inquiries. This is a good indication. There have been times within the past year when the real estate men could not even secure audiences to talk sales.

There were no building permits of importance on Monday, although the month is well ahead of October, 1914.

Office Space Lease.

The Burkhardt Adjustment company, a large mercantile agency with headquarters at Memphis, Tenn., has leased office space in the Trust Company of Georgia building where it will establish a branch office.

MONOPOLY CHARGED TO UNITED SHOE CO.

Government Files Suit Under the Clayton Anti-Trust Act — Dissolution Is Not Sought, But an Injunction.

St. Louis, October 18.—The first important government suit under the Clayton anti-trust act was begun here today by Attorney General Gregory against the United Shoe Machinery company. The petition filed in the federal district court charges the shoe company with unlawful practices that substantially lessen competition and tend to monopoly. Temporary and permanent injunctions are sought.

United States District Judge Dyer granted a temporary injunction against enforcement of contract clauses complained of and set October 27 as the date for a hearing.

The suit is distinct from that against the same concern under the Sherman anti-trust act, begun several years ago, in which its dissolution as an unlawful combination and monopoly in restraint of trade was sought and which now is before the United States supreme court. The present action does not seek dissolution, but asks the court to enjoin the company perpetually from further engaging in alleged unlawful practices. There also is the usual prayer for such other "general and further relief" as the court may see fit to give.

One of the unusual features is that the petition contains a request for a temporary order restraining the United Shoe company from resorting to the practices complained of until determination of the suit.

The Government's Charges.

The government's petition charges:

That the United Shoe Machinery company is a monopoly controlling 98½ per cent of the trade in shoe machinery in the business, being the making and leasing of these machines.

That in certain instances it has fixed and is fixing the prices of such machinery on the condition and with the agreement that the lessee or purchaser shall not use the machinery, supplies or other commodities of its competitors.

That it grants rebates on prices fixed in some instances in consideration of the use by a lessee of other of its machines; that other leases contain clauses whose effect is to establish prices ten per cent less to those who agree not to use the machinery supplied by competitors than to those who do not so bind themselves.

The petition alleges that some machines are leased under what is called an "unrestricted" form of lease, which allows lessees in certain cases to use other machines obtained from competitors on payment of "initial premiums." These premiums are in addition to the usual royalties or charges.

"The amounts of these initial premiums," says the petition, "are so large as practically to prohibit the choice of the unrestricted form. Upon the machinery in a factory having an output of from 25,000 to 30,000 pairs of shoes daily, the premiums would amount to about $250,000. This sum represents a discount or rebate which the defendants grant the manufacturer if he is willing to take his machinery from them upon the illegal condition, or understanding that he will not use machinery supplied by competitors of the defendants."

Many Concerns Affected.

These clauses and others with the same purpose and effect, according to the petition, are being enforced by the shoe company, which has written leases with such clauses executed not only before the passage of the Clayton act in October, 1914, but since that time as well.

The petition sets forth that there are more than 1,500 manufacturers of shoes in the United States who annually produce more than 300,000,000 pairs of machine-made shoes and that "with all but a very few of these the defendants have business relations."

The growth of the United Shoe Machinery company, which makes machines preparing and attaching the soles to the uppers of shoes, is declared to be the result of 16 years of consolidations bringing together 56 concerns at one time in this business.

Suit was brought particularly against the United Shoe Machinery company, of Maine, but the United Shoe Machinery corporation and the United Shoe Machinery company, of New Jersey, are made defendants, as also are Louis A. Coolidge, Harold D. Johnson, Edward N. Chase, Edward P. Hurd, Elmer P. Howe, William Barbour, George W. Brown, George E. Keith, John H. Hanan, Henry P. Endicott, Edmund Le B. Gardner, Joseph C. Kilham, Rudolph Matz, Charles G. Rice, John H. Connor, Alfred R. Turner, Wallace F. Robinson, Samuel Weil and William Woodward.

The petition was signed by Attorney General Gregory and G. C. Todd, assistant in charge of anti-trust prosecutions, and several other government attorneys.

Third Action by Government.

Washington, October 18.—The suit begun today against the United Shoe Machinery company is the third action against the concern by the trust prosecuting end of the department of justice in the last few days. Civil suit to dissolve the concern under the Sherman law now is pending in supreme court.

The new suit was brought, it became known here today, because the shoe machinery officials refused to allow the government to file a supplemental provision in the Sherman law suit covering the same ground with the federal court in Boston, which tried the latter suit.

The fact that St. Louis is an important shoe manufacturing city led to its selection after the department found it necessary to begin new proceedings.

The case has been under consideration and preparation for many months.

LORIMER'S BANK USED TO FLOAT KITED CHECKS

Morris, Ill., October 18.—Owen T. Reeves, president of the Drovers' National bank, of Chicago, and formerly a national bank examiner, took the witness stand today in the trial for conspiracy of E. Munday, vice president of the defunct La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank.

Reeves stated that on his first examination of the Munday bank, when it was a national institution in 1912, he found the loans to the directors too large. Sixty per cent of the $800,000 on loans, he said, had been lent to President William Lorimer and Vice Presidents Munday and H. W. Huttig and their concerns.

"I saw Mr. Lorimer," Reeves testified, "and told him that the bank was being used to float kited checks and that if anything happened some one would be caught holding the bag."

At a later examination, he testified, conditions were found to be but slightly improved.

WILSON URGES CITIES TO ASSIST THE FARMERS

Washington, October 18.—President Wilson told a committee of business men from Memphis, Tenn., today that it was of great importance that people in cities co-operate to assist farmers in their neighborhood. The committee, headed by Hubert Fisher, United States attorney for the western district of Tennessee, came here to secure the assistance of the agricultural department for farm extension work in their state.

The president said he believed too few people in cities realized the interdependence of city and country people and the extent to which city residents depend for their comfort and prosperity on the farmers about them.

ITALIAN KING SHOWS CONTEMPT FOR DANGER

Paris, October 18.—King Victor Emmanuel's contempt for danger, says a dispatch from Rome, is the source of one of General Cadorna's greatest anxieties. Recently the king stood watching a battery in action on the Carso front when a hostile aeroplane flew over him. His staff begged him to move, but he refused.

Two Italian aeroplanes meanwhile gave chase to the enemy, which flew back towards his own lines, dropping a series of bombs, one of which fell close to the king.

Every Woman Should Know

There are three entirely different kinds of baking powder, namely:

(1) Cream of tartar, derived from grapes;
(2) Alum, a mineral acid; and
(3) Phosphate of Lime.

(1) Baking Powders made of Cream of Tartar add to the food the same healthful qualities that exist in the ripe grapes from which Cream of Tartar is derived.

(2) Baking Powders made of Alum add to the food some form of Alum or Aluminum, a heavy metal, wholly foreign to any natural article of food.

(3) Phosphate of Lime is made from rock or by burning bones which by chemical action are changed into a white, powdered acid. It is used in baking powder only because it is a cheaper substitute.

A Cream of Tartar powder never contains Alum or Phosphate.

Every housekeeper should read the names of the ingredients printed on the label and know what she is using.

dozen 14-inch rifles each and which will have new protection against submarine attack, the nature of which it being closely guarded.

16 Capital Ships in Five Years.

Of the $68,000,000 increase to be asked for the navy next year the bulk would go into four big ships, two superdreadnaughts and two superbattle cruisers. They would be the first of the sixteen capital ships to be laid down in five years, under the administration program, the last of which would not be in commission until 1925. The building of the four ships would tax the capacity of American private yards. There are only five companies now equipped to build such vessels, four on the Atlantic and one on the Pacific. The government itself has only one yard, the Brooklyn navy yard, where battleships can be constructed, though it is planned to equip the Philadelphia yard also and possibly the Bremerton plant for this work. Development of the new building program must follow these restrictions.

The present program of not more than four big ships a year, it was pointed out today, also gives opportunity to keep the designs up to date from year to year. This is one reason why it is proposed to build only two battle cruisers the first year and none the second. Naval architecture is making great strides on account of the European war. The construction of battleships change even in peace.

RECOGNITION GOES TO GEN. CARRANZA

ber of Madero's provisional cabinet while in revolution against Diaz and afterwards became provisional governor of Coahuila. Later, in the general elections, he was chosen by a large majority governor of Coahuila, and began a system of reforms in his home state on taxation and land laws, introducing also a new state constitution.

Rose Against Huerta.

Carranza was first to rise in revolt against Huerta. He called a conference of revolutionary chiefs at the Hacienda de Guadeloupe, from which he issued the famous plan of Guadeloupe, disavowing the authority of Huerta and proposing a conference at Mexico City. When the conference was called after the overthrow of Huerta, a disagreement arose between Carranza and General Villa, commander of the division of the north, as to the manner of choosing delegates to it. Another convention was held in Aguas Calientes, but this Carranza refused to recognize, declaring it had been dominated by Villa troops. For more than a year now the Villa and Carranza factions have been fighting each other with the Zapata element also in the field against Carranza, often in co-operation with the Villa leaders.

VIRGINIA GETS WILL OF MARTHA WASHINGTON

Fairfax Courthouse, Va., October 18. Martha Washington's will which was taken from the courthouse here by a union trooper during one of the battles of Bull Run and later found its way into the collection of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, was returned to the county archives today with elaborate ceremonies.

Recently the state of Virginia sued J. P. Morgan in the supreme court of the United States to recover the historic document. Mr. Morgan suggested that it be placed in Mount Vernon. Fairfax county folk, however, claimed it as part of their court records and today it was restored to its place beside the will of General Washington. The suit against Mr. Morgan will be dropped.

Washington, October 18.—Attorney General Pollard, of Virginia, today asked the supreme court to dismiss the suit filed last spring to compel J. P. Morgan to return the Martha Washington will to the state. Mr. Morgan recently returned the will.

Mr. Pollard had the will in his possession today and before the court met exhibited it to the justices. Later it was returned to the clerk of the court at Fairfax courthouse.

The court formally dismissed the suit when the attorney general moved the dismissal in open court.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR 22 U. S. WARSHIPS

Washington, October 18.—Contracts for sixteen submarines and six destroyers were awarded today by the navy department. One destroyer will be built at the Norfolk navy yard and one at Mare Island, Cal. Four of the submarines will be built on the Pacific coast. The Bremerton, Wash., and the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yards each will build one.

The four destroyers to be built at private yards were awarded as follows:

Cramp & Sons company, two at $845,000 each.

Seattle Construction and Dry Dock company, one at $885,000.

Bath Iron Works, one at $879,500.

The destroyer to be built at the Mare Island navy yard will cost $762,638, and the one at the Norfolk yard $706,305.

The total of the awards is $4,923,443. All of the boats will have a minimum speed of 30 knots an hour and will displace 1,125 tons each. Delivery to the government is required in from eighteen to twenty months.

The submarines awarded to private firms were as follows:

Electric Boat company, eight at $545,000 each.

Lake Torpedo Boat company, three at $545,000 each.

California Shipbuilding company, Long Beach, Cal. (Lake company designs), three at $548,500 each.

"WOMAN OF MYSTERY" ON TRIAL FOR LARCENY

New York, October 18.—Mrs. Zora Emma Howe, known as the "Woman of Mystery," was placed on trial today in general sessions on indictments charging her with grand larceny in having obtained money by posing as the widow of Henry M. Flagler, of Florida, a former president of the Standard Oil company.

Mrs. Howe is alleged to have obtained $4,435 from Frank J. Mahoney by claiming that she would receive $15,000,000 when the Flagler estate was settled. She appeared calm and confident in court.

Subsequent to her arrest three months ago the district attorney's office received communications from Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and Pittsburg saying a woman had swindled persons in those cities through posing as Flagler's widow.

HOME-COMING DAY HELD AT GORDON COUNTY FAIR

Calhoun, Ga., October 18.—(Special.) Tuesday, which has been decided on as a home-coming day will be one of the largest days of the Gordon county fair, as it is expected that quite a large number of out-of-town visitors will be here. Wednesday will be live stock day, W. C. T. U. day and veterans' day, and a number of prominent speakers from different parts will be here to deliver addresses, among them Governor Nat Harris. Thursday will be singing day and the managers have also arranged for races, while Friday will be rural school and children's day. The fair will close Saturday with horse racing and the awarding of prizes, etc.

Gordon county, while producing last year seventeen thousand bales of cotton, is not considered a cotton county, but the farmers of the county give special attention to stock raising and grain, and the exhibits in these lines this year are expected to be the best ever seen here.

CONGREGATIONALISTS GATHER IN NEW HAVEN

New Haven, Conn., October 18.—The first among the many hundred clergymen and laymen, delegates to the biennial meeting of the National Council of Congregational Churches, arrived today. The first session will be Wednesday.

Many of the most prominent men in the denomination are to take active part in the council's deliberation or in sectional meetings. At the first business session reports will be submitted and officers elected. Rev. Charles R. Brown, head of the Yale school of religion, who is the moderator, will retire from office and for his successor the name of H. M. Heardsley, of Kansas City, is mentioned.

The council will meet in Center church, a historic edifice, dating from colonial days, and in which forty-one years ago the council met in its third session and was welcomed by the Rev. Dr. Leonard Bacon, widely known in religious circles of those days. Other meetings will be held in nearby churches and in Yale university buildings.

$3,000,000 BOND ISSUE BY TENNESSEE COPPER CO.

New York, October 18.—An issue of $3,000,000 first mortgage ten-year convertible six per cent bonds was approved at a special meeting of the Tennessee Copper company stockholders today. An increase in the company's capital from $6,000,000 to $6,875,000 to provide for the conversion of these bonds was also approved. Only $2,000,000 of the new bond issue is to be offered at this time, the remaining $1,000,000 being held in the treasury.

SINGLE TAX COLONY WINS CASE IN COURT

Mobile, Ala., October 18.—The case of A. J. Melville v. the Fair Hope Single Tax Corporation, which has been in Alabama courts for more than a year, finally terminated here today in a victory for the single tax colony when the cause was dismissed by Chancellor T. H. Smith. Melville attacked the constitutionality of the single tax law under which the colony was operating and won in the chancery court here, but the supreme court of Alabama reversed the case.

COL. LEWIS GOODIER PLEADS NOT GUILTY AT COURT-MARTIAL

San Francisco, October 18.—Lieutenant Colonel Lewis E. Goodier, judge advocate of the western department of the United States army, formerly stationed in Atlanta, pleaded not guilty today before a court-martial trying him on a charge of having altered specific charges preferred last April against Captain Arthur S. Cowan, commandant of the signal corps aviation school at San Diego.

Captain Cowan, who was accused of having drawn for two years the pay of an aviation officer, when he was sent to San Diego, not as an aviator, but as an executive officer, will be a witness, it was said.
